Global Environmental History Ian G Simmons, 2008-03-05 Courses which deal with environmental history have long lacked a comprehensive overview I G Simmons has made a significant contribution with a book that looks at the long term history of environment and humanity from 10 000 BC to AD 2000 This far reaching text considers the global picture and recognises the contributions of many disciplines including the natural sciences the social sciences and increasingly the humanities As a starting point this book takes the major phases of human technological evolution of the last 12 000 years and considers how these have affected the natural world It then considers the response to conditions such as climate change putting today s preoccupations into a long term perspective This is a book of history not prophecy and so makes no judgements on current anxieties

The Gospel of Jesus Green Neil J. Whitehouse, 2024-06-11 This is a gospel of personal stories science and existential hope for the Jesus curious and those who want to know what Green means Modern people are like the passengers on the Titanic the triumphs of technology have real limitations They face the necessity to share the planet that takes them to hard politics Economics can be integrated with ecology and the essentials of human relationships The history of Jesus may make him an uncertain figure but his demand to live for the best can still be felt Whitehouse draws on paleontologist Fr Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and existentialist Paul Tillich to claim home for all not just for humans is a universal biological phenomenon and a truth named by Jesus A biodiversity of illustrations entertains and reveals trees can speak dead birds teach and rivers become persons Then Jesus Green emerges as a systems thinker for the home If Jesus was homeless for a cause he found his home on the cross now a paradoxical symbol that lifts up our place within nature This creative passionate account delivers the punch other Green Christian books lack It could not have come sooner

What is Religion? Nigel Ajay Kumar, 2014-01-15 What Is Religion is one of those questions rarely asked by Christian theologians who engage in interreligious discourse Nigel Ajay Kumar makes the case however that to answer this question is critical for Christian scholars who want to negotiate multiple religious identities as well as for those who want a clearer understanding of their own faith as religion Kumar takes a historical and theological approach to answering this question The history of the concept of religion is traced from biblical times to the Indian independence era Then a theological answer is offered not only by looking at the classical Indian theologian Pandipeddi Chenchiah but also by listening to other contemporary secular and theological voices This is the South Asian Edition of the original Wipf Stock edition 2013 with the same name

Consecrating Science Lisa H. Sideris, 2017-08-15 In Consecrating Science Lisa Sideris offers a searing critique of The New Cosmology a complex network of overlapping movements that claim to bring together science and spirituality all in the name of saving our planet from impending ecological collapse Highly regarded in many academic circles these movements have been endorsed by numerous prominent scholars scientists historians and educators Their express goal popularized in numerous books films TED talks YouTube videos podcasts and even introductory courses at places like Harvard or Washington University is to instill in readers and audiences a profound sense of being at home in the universe thereby fostering environmentally responsible behavior Whether promoted as The New Story The Universe Story or The Epic of Evolution they all offer humanity a new sacred story a common creation myth for modern times and for all people the evolutionary unfolding of the universe from the Big Bang to the present Evolutionary science and religious cosmology together at last But as Sideris shows however the New Cosmology actually underwrites a staggeringly anthropocentric vision of the world Instead of cultivating an ethic of respect for nature the project of consecrating science only increases human arrogance and indifference to nonhuman life Going back to the work of Rachel Carson and other naturalists the author shows how a sense of wonder rooted in the natural world and our own ethical impulses helps foster environmental attitudes and policies that protect our planet Provided by publishe

Radicalisation James R. Lewis, Akil N. Awan, 2024-01-01 A comparative multidisciplinary interrogation of how people across the world become extremists of all kinds and how different scholarly fields study and theorize this process

Agriculture & Philosophy: Agricultural Science in Philosophy Lindsay Falvey, 2020-01-01 Agriculture and philosophy have been parts of a whole across history and remain so Philosophy informs wellbeing and contentment amidst the vagaries of existence the primary concern of which has always been security of food Science once known as natural philosophy is a major means of philosophical advance today Agricultural science is presented as comprising all of these components The philosophical quest to be at ease in nature extends from pre historical times into our unknown future and employs diverse vehicles to convey insights across generations via myths legends religion academic study and ritual practices Expressing esoteric concepts has employed agricultural metaphor across the historical era as it has been our most common interaction with nature Continuing as our most widespread human interaction within nature agriculture's role in creating civilization and later its writing eventually led to an urban separation from nature including food production Unifying the philosophy agriculture and agricultural science across cultures and traditions from pre agricultural times through the European Enlightenment to today this work builds on neglected ancient insights Perhaps the most profound of these insights is that our thoughts and actions may be seen as an integral part of nature Rather than being independent agents with free will our fears and guilt may be seen as active forces in the dynamics of nature itself which includes our procurement of food This conception offers a wider interaction than can be comprehended from current popular approaches

Architecture and Nature Sarah Bonnemaïson, Christine Macy, 2003-09-02 Narrated painted and filmed American landscapes have been central to the construction of a national identity This book explores how such rhetorical landscapes have also been designed into the built environment of architecture
