Studies in the Islamic Arts of the Book Robert Hillenbrand, 2012-12-31 The studies collected in this volume some of them rather difficult of access date mostly from the last fifteen years and focus primarily on Persian book painting of the 14th to the early 16th centuries In this period Iran dominated the art of book painting in the Islamic world The articles reprinted here examine various aspects of this the golden age of Persian painting They range from the period of Mongol rule when the impact of Far Eastern themes and modes radically transformed the heritage bequeathed to Iran by Arab painting a textbook case of the clash of civilisations to the dawn of the modern era and the swansong of the classical style of Persian painting under the early Safavids Yet other articles focus on the roots of book painting in the themes and styles developed in painted ceramics on medieval Qur'anic calligraphy on bookbinding and on the remarkably original variations played on the hitherto hackneyed theme of the figural frontispiece by Arab painters Two major leitmotifs are explored in this selection of essays One is provided by the constantly varying interpretations of the Shahnama The Book of Kings the Persian national epic and especially the tendency of painters to interpret this familiar text in terms of contemporary politics The other is the interplay of text and image which highlights the tendency of painters to strike out on their own and to leave the literal text progressively further behind while they develop plots and sub plots of their own These enquiries are set within the context of a concerted effort to explore in detail how Persian painters achieved their most spectacular visual effects In its combination of general surveys and closely focused analyses of individual manuscripts this collection of articles will be of interest to specialists in book painting and in Islamic art as a whole Imperfect Perfection - Early Islamic Glass (English Edn)

Gifts in the Age of Empire Sinem Arcak Casale, 2023-07-28 Explores the Safavid and Ottoman empires through the lens of gifts When the Safavid dynasty founded in 1501 built a state that championed Iranian identity and Twelver Shi'ism it prompted the more established Ottoman Empire to align itself definitively with Sunni legalism The political religious and military conflicts that arose have since been widely studied but little attention has been paid to their diplomatic relationship Sinem Arcak Casale here sets out to explore these two major Muslim empires through a surprising lens gifts Countless treasures such as intricate carpets gilded silver cups and ivory tusk knives flowed from the Safavid to the Ottoman Empire throughout the sixteenth century While only a handful now survive records of these gifts exist in court chronicles treasury records poems epistolary documents ambassadorial reports and travel narratives Tracing this elaborate archive Casale treats gifts as representative of the complicated Ottoman Safavid coexistence demonstrating how their rivalry was shaped as much by culture and aesthetics as it was by religious or military conflict Gifts in the Age of Empire explores how gifts were no mere accessories to diplomacy but functioned as a mechanism of competitive interaction between these early modern Muslim courts
