King,Zawawi Ibrahim,Noor Hasharina Hassan,2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council s international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012 The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region Protection, Power, and Display

Andrew Tavaralli, 1995 Protection Power and Display focuses on the shields of Indonesia the Philippines and Melanesia and will present sixty of the finest examples available The works which date from the nineteenth through the early twentieth centuries were made for use in either combat or ceremony within the tribal cultures These works have been selected from public and private collections in the United States The majority of the shields have never been exhibited The exhibition provides a rare opportunity to celebrate and appreciate aspects of these visual cultures present in societies which are undergoing rapid transformation The catalogue reproduces the shields in black and white and color photography with accompanying texts by scholars of anthropology art history and ethnography Publisher From the South Seas Michael Gunn, William Teel, 2006 From New Guinea to New Zealand Easter Island to Hawaii the Pacific region known as Oceania has long excited the Western imagination but its traditional sculptures pots and paintings have only recently been studied and appreciated as fine art While much about these works and the cultures that produced them remains mysterious we do know that most items were created for use in daily life rather than as products for the art market Nonetheless their beauty and craftsmanship elevate the best of them to objects of contemplation and wonder This catalogue presents some 80 Oceanic works of art each illustrated with its form and function described Michael Gunn's introduction places the works in context Christraud Geary discusses provenance and contextual photographs throughout show many of the objects in situ aiding in a growing understanding of these intriguing but still elusive works and adding to the scholarship on and interest in Oceania

Bibliography of Southeast Asia Kim See Ch'ng, 2003 The Bibliography of Southeast Asia A Decade of Selected Social Science Publications in the English Language 1990-2000 comprises 6 521 entries of published works The selection broadly represents the documentation of the political economic and social and cultural processes of one of the most interesting eras of the previous millennium
