Despite Modernism Robert Storr, Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 2000 Throughout the 20th century the evolution of mainstream modernism in the arts has been shadowed and complicated by alternative expressions intended either to set back the clock or to redirect the stream of progress This book published in conjunction with the second of three cycles of millennial exhibitions MoMA2000 at The Museum of Modern Art New York explores the anti modernist impulse as exhibited in painting and sculpture through the social political and cultural conflicts of the 1920s 1930s and 1940s Curator Robert Storr reminds the reader of the strengths of some of this work by Otto Dix Lucien Freud Francesco Clemente and even Pablo Picasso and of the enduring popularity of such artists as Pavel Tchelitchew whose Hide and Seek along with Andrew Wyeth's Christina's World are among the public's favorite pictures Storr also discusses taste and vulgarity and their implications both past and present for institutions like The Museum of Modern Art that are thought of as canon builders

Art History After Modernism Hans Belting, 2003-08 Art history after modernism does not only mean that art looks different today it also means that our discourse on art has taken a different direction if it is safe to say it has taken a direction at all So begins Hans Belting's brilliant iconoclastic reconsideration of art and art history at the end of the millennium which builds upon his earlier and highly successful volume The End of the History of Art Known for his striking and original theories about the nature of art according to the Economist Belting here examines how art is made viewed and interpreted today Arguing that contemporary art has burst out of the frame that art history had built for it Belting calls for an entirely new approach to thinking and writing about art He moves effortlessly between contemporary issues the rise of global and minority art and its consequences for Western art history installation and video art and the troubled institution of the art museum and questions central to art history's definition of itself such as the distinction between high and low culture art criticism versus art history and the invention of modernism in art history Forty eight black and white images illustrate the text perfectly reflecting the state of contemporary art With Art History after Modernism Belting retains his place as one of the most original thinkers working in the visual arts today

This book examines the legacy of international interwar modernism as a case of cultural transfer through the travels of a central motif the square The square was the most emblematic and widely known form motif of the international avant garde in the interwar years It originated from the Russian artist Kazimir Malevich who painted The Black Square on White Ground in 1915 and was then picked up by another Russian artist El Lissitzky and the Dutch artist Theo van Doesburg It came to be understood as a symbol of a new internationalism and modernity and while Forgács uses it as part of her overall narrative she focuses on it and its journey across borders to follow its significance how it was used by the above key artists and how its meaning became modified in Western Europe It is unusual to discuss interwar modernism and its postwar survival but this book's chapters work together to argue that the interwar developments signified a turning point in twentieth century art that led to much creativity and innovation Forgács supports her theory with newly found and newly interpreted documents that prove how this exciting legacy was shaped by three major agents Malevich Lissitzsky and van Doesburg She offers a wider interpretation of modernism that examines its postwar significance reception and history up until the emergence of the New Left in 1956 and the seismic events of 1968 Enclosed and Enchanted Rob Bowman,2000 Published to accompany the Museum of Modern Art touring exhibition 16 July 8 October 2000 The Nabis and Intimate Modernism Katherine M.

Kuenzli,2017-07-05 Providing a fresh perspective on an important but underappreciated group of late nineteenth century French painters this is the first book to provide an in depth account of the Nabis practice of the decorative and its significance for twentieth century modernism Over the course of the ten years that define the Nabi movement 1890 1900 its principal artists included Edouard Vuillard Pierre Bonnard Maurice Denis Paul Sérusier and Paul Ranson The author reconstructs the Nabis relationship to Impressionism mass culture literary Symbolism Art Nouveau Wagnerianism and a revolutionary artistic tradition in order to show how their painterly practice emerges out of the pressing questions defining modernism around 1900 She shows that the Nabis were engaged nonetheless with issues that are always at stake in accounts of nineteenth century modernist painting issues such as the relationship of high and low art of individual sensibility and collective identity of the public and private spheres The Nabis and Intimate Modernism is a rigorous study of the intellectual and artistic endeavors that inform the Nabis decorative domestic paintings in the 1890s and argues for their centrality to painterly modernism The book ends up not only re positioning the Nabis to occupy a crucial place in modernism's development from 1860 to 1914 but also challenges that narrative to place more emphasis on notions of decoration totality
