Art Teaching in African Schools AFRICAN SCHOOLS.,1951 Art Teaching in African Schools George Talabi,1979 L'ouvrage étudie l'éducation artistique en Afrique tropicale, l'histoire de l'art et l'appréciation des esthétiques, la place de l'art dans la formation des professeurs

African Caribbean Pupils in Art Education Paul Dash,2010-01-01 This book deals with the issue of African Caribbean pupil invisibility in the art and design classroom. As such it addresses African Caribbean pupil invisibility in almost any teaching and learning context. The book argues that the slave trade which ruptured their continuities with an African past continues to impact on the learning of such pupils relative to others. In seeking to explicate this matter the book places African Caribbean pupils in the wider context of African Caribbean and Western cultural identities. Just where do they belong? To address this matter it calls on the theorising of thinkers with an interest in identity construction, learning and belonging, particularly with reference to the Caribbean. The book is organised in three sections: the first presents the rationale for the enquiry, the second outlines the outcome from a small research project with a focus on African Caribbean learners in the art and design classroom, and the third reflects on key issues that emerged from the research in relation to the rationale. The book ends by offering possibilities for developing African Caribbean teaching and learning in art and design.

African Caribbean Pupils in Art Education is very erudite and the centre of a world of reference and allusion. Dash relates its arguments and insights to many different writers and contexts. These will lead readers to many other writers and their arguments in related fields of study. Personalised research interviews with teachers and students adds realism and close to the bone insight to the points Dash makes. These interviews are not academised and made tedious or uninteresting, but real life and real classroom and curriculum issues come out clearly and undisguisedly in the subjects' words. Many of their points are full of meaning and lucidity and add more power to Dash's arguments. Thus the book will be of real value to prospective teachers and teacher educators too, as a tool of learning and a stimulus for discussion. The book goes a long way beyond only being a text for Art Education students. Its arguments have salience for all Educationalists and trainee teachers as well as for staffrooms in Britain and North America, Canada and the U.S. for example. It deals with vital questions both for African Caribbean students and their white and Asian classmates, canvassing issues of intellectual and cultural confidence for African Caribbean students and historical and contemporary truth for others.

The Palgrave Handbook of Race and the Arts in Education Amelia M. Kraehe, Rubén Gaztambide-Fernández, B. Stephen Carpenter II, 2018-07-12 The Palgrave Handbook of Race and the Arts in Education is the first edited volume to examine how race operates in and through the arts in education. Until now no single source has brought together such an expansive and interdisciplinary collection in exploration of the ways in which music, visual art, theater, dance, and popular culture intertwine with racist ideologies and race making. Drawing on Critical Race Theory, contributing authors bring an international perspective to questions of racism and anti racist interventions in the arts in education The book s introduction provides a guiding framework for understanding the arts as white property in schools museums and informal education spaces Each section is organized thematically around historical discursive empirical and personal dimensions of the arts in education This handbook is essential reading for students educators artists and researchers across the fields of visual and performing arts education educational foundations multicultural education and curriculum and instruction Handbook of Research and Policy in Art Education Elliot W. Eisner, Michael D. Day, 2004-04-12 This work provides an overview of the progress that has characterized the field of research and policy in art education It profiles and integrates history policy learning curriculum and instruction assessment and competing perspectives Emerging Solutions for Musical Arts

Education in Africa Pan African Society for Musical Arts Education, 2005 Emerging Solutions for Musical arts Education in South Africa offers peer reviewed articles prepared for the 2003 Conference of the Pan African Society for Musical Arts Education in Africa held in Kisumu Maseno Kenya Not only does this publication voice the solutions offered by 31 authors from the African continent and beyond but it presents in a unique and highly accessible fashion the collective voice of the conference participants True to the spirit of ubuntu an individual is only a person through other people their communities this publication is a reflection of the essence of an overarching sub Saharan philosophy the contents represents a conference where papers were not presented but where conference participants engaged to discuss solutions for the musical arts on the African continent While the individual voice has been given its rightful place the collective voice represents an emergent song composed by the scholarly community in oral fashion This publication provides insight into the problems of musical arts education in Africa and solutions for musical arts education Beyond Multicultural Art Education Rachel Mason, Doug Boughton, 1999

Multiculturalism is a term that has been much used in educational texts in recent years Its usage is frequently taken for granted in the rhetoric of curriculum literature However it has recently become clear that there are significant variations of interpretations of multiculturalism in different world regions This book takes a new and deeper look at the notion of multiculturalism through the lens of art education In educational terms art is a unique tool for the investigation of cultural values because it transcends the barrier of language and provides visceral and tacit insights into cultural change In order to address the educational interpretations and methods of implementing multiculturalism in different regions of the world this book contains discussion and analysis of perspectives on art education theory and practice from thirteen countries The authors of each chapter are respected multicultural experts in their geographic locations who are well equipped to provide unique insights into the particular issues of multiculturalism viewed from the perspective of art in educational contexts The book as a whole provides tools for the conceptual analysis of contemporary notions linked with multiculturalism such as interculturalism internationalism and globalisation It also provides strategies for art teaching in relation to these ideas While the term multicultural education is problematic this book presents conceptual frameworks that should assist educators to examine their own teaching on issues of equity and diversity that are central to the multicultural education debate Curriculum, Culture, and Art Education Kerry Freedman, Fernando

Hernández-Hernández, 2024-09-01 Through international case studies this book explores the causes and effects of historical and contemporary cultural changes in art education A general broadening of content and methods a renewed emphasis on student interests and diverse critical perspectives can currently be seen internationally in art curricula This book explores ways that visual culture in education is helping to move art curricula off their historical foundations and open the field to new ways of teaching learning and prefiguring worlds It highlights critical histories and contemporary stories showing how cultural milieu influences and is influenced by the various practices that make up the professional field inside and outside of institutional borders This book shows students how contemporary art educators are responding revising and re creating the field African Cultures, Visual Arts, and the Museum Tobias Döring, 2002 From the contents Christine MATZKE
