Arthur A Tragedy:

Arthur Laurence Binyon, 2023-07-11 In Arthur Laurence Binyon intricately weaves a poetic narrative that reimagines the legendary figure of King Arthur through a lens of profound classical influence and Romantic sensibility. The text is steeped in the motifs of chivalry and idealism, skillfully blending rich imagery and lyrical prose in a style that echoes the medieval romances while simultaneously engaging with contemporary themes of heroism and sacrifice. Binyon's engagement with Arthurian myths not only honors the literary tradition but also places it within the larger context of early 20th-century English literature, reflecting post-Victorian anxieties and aspirations. Laurence Binyon, a celebrated poet, critic, and art historian, crafted Arthur during a period when notions of heritage and national identity were being deeply examined in Britain. Drawing from his extensive scholarly background in art and literature, Binyon's fascination with mythic narratives is also evident in his desire to resurrect and reframe the archetypal hero for a modern audience. His background in the classics and the impact of World War I on his perspective further inform the depth of this text, rendering it a poignant exploration of the human condition. This work is highly recommended for readers interested in Arthurian legends, poetry, or the intersection of history and myth. Its lyrical quality and thoughtful interpretations offer a compelling exploration of nobility, duty, and the timeless struggle for meaning in an often tumultuous world.

The Tragedy of Arthur William Matthews, 2012 The Tragedy of Arthur William Matthews, 1960 The Tragedy of Arthur Arthur Phillips, 2011 Interpreting Cultures J. Hart, 2016-09-23 This book focuses on how we perceive, know, and interpret culture across disciplinary boundaries. The study combines theoretical and critical contexts for close readings in culture through discussions of literature, philosophy, history, psychology, and visual arts by and about men and women in Europe, the Americas, and beyond.

Re-viewing Le Morte Darthur Kevin Sean Whetter, Raluca L. Radulescu, 2005 New articles offer a variety of fresh perspectives on some of the most important areas of Malory criticism.

Knighthood in the Morte Darthur Beverly Kennedy, 1992 A lucid and rich analysis eminently suited to students at undergraduate and graduate levels. CHOICE Beverly Kennedy puts Malory's concern with knighthood at the very heart of the Morte Darthur. She identifies three types of knight: the Heroic, Gawain, the Worshipful, Tristram, and Arthur, and the True Lancelot, Gareth, and the Grail Knights, and argues that this knightly typology creates the thematic unity of the Morte Darthur. It also allows Malory to develop two quite different contexts: one pragmatic and political, the other religious and providential, within which the reader may judge why Arthur's reign ended in catastrophe. BEVERLEY KENNEDY is Professor of English at Marianopolis College, Canada.

The Tragedy of Arthur Arthur Phillips, 2012 The doomed hero of The Tragedy of Arthur is Arthur Phillips, a young man struggling with a larger-than-life father, a con artist who works wonders of deception but is a very unreliable parent. Arthur is raised in an enchanted world of smoke and mirrors where the only certain fact is his father's and beloved sister's shared love for the works of William Shakespeare, a love so pervasive that Arthur becomes a writer in a misguided bid to win their approval. Near the end of his life, Arthur's father shares with him a treasure that he has kept for half a century a previously unknown play by Shakespeare titled The Tragedy of Arthur Arthur and his sister also inherit their father's mission to see the play published and acknowledged as the Bard's last great gift to humanity Unless of course it's their father's last and greatest deception Tragedy in the Victorian

Novel Jeannette King, 1978-01-26 How does one dominant literary genre fall into decline to be superseded by another The classic instance is the rise of the novel in the nineteenth century and how it came to embody the tragic vision of life which had previously been the domain of drama Dr King focuses on three novelists George Eliot Thomas Hardy and Henry James All three while trying to offer a realistic picture of life in prose narrative wrote with the concept of tragedy clearly in mind The concern was widespread and Victorian literary critics found themselves discussing the problem of how one might reconcile concepts as dissimilar as tragedy and realism Their criticism provides Dr King with her starting point Dr King examines the work of her three authors in relation to the large concepts of traditional tragic thought and also examines how the form of specific novels was affected by their differing ideas of tragedy The Construction of Tragedy Mary Anneeta Mann, 2004 A beacon for the 21st century is an understanding of the Science of Being Altogether as practiced by the great tragic dramatists An integral part of the art form of tragedy is deemed to be the dramatists adherence to the philosophy of the Science of Being Altogether where the artist becomes intuitive scientist in creating a microcosm of the universe itself Six plays Antigone Hamlet King Lear Murder in the Cathedral A Man for All Seasons The Condemned of Altona are analyzed in similar format in HUBRIS The Construction of Tragedy Societies and forms of government may vary but humanity itself does not change significantly Antigone Hamlet and Albany in King Lear are deeply aware of mortals cosmic connection and the responsibilities resultant from it Hubris in human activity such as domination exemplified by Creon in Antigone and martyrdom extolled by More in A Man for All Seasons and Thomas in Murder in the Cathedral can be understood to be scientifically untenable and destined to be chastened or broken by the universal life force The Condemned of Altona addresses the 20th century disconnect of human morality from cosmic harmony At the end of each play's analysis a section is devoted to its contemporary relevance Contemporary issues as fear of dialogue domination martyrdom religious fervor and ideological hatred and the slide into hopelessness all fit into patterns of human behavior that are explored in tragedy
