Existential Perspectives in Transactional Analysis Rachel Cook, 2025-08-07 This book offers experienced practitioners and trainees in psychotherapy and counselling a new deeply personal and theoretically grounded perspective on clinical work that integrates existential philosophy and psychotherapy into a relational transactional analysis The author employs a multidisciplinary perspective grounded in the traditions of Berne's transactional analysis whilst providing an easily accessible explanation of existential psychotherapy and the existential givens of life An innovative theory for the development of the adult self is offered that can be used to understand our human search for meaning and the existential life predicaments we all encounter as adults that may not originate from a difficult childhood Using moving and personal clinical examples from her extensive professional experience as a psychotherapist supervisor and trainer the author highlights the different therapeutic skills that can be used when working from this stance making this a highly practical guide for all practitioners Whilst predominantly for psychotherapists counsellors and students on psychotherapy training courses this will be essential reading for all practitioners working with human beings in groups education and organisations as well as those who are new to the principles of existentialism and transactional analysis

Autumn Gospel Kathleen Fischer, Kathleen R. Fischer, 1995 With her characteristic honesty gentleness and insight Kathleen Fischer explores the spiritual dimensions of women's middle and later years as she weaves together stories experiences and research from a variety of traditions and cultures She begins with a discussion of how societal images of older women constrict their sense of worth and their possibilities The author then suggests ways in which older women can embrace new visions of themselves She proceeds to explore the place of transitions the inner life contemplation the body mourning remembering caregiving and intergenerational connections as each relates to women's spirituality in later life At each chapter's end Dr Fischer offers rituals prayers and meditations that mark the passages of the second half of life

Suicide and the God of Grace Mark Koonz, 2025-08-19 Suicide is a painfully intrusive reality around the world touching many Christian families as well These theological reflections are designed to assist pastors facing one of the hardest funerals imaginable as well as inform other readers family and spiritual care givers who live in the aftermath of tragedy Biblical passages and the history of Christian thought are scanned with some surprising results There is a persistent openness to God's grace embracing death by suicide redeeming the last moment of life From Aquinas to Luther to Barth influential theologians refused to call suicide an unforgivable sin though they always discouraged it There is a surprising congruence between ancient and modern Protestant and Roman Catholic in some of these approaches Without attempting to speak God's final word on any victim of suicide the editor finds a middle way between outright condemnation and universalism Contributors offer actual sermons used for suicide funerals This book invites all who wrestle with suicide's spiritual questions to engage with a tradition more compassionate and nuanced than many might expect
