Art From The Land Dialogues With The Kluge Ruhe Collection Of Australian Aboriginal Art:

Art from the Land Howard Morphy, Margo Smith Boles, 1999 The art of Aboriginal Australia gives tangible expression to a particular way of being in the land The Kluge Ruhe Collection now held by the University of Virginia in Charlottesville is one of the largest and best documented collections of Australian Aboriginal art outside Australia Art from the Land focuses on the desert region and Arnhem Land drawing on the many fine works in the collection and on the authors detailed knowledge of the artists and their communities to illustrate the unique and complex nature of Australian Aboriginal artistic expression

The Makers and Making of Indigenous Australian Museum Collections Nicolas Peterson, Lindy Allen, Louise Hamby, 2008 This volume of original essays brings together for the first time histories of the making and of the makers of most of the major Indigenous Australian museum collections These collections are a principal source of information on how Aboriginal people lived in the past Knowing the context in which any collection was created the intellectual frameworks within which the collectors were working their collecting practices what they failed to collect and what Aboriginal people withheld is vital to understanding how any collection relates to the Aboriginal society from which it was derived Once made collections have had mixed fates some have become the jewel of a museum's holdings while others have been divided and dispersed across the world or retained but neglected The essays in this volume raise issues about representation institutional policies the periodisation of collecting intellectual history material culture studies Aboriginal culture and the idea of a collection

Unsettling Australia Lars Jensen, 2005 This Book Is A Critical Intervention Into Debates On Australia's Cultural History The Book Demonstrates The Interconnectedness Of Themes Commonly Seen As Separate Discursive Formations And Shows The Fruitfulness Of Bringing A Combined Cultural Studies And Post Colonial Approach To Bear On A Number Of Fields Seen As Pivotal To The Formation And Particular Expression Of Australian Culture Today The Book Argues That A Redefinition Of The Borders Between What Has Been Regarded And Patrolled As Discrete Fields Of Australian Studies Is Mandatory In Order To Alter Definitions Of Australia's Cultural History And Identity Away From The Conventional Histories Of A Settler Culture Gradually Embracing A Multicultural Society The Introduction Argues For The Productiveness Of Combining A Cultural Studies Approach With Post Colonial Criticism And Explains Why The Placement Of Australian Cultural History In The Unconventional Territorial Representation Of Its Asian Other Is Not Only Enabling But Necessary In Order To Divest Australian Studies Of Settlement History's Monolithic Grasp On Definitions Of Australia's Cultural History The Subsequent Chapters Examine Australian Historiography Focusing On Colonial Beginnings Political History Focusing On Relations With Indonesia And East Timor Multiculturalism Focusing On The Chinese In Australia And Anthropology Focusing On Aboriginal Asian Contact History From This New Angle

The Dealer is the Devil Adrian

Newstead,2014-02-01 Adrian Newstead s explosive memoir lifts the lid on what Robert Hughes once described as the last great art movement of the 20th century After thirty years sitting round campfires with Aboriginal artists all over Australia Newstead has produced the definitive expose of the first great art movement of the 21st century From remote indigenous communities with their dispossessed populations of tribal elders and troubled youth to the gleaming white box galleries high powered auction houses and formidable art institutions of major cities all over the world Newstead combines personal anecdotes with an insider s grasp of the inter national art market With vivid portraits of artists dealers and scamsters the book races from pre contact and colonial days to the heady celebrations of the Sydney Olympics and the devastating impact of the global financial crisis Newstead s humour love and respect for his subjects produces a story that reads at times like a thriller and also a lament for a lost world WBN reviewers gave five stars to The Dealer is the Devil Adrian Newstead s personal and encyclopaedic examination of the Indigenous art industry

Pacific Art Anita Herle,2002-01-01 Contributors

explore the complex relations among Pacific artists patrons collectors and museums over time as well as the different meanings given to art objects by each

Blood, Bones and Spirit Heather McDonald,2001 In this fascinating and beautifully written book Heather McDonald examines Aboriginal people s experiences of colonialism and post colonialism in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Blood Bones and Spirit analyses how Aboriginal people have appropriated Biblical stories of land inheritance expansion and loss in order to make sense of their own dispossession It investigates the embodiment of Christianity by Aboriginal people through their appropriation of Christ s body his blood bones and spirit in order to replenish and heal their own colonised bodies Indeed this local study of Christianisation in a small East Kimberley town presents a challenge to the very history and philosophy of Western religion Heather McDonald spreads out before the reader various aspects of Aboriginal Christianity the way Aborigines have assimilated Christian stories to make sense of their history and their relationships with the dominant society their understanding of what it means to be Christian their church activities and their conflicting interpretations of the Christian way of life Aboriginal Christians are repossessing the land and reclaiming a traditional earth bound world immanent spirituality These Aboriginal understandings of colonisation including missionisation and Aboriginal ways of interpreting and understanding Christianity offer a unique contribution to the reconciliation process

Relationscapes Erin Manning, 2012-08-17 A new philosophy of movement that explores the active relation between sensation and thought through the prisms of dance cinema art and new media With Relationscapes Erin Manning offers a new philosophy of movement challenging the idea that movement is simple displacement in space knowable only in terms of the actual Exploring the relation between sensation and thought through the prisms of dance cinema art and new media Manning argues for the intensity of movement From this idea of intensity the incipency at the heart of movement Manning develops the concept of preacceleration which makes palpable how movement creates relational intervals out of which displacements take form Discussing her theory of incipient movement in terms of dance and relational movement Manning describes choreographic practices that work to develop with a body in movement rather than simply stabilizing that body into patterns of displacement She examines the movement images of Leni Riefenstahl, Jeanne Jules Marey and Norman McLaren drawing on Bergson's idea of duration and explores the dot paintings of contemporary Australian Aboriginal artists Turning to language Manning proposes a theory of prearticulation claiming that language's affective force depends on a concept of thought in motion Relationscapes takes a Whiteheadian perspective recognizing Whitehead's importance and his influence on process philosophers of the late twentieth century Deleuze and Guattari in particular It will be of special interest to scholars in new media philosophy dance studies film theory and art history

The New McCulloch's Encyclopedia of Australian Art Alan McCulloch, Susan McCulloch, Emily McCulloch Childs, 2006 Widely regarded as the authoritative reference on Australian art with its extensive colour plates and 4500 entries Fully illustrated with more than 700 images on 1200 pages Entries include Aboriginal art Abstractionism art links sculptors photographers craft workers and printmakers and much more

Forms of the Visible Philippe Descola, 2025-11-25 Imagery and figuration are not just figments of an artist's imagination Perception and imagination are always shaped by what habit has taught us to discern The visual path we spontaneously trace through the world depends on where we are situated in the four regions of the ontological archipelago animism naturalism totemism or analogism Each of these four regions corresponds to a way of conceiving the objects that make up the world of perceiving the continuities and discontinuities in the folds of the world and of drawing the dividing lines between humans and nonhumans From Alaskan Yup'ik masks and Aboriginal bark paintings to miniature landscapes from the Song dynasty and Dutch Golden Age interior scenes each image reveals through what it shows or fails to show a certain figurative regime identifiable by the formal means it uses and by the device through which it can unleash its power to act The figurative regime enables us to grasp sometimes better than words can the contrasting ways of living that characterize the human condition and its relation to the nonhuman By comparing a great diversity of visual images and artworks Descola masterfully lays the theoretical foundations for an anthropology of figuration One of the world's leading anthropologists Philippe Descola has developed a comparative anthropology of relations between humans and nonhumans that has revolutionized both the human sciences and our ways of thinking about the great ecological issues of our time His new book will be of great value to students and scholars of anthropology visual art and art history and to anyone interested in art culture and the relations between the human and nonhuman worlds

Sensory Perception Friedrich G. Barth, Patrizia Giampieri-Deutsch, Hans-Dieter Klein, 2012-02-01 Sensory perception mind and matter aims at a deeper understanding of the many facets of sensory perception and their relations to brain function and cognition It is an attempt to promote the interdisciplinary discourse between the neurosciences and psychology which speaks the language of cognitive experiences and philosophy which has been thinking about the meaning and origin of consciousness since its beginning Leading experts contribute to such a discourse by informing the reader about exciting modern developments both technical and conceptual and by pointing to the big gaps still to be bridged The various chapters provide access to scientific research on sensory perception and the mind from a broad perspective covering a large spectrum of topics which range from the molecular mechanisms at work in sensory cells to the study of the unconscious and to neurophilosophy

Australia Vijeya Rajendra, Sundran Rajendra, 2002 Presents the history geography government economy environment religion people and social life and customs of the island continent of Australia

Finding Eliza Larissa Behrendt, Fiona Foley, 2024-06-04 Aboriginal lawyer writer and filmmaker Larissa Behrendt has long been fascinated by the story of Eliza Fraser who was purportedly captured by the Butchulla people after she was shipwrecked on their island off the Queensland coast in 1836 In this deeply personal book Behrendt uses Eliza's tale as a starting point to interrogate how Aboriginal people and indigenous people of other countries have been portrayed in their colonisers' stories Exploring works as diverse as Robinson Crusoe and Coonardoo Behrendt looks at the stereotypes embedded in these accounts including the assumption of cannibalism and the myth of the noble savage Ultimately Finding Eliza shows how these stories not only reflect the values of their storytellers but also reinforce those values and how in Australia this has contributed to a complex racial divide

A Return to the Object Susanne Küchler, Timothy Carroll, 2020-11-26 This book draws on the work of anthropologist Alfred Gell to reinstate the importance of the object in art and society Rather than presenting art as a passive recipient of the artist's intention and the audience's critique the authors consider it in the social environment of its production and reception A Return to the Object introduces the historical and theoretical framework out of which an anthropology of art has emerged and examines the conditions under which it has renewed interest It also explores what art does as a social and cultural phenomenon and how it can impact alternative ways of organising and managing knowledge Making use of ethnography museological practice the intellectual history of the arts and sciences material culture studies and intangible heritage the authors present a case for the re orientation of current conversations surrounding the anthropology of art and social theory This text will be of key interest to students and scholars in the social and historical sciences arts and humanities and cognitive sciences Macquarie Atlas of Indigenous Australia William Stewart Arthur, Frances Morphy, 2005 An atlas is a way of representing in graphic form a human landscape a pattern of human activities in space and time The Macquarie Atlas of Indigenous Australia opens up a window onto the landscape of Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander lives from 60 000 years ago to the present time It covers a wide range of aspects of Indigenous life including society culture economics politics the environment technology land ownership and use the visual and performing arts sport education health and placenames Each chapter has been compiled by one or more experts in the field under the general editorship of Bill Arthur and Frances Morphy of the Centre for Aboriginal Economic Policy and Research at the Australian National University The core of maps is supplemented by explanatory text as well as numerous diagrams and illustrations including Indigenous artworks
