between artistic forms and the ideological messages contained within The history of Roman art traditionally followed the model of a sequence of stylistic phases affecting the works of their era in the manner of a uniform Zeitgeist By contrast the author shows different stylistic forms being used for different themes and messages The reception of Greek models a key phenomenon of Roman art thus appear in a new light The formulations of specific messages are established from Greek art types of different eras serving to express Roman ideological values classical forms for the grandeur of the state Hellenistic forms for the struggling effort of warfare In this way a conceptual and comprehensible pictorial language arose uniting the multicultural population of the Roman state

Painting, Ethics, and Aesthetics in Rome Nathaniel B.

Jones,2019-01-24 In the first centuries BCE and CE Roman wall painters frequently placed representations of works of art especially panel paintings within their own mural compositions Nathaniel B Jones argues that the depiction of panel painting within mural ensembles functioned as a meta pictorial reflection on the practice and status of painting itself This phenomenon provides crucial visual evidence for both the reception of Greek culture and the interconnected ethical and aesthetic values of art in the Roman world Roman meta pictures this book reveals not only navigated social debates on the production and consumption of art but also created space on the Roman wall for new modes of expression relating to pictorial genres the role of medium in artistic practice and the history of painting Richly illustrated the volume will be important for anyone interested in the social ethical and aesthetic dimensions of artworks in the ancient Mediterranean and beyond
