the Nazis plundered from occupied countries millions of items of incalculable value estimated in the hundreds of millions of dollars Spearheaded by Hermann Goring the looting program quickly created the largest private art collection in the world exceeding the collections amassed by the Metropolitan in New York the British Museum in London the Louvre in Paris and the Tretyakov Gallery in Moscow By the end of the war the Nazis had stolen roughly one fifth of the entire art treasures of the world This book explores the formation of the Nazi art collection and the methods used by Goring and his party to strip occupied Europe of a large part of its artistic heritage Interrogations, Confessions, and Entrapment G. Daniel

Lassiter,2013-11-11 Coerced confessions have long been a staple of TV crime dramas and have also been the subject of recent news stories The complexity of such situations however is rarely explored even in the scientific literature Now in softcover Interrogations Confessions and Entrapment remains one of the best syntheses of the scientific legal and ethical findings in this area uncovering subtle yet powerful forces that often compromise the integrity of the criminal justice system Editor G Daniel Lassiter identifies the exposure of psychological coercion as an emerging frontier in legal psychology citing its roots in the third degree approach of former times and noting that its techniques carry little scientific validity A team of psychologists criminologists and legal scholars asks and goes a long way toward answering important questions such as What forms of psychological coercion are involved in interrogation Are some people more susceptible to falsely confessing than others What are the effects of psychological manipulation on innocent suspects Are coercive tactics ever justified with minors Can jurors recognize psychological coercion and unreliable confessions Can entrapment techniques encourage people to commit crimes What steps can law enforcement take to minimize coercion Throughout this progressive volume readers will find important research based ideas for educating the courts changing policy and implementing reform from improving police interrogation skills to better methods of evaluating confession evidence For the expert witness legal consultant or student of forensic psychology this is material whose relevance will only increase with time Interrogation: World War II, Vietnam, and Iraq James A. Stone, David P. Shoemaker, Nicholas R. Dotti, 2012-08-12 The volume based on research at the National Defense Intelligence College intends to inform a broad audience of intelligence professionals policymakers and the general public about intelligence interrogation techniques and challenges from WWII Vietnam and Iraq The work reviews interrogation history from a military perspective By adding context going back to World War II the Vietnam conflict and the war in Iraq this volume contributes to the public dialogue on how U S military and civilian agencies can best obtain information from prisoners of war and other categories of legal and illegal combatants without compromising the principles upon which the nation was founded Originally published by the U S Government s National Defense Intelligence College in color James A Stone is a Special Agent with the USAF Office of Special Investigations David P Shoemaker is a Special Agent with AFOSI Nicholas R Dotti is a U S Army major with Special Operations Command First Lessons in Composition, in which the Principles of the Art are Developed ... George Payn Quackenbos, 1881 First Lessons in Composition in which the Principles of the Art are Developed in Connection with the Principles of Grammar ... George Payn Quackenbos, 1861
