Art Of John Coburn:

The Art of John Coburn Alan Rozen, John Coburn, 1979      John Coburn Nadine Amadio, John Coburn, 1988 As a painter James Coburn has refined and intensified a unique personal language of symbols for his work Within his immediately recognizable and highly individual form of abstract expressionism he has developed a compressed emotional power reminiscent of Mark Rothko Acknowledged as a leading painter and an elder statesman in the Australian arts Queensland born John Coburn is represented in all Australian State galleries and many overseas collections including the Vatican Museum He has also achieved international recognition for his magnificent Sydney Opera House Curtains of the Sun and Moon and his Seven Days of Creation tapestries hanging in the Kennedy Centre Washington      John Coburn Lou Klepac, John Coburn, 2003-01-01 A great artist may be enabled late in life to discover and reveal to himself and to us the deepest secrets of his art For over three decades from the late 1950s onwards John Coburn's art impressed the widest public both in Australia and overseas His prolific output of paintings prints and tapestries expressed an apparently endless artistic imagination Over much of the same period he was a highly effective art educator But that brilliant career was abruptly broken into at the height of success by personal tragedy and life threatening illness resulting in serious physical disability The artist's life and work up to that rupture has been the subject of several studies but his subsequent deepening maturity and the stream of subtle masterpieces of the master of colour call for new recognition and appreciation To penetrate into Coburn's development in these years the author proceeds through an investigation of the mysterious nature of colour itself the determining events and influences of the artist's life including the early impact of the Australian landscape and his fascination with the work of painters such as Miro Matisse and Rothko the culmination of his refined technique and colour experience in the ground breaking tapestries and the impact of crisis in the mid 1980s Returning now to the theme of colour and the artist we are shown how unremitting artistic striving and the impacts of life coalesce in the creative impulses which release the magnificent late works The book admits us to the artist's private studio to join as onlookers in the production of these haunting works The book contains 147 colour plates as well as documentary photographs and comprehensive biographical notes and exhibition lists      John Coburn John Coburn,      Coburn John Coburn, 2008      John Coburn John Coburn,      John Coburn John Coburn, Lou Klepac, Louise Denoon, 1997      Recent Works by John Coburn Kym Bonython's Hungry Horse Art Gallery, 1966      John Coburn John Coburn, 2000      John Coburn ,      The Life, Art and Religious Iconography of David Wright Peter French, 2016-01-14 This book showcases the contribution Australian contemporary glass artist David Wright has made to Australian art and international glassmaking From 1970 until 2014 David Wright produced hundreds of high quality art glass windows for Australian public private and sacred spaces including significant national churches chapels and synagogues yet little scholarly research on the artist and his place in Australian art history exists Including the first catalogue raisonné ever produced on the artist combined with a close examination of his opus his influences manufacturing methods and personal history this book demonstrates for the first time the extraordinary contribution David Wright made to Australian art and contemporary glassmaking John Coburn John Coburn, Peter Skrzynecki, 2000 John Coburn John Coburn, 2002 Exhibition of Paintings by Bob Dickerson, John Coburn and Thos. Gleghorn Robert Dickerson, John Coburn, Thomas Gleghorn, 1957 Coburn, John Coburn, paintings Nadine Amadio, 1988

Seeking the Centre Roslynn D. Haynes, 1998 The desert has a hypnotic presence in Australian culture simultaneously alluring and repellent The Centre is distant and unknown to most Australians yet has become a symbol of the country This exciting book highly illustrated in full colour reveals the singular impact that the desert both geographical and metaphorical has had on Australian culture At the heart of the book is the profound relationship that Aboriginal Australians have with the desert and the complex ways in which they have been seen by white people in this context "Australian Art and Artists in London, 1950-1965" Simon Pierse, 2017-07-05 Subtle and wide ranging in its account this study explores the impact of Australian art in Britain in the two decades following the end of World War II and preceding the Swinging Sixties In a transitional period of decolonization in Britain Australian painting was briefly seized upon as a dynamic and reinvigorating force in contemporary art and a group of Australian artists settled in London where they held centre stage with group and solo exhibitions in the capital's most prestigious galleries The book traces the key influences of Sir Kenneth Clark Bernard Smith and Bryan Robertson in their various and varying roles as patrons ideologues and entrepreneurs for Australian art as well as the self definition and interaction of the artists themselves Simon Pierse interweaves multiple issues of the period into a cohesive historical narrative including the mechanics of the British art world the limited and frustrating cultural scene of 1950s Australia and the conservative influence of Australian government bodies Publishing for the first time archival material letters and photographs previously unavailable to scholars either in Britain or Australia this book demonstrates how the work of expatriate Australian artists living in London constructed a distinct vision of Australian identity for a foreign market

John Coburn John Coburn, Lou Klepac, 1999 A Companion to Australian Art Christopher Allen, 2021-04-27 A Companion to Australian Art is a thorough introduction to the art produced in Australia from the arrival of the First Fleet in 1788 to the early 21st century Beginning with the colonial art made by Australia's first European settlers this volume presents a collection of clear and accessible essays by established art historians and emerging scholars alike Engaging clearly written chapters provide fresh insights into the principal Australian art movements considered from a variety of chronological regional and thematic perspectives The text seeks to provide a balanced account of historical events to help readers discover the art of Australia on their own terms and draw their own conclusions The book begins by surveying the historiography of Australian art and exploring the history of art museums in Australia The following chapters discuss art forms such as photography sculpture portraiture and landscape painting examining the practice of art in the separate colonies before Federation and in the Commonwealth from the early 20th century to the present day This authoritative volume covers the last 250 years of art in Australia including the Early Colonial High Colonial and Federation periods as well as the successive Modernist styles of the 20th century and considers how traditional Aboriginal art has adapted and changed over the last fifty years The Companion to Australian Art is a valuable resource for both undergraduate and graduate students of the history of Australian artforms from colonization to postmodernism and for general readers with an interest in the nation's colonial art history

Possessions Nicholas Thomas, 2022-09-01 The arts of Africa Oceania and native America famously inspired twentieth century modernist artists such as Picasso Matisse and Ernst The politics of such stimulus however have long been highly contentious was this a cross cultural discovery to be celebrated or just one more example of Western colonial appropriation This revelatory book explores cross cultural art through the lens of settler societies such as Australia and New Zealand where Europeans made new nations displacing and outnumbering but never eclipsing native peoples In this dynamic of dispossession and resistance visual art has loomed large Settler artists and designers drew upon Indigenous motifs and styles in their search for distinctive identities Yet powerful Indigenous art traditions have asserted the presence of First Nations peoples and their claims to place history and sovereignty Cultural exchange has been a two way process and an unpredictable one contemporary Indigenous art draws on global contemporary practice but moves beyond a bland affirmation of hybrid identities to insist on the enduring values and attachment to place of Indigenous peoples
