Art Of Tivaevae Traditional Cook Islands Quilting:

The Art of Tivaevae Lynnsay Rongokea, 2001-11-30 Christian missionaries introduced fabric quilt making to the Cook Islands more than one hundred years ago. Within a short time Cook Island women turned the tivaevae needlework specifically the making of patchwork quilts by hand into an art form that has become an integral part of local life and culture. In this lavishly illustrated book Island women talk about their tivaevae how they are sewn the ideas that go into each design and the future of tivaevae.

Collective Creativity Katherine Giuffre, 2016-05-23 Collective Creativity offers an analysis of the explosion of artistic creativity currently taking place on the South Pacific island of Rarotonga. By exploring the construction of this art world through the ways in which creativity and innovation are linked to social structures and social networks this book investigates the social aspects of making fine art in order to present a collective theory of creativity. With a close examination of tourism galleries and of course the artists themselves Katherine Giuffre presents a detailed picture of a complex and multi faceted community through the words of the art world participants themselves. Theoretically sophisticated yet grounded with rich empirical data this book will appeal not only to anthropologists with an interest in the South Pacific but also to scholars concerned with questions of ethnicity creativity globalization and network analysis.

World Antiquarianism Alain Schnapp, 2014-02-01 The term antiquarianism refers to engagement with the material heritage of the past an engagement that preceded the modern academic discipline of archaeology. Antiquarian activities result in the elaboration of particular social behaviors and the production of tools for exploring the collective memory. This book is the first to compare antiquarianism in a global context examining its roots in the ancient Near East its flourishing in early modern Europe and East Asia and its manifestations in nonliterate societies of Melanesia and Polynesia. By establishing wide reaching geographical and historical perspectives the essays reveal the universality of antiquarianism as an embodiment of the human mind and open new avenues for understanding the representation of the past from ancient societies to the present.
