Pugh, 2010-12-14 Innocence Heterosexuality and the Queerness of Children's Literature examines distinguished classics of children s literature both old and new including L Frank Baum s Oz books Laura Ingalls Wilder s Little House series J K Rowling s Harry Potter novels Lemony Snicket s A Series of Unfortunate Events and Stephenie Meyer s Twilight series to explore the queer tensions between innocence and heterosexuality within their pages Pugh argues that children cannot retain their innocence of sexuality while learning about normative heterosexuality yet this inherent paradox runs throughout many classic narratives of literature for young readers Children s literature typically endorses heterosexuality through its invisible presence as the de facto sexual identity of countless protagonists and their families yet heterosexuality s ubiquity is counterbalanced by its occlusion when authors shield their readers from forthright considerations of one of humanity s most basic and primal instincts The book demonstrates that tensions between innocence and sexuality render much of children's literature queer especially when these texts disavow sexuality through celebrations of innocence In this original study Pugh develops interpretations of sexuality that few critics have yet ventured paving the way for future scholarly engagement with larger questions about the ideological role of children's literature and representations of children's sexuality Tison Pugh is Associate Professor in the Department of English at the University of Central Florida He is the author of Queering Medieval Genres and Sexuality and Its Queer Discontents in Middle English Literature and has published on children's literature in such journals as Children's Literature The Lion and the Unicorn and Marvels and Tales

Irish Children's Literature and Culture Keith O'Sullivan, Valerie Coghlan, 2011-03-17 What constitutes a national literature is rarely straightforward and it is especially complex when discussing writing for young people in an Irish context Until recently there was only a slight body of work that could be classified as Irish children's literature whatever the parameters in comparison with Ireland's contribution to adult literature in the twentieth century This volume looks critically at Irish writing for children from the 1980s to the present examining the work of many writers and illustrators and engaging with all the major forms and genres Topics include the gothic the speculative picturebooks poetry post colonial discourse identity and ethnicity and globalization Modern Irish children's literature is also contextualized in relation to Irish mythology and earlier writings thereby demonstrating the complexity of this fascinating area The contributors who are leading experts in their fields examine a range of texts in relation to contemporary literary and cultural theory and also in relation to writing for adults thereby inviting a consideration of how well writing for a young audience can compare with writing for an adult one This groundbreaking work is essential reading for all interested in Irish literature childhood and children's literature

Discourses of Home and Homeland in Irish Children's Fiction 1990-2012 Ciara Ní Bhroin,2021-05-22 In the context of changing constructs of home and of childhood since the mid twentieth century this book examines discourses of home and homeland in Irish children s fiction from 1990 to 2012 a time of dramatic change in Ireland spanning the rise and fall of the Celtic Tiger and of unprecedented growth in Irish children s literature Close readings of selected texts by five award winning authors are linked to social intellectual and political changes in the period covered and draw on postcolonial feminist cultural and children s literature theory highlighting the political and ideological dimensions of home and the value of children s literature as a lens through which to view culture and society as well as an imaginative space where young people can engage with complex ideas relevant to their lives and the world in which they live Examining the works of O R Melling Kate Thompson Eoin Colfer Siobh n Parkinson and Siobhan Dowd Ciara N Bhroin argues that Irish children s literature changed at
