experience Benjamin delays their departure by gathering onions which he wraps in Peter's handkerchief hoping to give them to his aunt Peter's mother. He then takes a casual stroll around the garden followed by an increasingly nervous Peter. Rounding a corner they see a cat and hide under a basket but the cat then sits on top of the basket for five hours trapping the pair. Benjamin's father enters the garden looking for his son. He knocks the cat away from the basket and locks her in the greenhouse then rescues Benjamin and Peter. But he also punishes them for going to Mr McGregor's garden by whipping them with a switch he had brought. Once home Peter gives the onions to his mother who forgives his adventure because he has recovered his jacket and shoes. Following his return Mr McGregor is puzzled by the ridiculously small footprints and the scarecrow's missing clothes and can't figure out how the cat got himself locked in the greenhouse.

In Benjamin Bunny Potter deepened the rabbit universe she created in Peter Rabbit and in doing so suggested the rabbit world was parallel to the human world but complete and sufficient unto itself. Benjamin Bunny was an instant commercial and popular success and thousands of copies were in print by the end of 1904. The Times Literary Supplement thought Potter's illustrations pencil perfect but suggested that she engage a literary assistant for future productions. Potter created a nursery wallpaper tapping Benjamin's image and Benjamin returned as an adult rabbit in the Flopsy Bunnies and Mr Tod. In 1992 Benjamin Bunny was adapted as an episode of the BBC animated television series The World of Peter Rabbit and Friends.
