For Patients of Moderate Means David Paul Gagan, Rosemary Ruth Gagan, 2002 Between 1890 and 1910 scientific and technological innovation transformed the custodial Victorian charity hospital for the sick poor into the primary source of effective acute medical care for all members of society For the next half century hospitals coped with relentlessly escalating demands for accessibility by both medical indigents and a new clientele of patients able and willing to pay for hospitalization With limited statutory revenues and unpredictable voluntary support hospitals taxed paying patients through ever increasing user fees offering in return privacy comfort service and medical attendance in private and semi private wards that were more appealing to middle class patients than the stark and grudging service of the public wards

Struggle to Serve W.G. Godfrey,2004-02-11 Godfrey focuses on one hospital and the communities it served but also provides an overview of local provincial and federal hospital policies revising the sometimes rose tinted picture of public and private acceptance and generosity He explores the relationship between the hospital s urban and rural constituencies and its French and English speaking patients demonstrating that increasing patient numbers and changing funding sources encouraged substantial growth in hospital services from 1895 to 1953 He details how one community s understanding of the role of the hospital changed over time to match that of hospital advocates board members and support groups such as the Ladies Aid demonstrating that hospital history is as much a study of politics and community persuasion as it is of internal therapeutic advances
