Wilt, 1976      Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, Ecological Monitoring Program, Annual Report 1995 ,1998      Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, Ecological Monitoring Program, Annual Report 1994 ,1998      Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument ,1997      Avian Use of Quitobaquito Springs Oasis, Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, Arizona Raymond Roy Johnson, 1983      Southwestern Desert Resources William L. Halvorson, Cecil R. Schwalbe, Charles van Riper, 2023-01-10

The southwestern deserts stretch from southeastern California to west Texas and then south to central Mexico. The landscape of this region is known as basin and range topography featuring to sky islands of forest rising from the desert lowlands which creates a uniquely diverse ecology. The region is further complicated by an international border where governments have caused difficulties for many animal populations. This book puts a spotlight on individual research projects which are specific examples of work being done in the area and when they are all brought together to shed a general light of understanding the biological and cultural resources of this vast region so that those same resources can be managed as effectively and efficiently as possible. The intent is to show that collaborative efforts among federal state agency university and private sector researchers working with land managers provides better science and better management than when scientists and land managers work independently.

Special Report ,1982      Birding the Southwestern National Parks Roland H. Wauer, 2004-01-21

At the end of the twentieth century roughly 265 million people visited the 374 sites in the American National Park System. These places designated and protected because of their significance to our nation's historical and natural heritage contain some of the most beautiful landscapes in the United States landscapes that naturally lend themselves to outdoor recreation. In this book veteran parks interpreter Ro Wauer introduces the pleasures of birding in the national parks of the American Southwest. From California to Texas from hugely popular destinations such as Arizona's Grand Canyon to the mostly undiscovered shores of Amistad National Recreation Area Wauer visits seventeen sites and gives us his advice on what birds to expect to see and where and how to find them. Written by a birder for birders this book introduces readers to some of the best birding north of the Mexican border as well as some of the most impressive scenery anywhere.
