S. Debus, 2012 Illustrated field guide to diurnal raptors a bird group that many people find among the most difficult birds to identify Raptors are popular and iconic birds important ecologically as well as in legislation Also provides a brief overview of the biology of raptors an indication of current state of knowledge on them Raptors of the World: A Field Guide James Ferguson-Lees, David A. Christie, 2020-09-17 Raptors of the World is the definitive handbook to this most popular group of birds This new field guide uses all of the illustration plates from Raptors of the World with a concise revised text on facing pages to create a conveniently sized lightweight field reference covering all 340 raptor species Several of the plates have been reworked and repainted for this guide. The book also has an updated colour distribution map for each species Much of the extensive introductory material has been retained in this guide with the addition of a complete species list containing all subspecies and brief details of their ranges Armed with this guide birders will be able to identify with confidence any raptor encountered anywhere in the world The Birds of Prev of Australia Stephen J. S. Debus, 1998 The Birds of Prey of Australia is a comprehensive guide to the wide variety of raptors indigenous to Australia Included in this easy to use field guide are some of the most spectacular birds found anywhere in the world eagles falcons goshawks and harriers all feature prominently in this fully illustrated book Written with both amateur bird watchers and professional ornithologists in mind Stephen Debus highlights many unique notable raptors including those most at risk Like its predecessor Handbook of Australian New Zealand and Antarctic Birds Volume 2 The Birds of Prey of Australia is an exhaustive review Included are twenty four full color plates and fifty black and white illustrations and line drawings depicting the flight posture display feeding and hunting patterns and courtship rituals of some of the world's most amazing birds Also provided are profiles of the biology of each species Australian Predators of the Sky Penny Olsen, 2015-09-01 Australian predators of the sky are some of the most admired and the most despised of the bird world Raptors are admired for their strength and independence but despised for their depredations on livestock and favourite garden birds while the owls are at once respected for their wisdom and watchfulness and feared for their mournful cries and association with darkness and ill omen The book begins with fascinating descriptions by award winning natural history author Penny Olsen on the discovery and illustration of birds of prey in Australia and their characteristics and ecology followed by full colour illustrations of each species by a variety of artists accompanied by intriguing notes about the birds Australian Predators of the Sky comprises over 200 striking paintings lithographs and engravings of all 34 Australian species 25 diurnal birds of prey such as eagles hawks and falcons and nine owls such as hawk owls and barn owls Australasian Eagles and Eagle-like Birds Stephen Debus, 2017-08 Eagles are awe inspiring birds that have influenced much human endeavour Australia is home to three eagle species and in Melanesia there are four additional endemic species A further three large Australian hawks are eagle like Eagles being at the top of the food chain are sensitive ecological barometers of human impact on the Earth's ecosystem services and all of the six Australian species covered in this book are threatened in at least some states one also nationally Three of the four Melanesian tropical forest endemics are threatened or near threatened In Australasian Eagles and Eagle like Birds Dr Stephen Debus provides a 25 year update of knowledge on these 10 species as a supplement to the Handbook of Australian New Zealand and Antarctic Birds HANZAB and recent global treatises based partly on his own field studies Included are the first nest or prey records for some Melanesian species This book places the Australasian species in their regional and global context reviews their population status and threats provides new information on their ecology and suggests what needs to be done in order to ensure the future of these magnificent birds Australasian Eagles and Eagle like Birds is an invaluable resource for raptor biologists birdwatchers wildlife rescuers and carers raptor rehabilitators and zookeepers Wing Span ,2005 Australian Birds of Prey Penny Olsen, 1995 In describing Australia s twenty four species of birds of prey Olsen relates their complex biology to the continent's unique geography and ecology She explains why species such as the Nankeen Kestrel and Brown Falcon can range widely from coastal cliffs and river valleys to arid grasslands and wooded hillsides She describes why others such as the Red Goshawk Pacific Baza and Brahminy Kite have ranges dramatically limited by their dependence on particular habitats and types of prey The Australian Bird Watcher Bulletin of the British Ornithologists' Club British Ornithologists' Club, London, 1998 Oueensland's Threatened Animals Lee K. Curtis, 2012 Queensland is home to 70% of Australia's native mammals 226 species over 70% of native birds 630 species just over half of the nation's native reptiles 485 and native frogs 127 and more than 11 000 native plant species Hundreds of these have a threatened status In order for Queensland to maintain and recover a healthy biodiversity Australians must address the serious problems faced by their natural environment habitat loss inappropriate land management change in fire regimes pollution of natural resources proliferation of invasive species and climate change This comprehensive and practical guide to Queensland's threatened animals features up to date distribution data photos and maps for most of Queensland's threatened animals KEY FEATURES Includes up to date distribution data photos and maps Includes a comprehensive list of resources with key state national and international organizations involved in the recovery of threatened species Complemented by an open access website that will be updated on a regular basis Australian High Country Raptors Jerry Olsen, 2014-06-18 Australian High Country Raptors covers raptor species that regularly breed in the high country above 600 metres from Goulburn in New South Wales down to the hills outside Melbourne Victoria Author Jerry Olsen explores the nature of these striking animals that are classified as Accipitriformes diurnal hawks falcons kites and eagles Falconiformes and Strigiformes nocturnal owls Comparisons between these high country raptors and lower elevation breeders are also provided in addition to comparisons with raptors found overseas especially from North America and Europe The book begins with a description of habitats and vegetation types in the high country and which raptors are likely to be seen in each habitat type It continues with sections on finding and watching raptors raptor identification hunting styles food breeding and behaviour and conservation Appendices provide species accounts for diurnal breeding species in the high country with basic information about their ecology distribution and conservation as well as detailed instructions about handling an injured or orphaned raptor Illustrated throughout with photographs and drawings Australian High Country Raptors offers readers a chance to look into the lives of Australia s fascinating birds of prey Raptors of the World James Ferguson-Lees, David A. Christie, 2001 Plates 1 3 illustrate representatives in flight of all 78 genera grouped by size and zoogeographical regions Neotropical Birds of Prey David Whitacre, 2013-05-15 Until recently surprisingly little has been known about the biology and behavior of tropical forest raptors including such basic aspects as diets breeding biology habitat requirements and population ecology information critical to the development of conservation efforts The Peregrine Fund conducted a significant eight year long research program on the raptor species including owls in Tikal National Park in Guatemala to learn more about Neotropical birds of prey Impressive and unprecedented in scale this pioneering research also involved the development of new methods for detecting enumerating and studying these magnificent but often elusive birds in their forest home Beautifully illustrated with photographs of previously little known species the resulting book is the most important single source for information on the lowland tropical forest raptor species found in Central America Neotropical Birds of Prey covers twenty specific species in depth including the Ornate Hawk Eagle the Barred Forest Falcon the Bat Falcon and the Mexican Wood Owl offering thorough synopses of all current knowledge regarding breeding biology and behavior diet habitat use and spatial needs Contributors to this landmark work also show how the populations fit together as a community with overlapping habitat and prey needs that can put them in competition with reptiles and mammalian carnivores as well yet differ from one another in their nesting or feeding behaviors and population dynamics The work s substantive original data offer interesting comparisons between tropical and temperate zone species and provide a basis for establishing conservation measures based on firsthand research Making available for the first time new data on the biology ecology behavior and conservation of the majestic owls and raptors of the New World tropics this book will appeal to a wide ornithological readership especially the many raptor enthusiasts around the world Australian Falcons Stephen Debus, 2022-11-02 Falcons are stunning and iconic birds Australia has six falcon species with two endemic to the continent and two others endemic to the Australasian region They are important indicators of the health of our ecosystems due to their position at the top of the food chain But several species are declining with two species threatened in some states In Australian Falcons Ecology Behaviour and Conservation Dr Stephen Debus provides a 30 year update of knowledge on these six species as well as a falcon like hawk the Black shouldered Kite This book is based partly on the author's field studies as well as being a supplement to the Handbook of Australian New Zealand and Antarctic Birds HANZAB and recent global treatises It offers up to date information on the Australian species including their behaviours ecology and biology It reviews their population status and threats and suggests what needs to be done to ensure the future of these spectacular birds Australian Falcons is an invaluable resource for raptor biologists birdwatchers wildlife rescuers and carers raptor rehabilitators and zookeepers Corella .2004 Raptor Research and Management Techniques Keith L. Bildstein, David Michael Bird, 2007 Think about how we know about past events in human history e g the expansion of the Roman Empire or the American Revolution What types of records document those events Now think about Earth's history specifically the past environmental or climatic conditions at times before recorded human history What records might there be of such conditions Make a list of your ideas n assemblage of five major types of natural archives of Earth's environmental and climatic history What common feature s do each of these paleoclimate archives share an assemblage of 5 major types of natural records or archives of Earth's environmental and climatic history Just like a diary or other historical document the layers in these natural archives contain indirect evidence i e proxies about past conditions and events recorded in a sequential order The evidence is specific to a certain time period and may be general or very detailed depending on the rate that information was recorded The faster the rate at which the recorder grew trees and corals accumulated snow and ice or was deposited sedimentary sequences the more detailed the record is and the higher its resolution For example a record in which an annual signal can observed has a very high resolution In contrast if the finest observable details are on the order of a million years then that record would have a low resolution
