Bismarck Episode:

Killing the Bismarck Iain Ballantyne, 2014-05-19 An excellent account A suspenseful narrative that will keep readers on the edge of their seats WWII History Magazine In May 1941 the German battleship Bismarck accompanied by heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen broke out into the Atlantic to attack Allied shipping The Royal Navy's pursuit and subsequent destruction of Bismarck was an epic of naval warfare In this new account of those dramatic events at the height of the Second World War Iain Ballantyne draws extensively on the graphic eyewitness testimony of veterans to construct a thrilling story mainly from the point of view of the British battleships cruisers and destroyers involved He describes the tense atmosphere as cruisers play a lethal cat and mouse game shadowing Bismarck in the icy Denmark Strait We witness the shocking destruction of the British battle cruiser Hood in which all but three of her ship's complement were killed an event that filled pursuing Royal Navy warships including the battered battleship Prince of Wales with a thirst for revenge While Swordfish torpedo bombers try desperately to cripple the Bismarck we sail in destroyers on their own daring torpedo attacks battling mountainous seas Finally the author takes us into the final showdown as battleships Rodney and King George V supported by cruisers Norfolk and Dorsetshire destroy the pride of Hitler's fleet This vivid superbly researched account portrays this epic saga through the eyes of so called ordinary sailors caught up in extraordinary events conveying the horror and majesty of war at sea in all its cold brutality and awesome power

Bismarck Jim Crossley, 2010-11-08 When the German Battleship Bismarck was commissioned in 1940 she was one of the fastest and most powerful ships afloat To the Royal Navy and the security of Allied shipping in the Atlantic she posed an enormous threat she must be destroyed When she broke out into the Atlantic in 1941 some of Britain's most powerful ships were sent to pursue and sink her The first encounter proved disastrous for the British Battleship HMS Hood which was sunk at 0800 on 24 May Bismarck had sustained several hits from HMS Prince of Wales but the Royal Navy were unsure of the extent of the damage and whether she would attempt to return to Germany for major repairs or sail for France to lick her wounds Previous written accounts suggest that the whereabouts and course of Bismarck were unknown to the Allies until discovered by an RAF Catalina at 1030 on 26 May This was followed an hour later by the arrival of a Fairey Swordfish flying off HMS Ark Royal This aircraft hit the Bismarck with her torpedo and severely damaged her steering gear It was now only a matter of time before the full firepower of the British capital ships would close in and destroy Germany's greatest ship This new book revises previous theory of the events in which earlier publications have failed to reveal the full extent of the capabilities of both British and German Radar or the significance of British ULTRA signal intercepts

Bismarck Arthur Williams, The battleship Bismarck represented the pinnacle of German naval engineering and the embodiment of Nazi Germany's ambitions to challenge British supremacy on the high seas during World War II Launched in 1939 as the lead ship of her class Bismarck was designed to be the most powerful and technologically advanced warship in the world incorporating lessons learned from previous naval conflicts while pushing the boundaries of what was possible in terms of firepower armor protection and operational capability Her construction marked Germany's return to major naval power after the restrictions imposed by the Treaty of Versailles while her brief but dramatic operational career would demonstrate both the potential and limitations of surface warships in an era increasingly dominated by aircraft and submarines The strategic context that led to Bismarck's creation emerged from Germany's recognition that any future conflict with Britain would require the ability to threaten British maritime communications and challenge the Royal Navy's control of the Atlantic sea lanes that were vital for Britain's survival as an island nation The German Navy's Plan Z developed in the late 1930s envisioned a balanced fleet of battleships cruisers and submarines that could contest British naval supremacy through a combination of fleet actions and commerce raiding operations Bismarck was conceived as the centerpiece of this naval expansion designed to outclass any existing British battleship while providing the firepower and protection necessary for independent operations in the hostile waters of the North Atlantic

The Bismarck Episode Russell Grenfell, 1957      Special Bibliographic Series US Army Military History Research Collection, 1978      Bletchley Park's Secret Source Peter Hore, 2021-03-23 A captivating history of the highly secret group of women who helped win the Second World War The World War II codebreaking station at Bletchley is well known and its activities documented in detail Its decryption capabilities were vital to the war effort significantly aiding Allied victory But where did the messages being deciphered come from in the first place This is the extraordinary untold story of the Y Service a secret even more closely guarded than Bletchley Park The Y Service was the code for the chain of wireless intercept stations around Britain and all over the world Hundreds of wireless operators many of them who were civilians listened to German Italian and Japanese radio networks and meticulously logged everything they heard Some messages were then used tactically but most were sent on to Station X Bletchley Park where they were deciphered translated and consolidated to build a comprehensive overview of the enemy's movements and intentions Peter Hore delves into the fascinating history of the Y service with particular reference to the girls of the Women's Royal Naval Service Wrens who escaped from Singapore to Colombo as the war raged only to be torpedoed in the Atlantic on their way back to Britain the woman who had a devastatingly true premonition that disaster would strike on her way to Gibraltar the Australian who went from being captain of the English Women's Cricket team to a WWII Wren to the head of Abbotleigh girls school in Sydney how the Y service helped to hunt the German battleship Bismarck in the North Atlantic and how it helped to torpedo a Japanese cruiser in the Indian Ocean Together these incredible stories build a picture of World War II as it has never been viewed before We get to see how the work of individual Wrens helped in such operations as the interception and sinking of the Bismarck the Slapton Sands disaster several naval battles Channel Dash Matapan etc the ongoing small warship clashes in coastal waters convoy defense and more A good read for anyone interested in the naval side of the war in Europe or in the role of women in military service The NYMAS Review Will reward a patient reader with a remarkably intimate view into the lives and times of these hidden heroes Naval Historical

Foundation     The Battle of the Denmark Strait Daniel Knowles,2020-10-04 Dawn 24 May 1941 two groups of ships one British one German meet in the Denmark Strait Here two giants of maritime history HMS Hood and the Bismarck meet Within minutes of the battle beginning HMS Hood blows up with a catastrophic loss of life Out of a crew of 1 418 only three survive Coupled with this the Royal Navy s newest battleship is outfought While this is a cause of celebration for the Germans Bismarck has been wounded curtailing her Atlantic raiding sortie Despite the wealth of documentary information and photographic evidence available on the battle there continues to be controversy as to how the conflict was actually fought This book analyses the events of 24 May 1941 to both shed new light and provide clarifications on how the battle was fought the damage that different ships sustained and how it was that the pride of the Royal Navy was destroyed in such a catastrophic manner     Tirpitz Daniel Knowles,2018-04-17     The End of Glory Bruce Taylor,2012-04-03 The career of the legendary British battlecruiser is vividly recounted from its commissioning to its tragic end in this naval history The HMS Hood was the glory of the Royal Navy In The End of Glory historian Bruce Taylor combines in depth research and thrilling narrative to tell its story For twenty years Hood symbolized the Royal Navy during the twilight years of the British Empire Yet in 1941 it was destroyed in seconds by the battleship Bismarck a catastrophe that shattered the morale the British public Through official documents as well as the personal accounts and reminiscences of more than 150 crewmen this volume offers a vivid portrait of this naval icon An insider s view of a warship in peace and war The End of Glory not only paints an intimate picture of everyday life but deals with controversial issues such as the Invergordon mutiny escapades ashore and afloat the Christmas mutiny of 1940 and the terrible conditions onboard in war This coverage based on so many original sources makes for a truly compelling story that neither historian enthusiast nor general reader will find easy to put down     The Luftwaffe and the War at Sea David C. Isby,2017-11-30 The Luftwaffe and the War at Sea is a collection of fascinating accounts written by German military officers both Kriegsmarine and Luftwaffe about the naval war in the air in the North Atlantic and around Great Britain Most of the documents were written immediately post war as part of the Allied debriefing programme However some are wartime German originals produced for internal use by military staff but all have the value of immediacy they were written when memories were fresh and in many cases by those who were directly caught up in the action These men were personally involved in all aspects of the German attempts to control the seas through maritime power from the use of Ju 87 Stuka dive bombers during the invasion of Norway to the missions of FW 200 Condors in cooperation with the U boat campaign against Britain s Atlantic lifelines The writers include such well known names as Grossadmiral Karl Doenitz Kontreadmiral Gerhard Wagner General der Flieger Ulrich O E Kessler and Vizeadmiral Eberhard Weichold The history recounted in these reports is unique and first hand allowing the reader a fresh perspective on those famous campaigns Furthermore much of that wartime experience was harnessed during the formation of the Bundesmarine s Marineflieger in the 1950s that then served throughout the Cold War Today it still participates in the global war on terror with its Atlantic
