Mckay, Patrick Buckridge, 2011-05-14 By the Book is an indispensable history of the literature of Queensland from its establishment as a separate colony in the mid nineteenth century through major economic political and cultural transformations to the beginning of the twenty first century Queensland figures in the Australian imagination as a frontier a place of wild landscapes and wilder politics but also as Australia's playground a soft tourist paradise of warm weather and golden beaches Based partly on real historical divergences from the rest of Australia these contradictory images have been questioned and scrutinised in Queensland literature for 150 years and writers today maintain that complicated imaginative relationship with the idea of Queensland as both different and paradoxical By the Book looks at Queensland literature in terms of its regional cultures while also devoting chapters to Indigenous writing writing for children and travel writing In the process it rediscovers lost literary traditions and forgotten writers to stir the imagination Re evaluations of early writers like Rosa Praed and George Essex Evans set contemporary writers like David Malouf Janette Turner Hospital and Venero Armano in a new context Bigger Or Better? Ian Lowe, 2012 A comprehensive and detailed analysis of the controversial debate about Australia's population numbers this book clarifies the subject and addresses the many misconceptions It provides a historic account of Australia's population growth and a study of official data while examining the components of that growth in detail including birth rates and immigration as well as the more recent trend of an aging population In addition this thorough account also discusses the motives of the interested parties both those who promote population growth and those who argue against it Education and the UN Sustainable Development Goals Kim Beasy, Caroline Smith, Jane Watson, 2023-11-02 This book focuses on the complex relationship between education and the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and highlights how important context is for both critiquing and achieving the Goals though education given the critical role teachers schools and curriculum play in young people's lives Readers will find examples of thinking and practice across the spectrum of education and training sectors both formal and informal The book adds to the increasing body of literature that recognises that education is and must be in its praxis at the heart of all the SDGs As we enter the third decade of the 21st century we have a clear understanding of the wicked and complex crises regarding the health of life on our planet and we cannot ignore the high levels of anxiety our young people are experiencing about their future Continuing in the direction of unsustainable exploitation of people and nature is no longer an option if life is to have a flourishing future The book illustrates how SDGs are supported in and by education and training showcasing the conditions necessary to ensure SDGs are fore fronted in policy reform It includes real world examples of SDGs in education and training contexts as well as novel critiques of the SDGs in regard to their privileging of anthropocentrism and neoliberalism This book is beneficial to academics researchers post graduate and tertiary students from all fields relating to education and training It is also of interest to policy developers from across disciplines and government agencies who are interested in how the SDGs relate to education

The Literary Mirroring of Aboriginal Australia and the Caribbean Dashiell Moore, 2025-05-15

The Literary Mirroring of Aboriginal Australia and the Caribbean challenges the structural opposition of indigeneity and creolisation through a historical and literary analysis of the connections between the First and Last of the New Worlds Australia and the Caribbean Dashiell Moore explores the continuities between indigenous and creole lifeworlds in the work of renowned Caribbean writers such as douard Glissant Wilson Harris Sylvia Wynter and Kamau Brathwaite and prominent Aboriginal Australian writers including Alexis Wright Ali Cobby Eckermann and Lionel Fogarty Common to these authors is their reimagining of the inter colonial other as a mirror image This image achieved through opacity and projection visualises in creative ways both the movement to indigenisation in post independence Caribbean literature and the inter indigenous encounters of Aboriginal Australian literature By upending the antipodean relationship of the Caribbean and Australia this groundbreaking study offers radically new perspectives on the world generated by literary relation

A Companion to Australian Aboriginal Literature Belinda Wheeler, 2013. This international collection of eleven original essays on Australian Aboriginal literature provides a comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars, researchers, students, and general readers. Australian Aboriginal literature, once relegated to the margins of Australian literary studies, now receives both national and international attention. Not only has the number of published texts by contemporary Australian Aboriginals risen sharply, but scholars and publishers have also recently begun recovering earlier published and unpublished Indigenous works. Writing by Australian Aboriginals is making a decisive impression in fiction, autobiography, biography, poetry, film, drama, and music, and has recently been anthologized in Oceania and North America. Until now, however, there has been no comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars, researchers, students, and general readers. This international collection of eleven original essays fills this gap by discussing crucial aspects of Australian Aboriginal literature and tracing the development of Aboriginal literacy from the oral tradition up until today, contextualizing the work of Aboriginal artists and writers and exploring aspects of Aboriginal life writing, such as obstacles toward publishing, questions of editorial control, or the lack thereof, intergenerational and interracial collaborations, combining oral history and life writing, and the pros and cons of translation into European languages.

Indigenous Postgraduate Education Karen Trimmer, Debra Hoven, Pigga Keskitalo, 2020-06-01. This book focuses on Indigenous participation in postgraduate education. The collaborating editors from the contexts of Australian, Canadian, and Nordic postgraduate education have brought together voices of Indigenous postgraduate students and researchers about strategies to support postgraduate education for Indigenous students globally and to promote sustainable, solution-focused and change-focused strategies to support Indigenous postgraduate students. The role of higher education institutions in meeting the needs of Indigenous students is considered by contributing scholars, including issues related to postgraduate education, pedagogies, flexible learning, and technologies. On a more fundamental level, the book provides a valuable resource by giving voice to Indigenous postgraduate students themselves, who share directly the stories of their experience, their inspirations, and difficulties in undertaking postgraduate study. This component of the book gives precedence to the issues most relevant and important to students themselves for consideration by universities and researchers. Bringing the topic and the voices of Indigenous students clearly into the public domain provides a catalyst for discussion of the issues and potential strategies to assist future Indigenous postgraduate students This book will assist higher education providers to develop understanding of how Indigenous postgraduate students and researchers negotiate research cultures and agendas that permeate higher education from the past to ensure the experience of postgraduate students is both rich in regard to data to be collected and culturally safe in approach what connections gaps and contradictions occur at the intersections between past models of postgraduate study and emerging theories around intercultural perspectives including the impact of cultural and linguistic differences on Indigenous students learning experiences how Indigenous students and researchers personal and professional understandings beliefs and experiences about what typifies knowledge and research or adds value to postgraduate studies are constructed shared or challenged and how higher education institutions manage the potential challenges and risks of developing pedagogies to ensure that they give voice and power to Indigenous postgraduate students Locating Australian Literary Memory Brigid
