Bitter Flowers Sweet Flowers East Timor Indonesia And The World Community:

Bitter Flowers, Sweet Flowers Richard Tanter, Mark Selden, Stephen Rosskamm Shalom, 2001 The contributors a mix of scholars and activists explore the dynamics of East Timor's long struggle for independence and show how the case of East Timor both during and after the Cold War provides a litmus test for issues of international responsibility and reconciliation

Geographic Thought George L. Henderson, Marvin Waterstone, 2009 This unabridged reader offers a fresh approach to learning about Geographic Thought by showing through concrete examples and detailed editorial essays how the discipline has been forever altered by the rise of progressive social struggles of the last 30 years

Social Democracy in East Timor Rebecca Strating, 2015-10-05 Since the end of the Cold War considerable scholarly debates have been devoted to the nature and scope of international state building interventions in fragile post colonial states and their effectiveness in instituting democratic rule By examining the construction of political institutions in East Timor this book highlights the relationship between the social and political realms during these processes Focusing on the roles of East Timorese leaders and civil society organisations during the independence movement it analyses the effectiveness of democracy building in East Timor It examines the processes of drafting the new constitution establishing key political institutions such as the electoral system and articulating a new vision of citizenship and social justice The book argues that East Timor offers a relatively successful case of democratic transition enabled by a consistent set of goals and aspirations grassroots political legitimacy and participation and the development of a democratic civil nation Offering a coherent argument for why democracy has been successful in East Timor and the roles of political leaders and civil society during democratic transition this book will be of interest to those studying Southeast Asian Politics International Politics and Democracy

Colonial Armies in Southeast Asia Tobias Rettig, Karl Hack, 2005-12-21 Colonial Armies in Southeast Asia offers the reader an accessible journey through Southeast Asia from pre colonial times to the present day with themes ranging from conquest and management to decolonization

The Internet in Indonesia's New Democracy David T. Hill, Krishna Sen, 2005-06-28 The Internet in Indonesia's New Democracy is a detailed study of legal economic political and cultural practices surrounding the provision and consumption of the Internet in Indonesia at the turn of the twenty first century Hill and Sen detail the emergence of the Internet into Indonesia in the mid 1990s and cover its growth through the dramatic economic and political crises of 1997 and the subsequent transition to democracy Conceptually the Internet is seen as a global phenomenon with global implications however this book develops a way of thinking about the Internet within the limits of geo political categories of nations and provinces The political turmoil in Indonesia provides a unique context in which to understand the specific local and national consequences of a global universal technology

Contending Orders Geoffrey Swenson, 2022-10-14 In Contending Orders Geoffrey Swenson proposes a new way to understand how state and non state authorities interact by exploring the full range of legally pluralist environments combative competitive cooperative and complementary Drawing upon insights from Afghanistan and Timor Leste two countries with extensive legal pluralism he identifies and critically examines commonly used strategies in legally pluralistic environments Swenson also illustrates how national and international actors can better engage non state justice systems

Places of Pain and Shame William Logan, Keir Reeves, 2008-12-05 Places of Pain and Shame is a cross cultural study of sites that represent painful and or shameful episodes in a national or local community s history and the ways that government agencies heritage professionals and the communities themselves seek to remember commemorate and conserve these cases or conversely choose to forget them Such episodes and locations include massacre and genocide sites places related to prisoners of war civil and political prisons and places of benevolent internment such as leper colonies and lunatic asylums These sites bring shame upon us now for the cruelty and futility of the events that occurred within them and the ideologies they represented They are however increasingly being regarded as heritage sites a far cry from the view of heritage that prevailed a generation ago when we were almost entirely concerned with protecting the great and beautiful creations of the past reflections of the creative genius of humanity rather than the reverse the destructive and cruel side of history Why has this shift occurred and what implications does it have for professionals practicing in the heritage field In what ways is this a difficult heritage to deal with This volume brings together academics and practitioners to explore these questions covering not only some of the practical matters but also the theoretical and conceptual issues and uses case studies of historic places museums and memorials from around the globe including the United States Northern Ireland Poland South Africa China Japan Taiwan Cambodia Indonesia Timor and Australia

Human Rights in Asia Thomas W.D. Davis, Brian Galligan, 2011-01-01 Does the increasing prominence of Asia also mark a new era for human rights in the region This timely book uncovers the political drivers behind both recent regional and country based changes to the recognition promotion and protection of rights Human Rights in Asia focuses on the relationships between political regimes institutions and cultures and external actors such as international organisations NGOs and business The contributing authors provide important discussions on Burma Cambodia China India Indonesia Malaysia Singapore Thailand and the Phillipines Thematic chapters then go on to frame these individually focused contributions by examining the international pressure to normalise rights regimes and the relationship between Islam and rights in the region Providing a unique combination of country specific and thematic analysis this book will be a fascinating and beneficial read for postgraduate and undergraduate students in human rights and international relations as well as scholars in politics human rights international relations and government and NGO analysts

Political Symbols and National Identity in Timor-Leste Catherine E. Arthur, 2018-09-14 This book explores how national identity has been negotiated and re imagined through the political symbols that embody it in post conflict Timor Leste It develops a Modernist approach to nations and nationalism by incorporating Bourdieusian theories of symbolic capital and conflict to examine how national identity has been constructed and represented in political symbols Taking case studies of flags monuments national heroes and street art it critically analyses how a diverse population has interpreted and re constructed its national identity throughout the first decade of independence and how the transition from a context of conflict to peace has influenced such popular imaginings By examining these processes of identification with a wide range of symbols the book discusses the numerous challenges that this young nation state still faces including victimhood and recognition democratization and electoral politics the political role of cosmology and spirituality and post colonial generational differences and divisions

Transitional Justice Alexander Laban Hinton, 2011 The origins of this project date back to a 2007 symposium Local justice global mechanisms and local meanings in the aftermath of mass atrocity held at Rutgers University Newark N J Several participants later presented papers in a session at the July 2007 meeting of the International Association of Genocide Scholars which was held in Bosnia and Herzegovina Acknowledgments

Bilingual Education and Language Policy in the Global South Jo Arthur Shoba, Feliciano Chimbutane, 2013-07-18 This volume considers a range of ways in which bilingual programs can make a contribution to aspects of human and economic development in the global South The authors examine the consequences of different policies programs and pedagogies for learners and local communities through recent ethnographic research on these topics The revitalization of minority languages and local cultural practices management of linguistic and cultural diversity and promotion of equal opportunities both social and economic are all explored in this light

The Dead as Ancestors, Martyrs, and Heroes in Timor-Leste Lia Kent, Rui Feijo, 2025-10-01 During the 24 year Indonesian occupation of East Timor thousands of people died or were killed in circumstances that did not allow the required death rituals to be performed Since the nation's independence families and communities have invested considerable time effort and resources in fulfilling their obligations to the dead These obligations are imbued with urgency because the dead are ascribed agency and can play a benevolent or malevolent role in the lives of the living These grassroots initiatives run sometimes critically in parallel with official programs that seek to transform particular dead bodies into public symbols of heroism sacrifice and nationhood The Dead as Ancestors Martyrs and Heroes in Timor Leste focuses on the dynamic interplay between the potent presence of the dead in everyday life and their symbolic usefulness to the state It underlines how the dead shape relationships amongst families communities and the nation state and open an important window into are in fact pivotal to processes of state and nation formation

Occupying the "Other" Robin Gerster, Christine de Matos, 2009-01-14 In late 1945 Australia eagerly put up its hand to join the American led military occupation of war devastated Japan the old enemy was still hated yet the Australian involvement was motivated by ideals of democratic reconstruction rather than retribution In the age of Iraq when Australia has again participated in a US occupation of a rogue non Western state humbled in war it is time to consider troubling questions surrounding the nation's engagement in contentious overseas occupations Can Western conceptions of democracy be imposed militarily on other societies To what extent has Australia's willingness to support the United States been an expression of independent policy making or meek acquiescence in the neocolonial imperatives of the global superpower How do occupations differ When does intervention become occupation To what extent are entrenched cultural attitudes to race and religion a factor in decisions to occupy and on how these occupations are perceived at home And how has the Australian media influenced public attitudes to these ventures This collection of essays by leading Australian academics and commentators places Australia's historical role as an occupier on the critical map Now as the country juggles complex national regional and international alliances and obligations this conversation is as compelling as it is belated

Land and Life in Timor-Leste Andrew McWilliam, Elizabeth G. Traube, 2011-12-01 Following the historic 1999 popular referendum East Timor emerged as the first independent sovereign nation of the 21st Century The years since these momentous events have seen an efflorescence of social research across the country drawn by shared interests in the aftermath of the resistance struggle the processes of social recovery and the historic opportunity to pursue field based ethnography following the hiatus of research during 24 years of Indonesian rule 1975-99 This volume brings together a collection of papers from a diverse field of international scholars exploring the multiple ways that East Timorese communities are making and remaking their connections to land and places of ancestral significance The work is explicitly comparative and highlights the different ways Timorese language communities negotiate access and transactions in land disputes and inheritance especially in areas subject to historical displacement and resettlement Consideration is extended to the role of ritual performance and social alliance for inscribing connection and entitlement Emerging through analysis is an appreciation of how relations to land articulated in origin discourses are implicated in the construction of national culture and differential contributions to the struggle for independence The volume is informed by a range of Austronesian cultural themes and highlights the continuing vitality of customary governance and landed attachment in Timor Leste

Exchange Pierre Lagayette, 2005 Recueil de textes sur le change culturel symbolique ou matériel Les auteurs montrent que les changes peuvent constituer le fondement de l'entente entre les peuples Des textes analysent cette pratique dans le cadre de relations ethniques clairant la situation des Indiens notamment en Californie et au Mexique

Regime-Building Oisín Tansey, 2009-05-21 This book is a study of regime change in the context of international administration where the United Nations and other multilateral organisations hold temporary executive authority at the domestic level Work on the politics of state building has highlighted how these administration operations can influence nearly every aspect of politics in the country or territory in which they are deployed This book concentrates in particular on the regime building practices of these missions and examines the aims and influences of international administrations in the area of democratic development as well as their ultimate impact on the process of regime change Through a comparative analysis of events in Bosnia Kosovo and East Timor the book demonstrates how external actors assume positions of power conventionally held by domestic elites and in so doing gain the ability to affect democratic development in ways unavailable to international actors in more conventional settings In particular the case studies highlight the ways in which the democracy promotion objectives of international administrators can have both positive and negative effects on democratization processes with the presence of international authorities helping to rule out non democratic options in some areas while at times undermining democratic development in others The book identifies the key international actors involved highlights the mechanisms of influence available to them in these contexts and explores the crucial mediating role of domestic actors and structures Oxford Studies in Democratization is a series for scholars and students of comparative politics and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on the comparative study of the democratization process that accompanied the decline and termination of the cold war The geographical focus of the series is primarily Latin America the Caribbean Southern and Eastern Europe and relevant experiences in Africa and Asia The series editor is Laurence Whitehead Official Fellow Nuffield College University of Oxford

Nation-Building and National Identity in Timor-Leste Michael Leach,2016-12-08 This book examines the history of nation building and national identity in Timor Leste and the evolution of a collective identity through two consecutive colonial occupations and into the post independence era

Struggling for Self Reliance Bob Breen,2008-10-01 Military force projection is the self reliant capacity to strike from mainland ports bases and airfields to protect Australia s sovereignty as well as more distant national interests Force projection is not just a flex of military muscle in times of emergency or the act of dispatching forces It is a cycle of force preparation command deployment protection employment sustainment rotation redeployment and reconstitution If the Australian Defence Force consistently gets this cycle wrong then there is something wrong with Australia s defence This monograph is a force projection audit of four Australian regional force projections in the late 1980s and the 1990s valid measures of competence It concludes that Australia is running out of luck and time The Rudd Government has commissioned a new Defence White paper This monograph is Exhibit A for change

Local Consequences of the Global Cold War Jeffrey A. Engel,2007 Up to now the study of cold war history has been fully engaged in stressing the international character and broad themes of the story This volume turns such diplomatic history upside down by studying how actions of international relations affected local popular life Each chapter has its origins in a major international issue and then unfolds the consequences of that issue for some region or city Thus the starting points for the various contributions are great unifying questions regarding postwar occupation militarization industrialization and decolonization But the ending points are small and dispersed such as movies in Japan race relations in the American South forests in East Germany and industry in Novosibirsk Collectively these stories show how the cold war affected every facet of life East and West urban and rural in developed and developing nations in the superpowers and on the periphery of the international system
