

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF MALCOLM X BY MALCOLM X

If there was any one man who articulated the anger, the struggle, and the beliefs of African Americans in the 1960s, that man was Malcolm X. His “Autobiography” is the result of a unique collaboration between Alex Haley and Malcolm X, whose voice and philosophy resonate from every page, just as His experience and his intelligence continue to speak to millions. 500 pages

Black Americans In Autobiography:

Reading African American Autobiography Eric D. Lamore, 2017-01-10 From the 1760s to Barack Obama this collection offers fresh looks at classic African American life narratives highlights neglected African American lives texts and genres and discusses the diverse outpouring of twenty first century memoirs American Autobiography Paul John Eakin, 1991 The first four essays review the major historical periods of American autobiography placing the classic texts of American autobiographical literature from Captain John Smith to Malcolm X in the illuminating context of lesser known contemporary narratives Daniel B Shea writes on colonial America Lawrence Buell on the American Renaissance Susanna Egan on the years after the Civil War and Albert E Stone on the twentieth century The second part of American Autobiography shows the diversity of voices forms audiences and modes of identity in the literature of American autobiography Provocative essays by William Boelhower and Sau Ling Cynthia Wong on immigrant autobiography discuss the changes in the sense of self that occur when strangers come to a strange land Arnold Krupat writes about how American Indians conceptualize the self and about the relationship between oral and written discourse William L Andrews evaluates the strong body of critical theory that has grown up around African American autobiography showing how both the genre and its criticism have responded to contemporary historical pressures Carol Holly explores the model of personal identity that underlies nineteenth century women s autobiographies and Blanche Gelfant examines the narrative and political strategies of Emma Goldman s autobiography especially her use of popular romance and melodrama The last essay offers a more personal perspective on contemporary autobiography a dialogue between Robert and Jane Coles about how they developed their method of eliciting first person oral narratives for their famous Children of Crisis and Women of Crisis series These essays raise theoretical issues that are examined in Paul John Eakin s incisive introduction How do we define a literary genre of protean shape and perplexing cultural multiplicity How do we approach the special problems created by documents that are both historical and literary texts ones that pose difficult questions about truth and representation Most important how is the canon of American autobiography to be constructed and how is its history to be written Tracing that critical history Eakin explains how changing ideas about the mainstream and the marginal have revitalized our retrospective view of American autobiography and opened up new and exciting prospects for today s reader Act Like You Know Crispin Sartwell, 1998-07-20 Black autobiographical discourses from the earliest slave narratives to the most contemporary urban raps have each in their own way gauged and confronted the character of white society Sartwell analyses these African American writings and gains a unique perspective on and picture of white identity Back cover Education of blacks in african-american autobiographies Benjamin Gust, 2007-06-24 Seminar paper from the year 2005 in the subject American Studies Literature University of Hannover language English abstract When reading African American autobiography one is likely to notice that there are several recurring themes One might conclude that these are issues of special interest to the authors A major topic that occurs in a number of autobiographies is that of education This paper will try to analyze the role of education in the process of the emancipation of the black race Before one looks at what can be found about the issue of education of blacks in African American autobiography one should be familiar with the historical and cultural context in which it occurs This is why the paper will try to provide a brief historical overview of the development of education in America at the times before during and after the civil war After having established the historical background the paper will try to trace the occurrences of the theme of education in the autobiography of Booker T Washington and the thesis The Talented Tenth by W E B Du Bois and illustrate its importance to the authors In doing so an attempt will be made to present the reasons and intentions of the authors that made them deal with education during their lives Special attention will be paid to the efforts of Booker T Washington to establish a schooling system for blacks as well as to Du Bois concept of the Talented Tenth and its reasons Although both were actively sought to improve the education of African Americans and thereby their social status they did not share the same concepts of how this were to be achieved and they pursued different educational policies The two approaches will be analyzed and compared to each other Finally a conclusion will be drawn assessing the importance of their achievements in the ongoing fight of African Americans for equal rights and equal chances

African Americans and Jews in the Twentieth Century Vincent P. Franklin,1998 In recent scholarship academics have focused primarily on areas of conflict between Blacks and Jews yet in the long struggle to bring social justice to American society these two groups have often worked as allies in both the organized labor and the civil rights movements Demonstrating the complexity of the relationship of Blacks and Jews in America African Americans and Jews in the Twentieth Century examines the competition and solidarity that have characterized Black Jewish interactions over the past century These essays provide an intellectual foundation for cooperative efforts to improve social justice in our society and are an invaluable resource for the study of race relations in twentieth century America Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved

Western Fictions, Black Realities Isabel Soto,Violet Showers Johnson,2011 This anthology interrogates two salient concepts in studying the black experience Ushered in with the age of New World encounters modernity emerged as brutal complex and multiple from its very definition to its manifestations Equally challenging is blackness which is forever dangling between the range of uplifting articulations and insidious degradation The essays confront the conflicting confluences of these two terms Questioning Euro centric and mainstream American interpretations they reveal the diverse meanings of modernities and blackness from an equally diverse set of milieus of the black experience Interdisciplinary and wide ranging in thematic and epochal scope they use theoretical and empirical studies to demonstrate that indeed blackness is relevant for understanding modernities and vice versa

Telling Lies in Modern American Autobiography Timothy Dow Adams, 2017-10-10 All autobiographers are unreliable narrators Yet what a writer chooses to misrepresent is as telling perhaps even more so as what really happened Timothy Adams believes that autobiography is an attempt to reconcile one's life with one's self and he argues in this book that autobiography should not be taken as historically accurate but as metaphorically authentic Adams focuses on five modern American writers whose autobiographies are particularly complex because of apparent lies that permeate them In examining their stories Adams shows that lying in autobiography especially literary autobiography is not simply inevitable Rather it is often a deliberate highly strategic decision on the author's part Throughout his analysis Adams's standard is not literal accuracy but personal authenticity He attempts to resolve some of the paradoxes of recent autobiographical theory by looking at the classic question of design and truth in autobiography from the underside with a focus on lying rather than truth Originally published in 1990 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Autobiographical Occasions and Original Acts Albert E. Stone, 1982-09 Stone rescues autobiography from the thickets of recent critical theory in which the life portrayed has often seemed less important than the inventive literary techniques He argues that the techniques are important because knowledge of the life is important to our culture Restricting himself primarily to 16 writers of the 20th century Stone juxtaposes two or three figures in given chapters such as Becoming a Woman in Male America Margaret Mead and Anais Nin and Two Recreate One The Act of Collaboration in Recent Black Autobiography Ossie Guffy Nate Shaw Malcolm X Other writers considered are W E B DuBois Henry Adams Black Elk Thomas Merton Louis Sullivan Richard Wright Norman Mailer Frank Conroy and Lillian Hellman

Negotiated Memory Julie Rak, 2004 The Doukhobors Russian speaking immigrants who arrived in Canada beginning in 1899 are known primarily to the Canadian public through the sensationalist images of them as nude protestors anarchists and religious fanatics representations largely propagated by government commissions and the Canadian media In Negotiating Memory Julie Rak examines the ways in which autobiographical strategies have been employed by the Doukhobors themselves in order to retell and reclaim their own history Drawing from oral interviews court documents government reports prison diaries and media accounts Rak demonstrates how the Doukhobors employed both classic and alternative forms of autobiography to communicate their views about communal living vegetarianism activism and spiritual life as well as to pass on traditions to successive generations More than a historical work this book brings together recent theories concerning subjectivity autobiography and identity and shows how Doukhobor autobiographical discourse forms a series of ongoing negotiations for identity and collective survival that are sometimes successful and sometimes not An innovative study Negotiating Memory will appeal to those interested in autobiography studies as well as to historians literary critics and students and scholars of Canadian cultural studies

A History of African American Autobiography Joycelyn Moody, 2021-07-22 This History explores innovations in African American autobiography since its inception examining the literary and cultural history of Black self representation amid life writing studies By analyzing the different forms of autobiography including pictorial and personal essays editorials oral histories testimonials diaries personal and open letters and even poetry performance media of autobiographies this book extends the definition of African American autobiography revealing how people of African descent have created and defined the Black self in diverse print cultures and literary genres since their arrival in the Americas It illustrates ways African Americans use life writing and autobiography to address personal and collective Black experiences of identity family memory fulfillment racism and white supremacy Individual chapters examine scrapbooks as a source of self documentation African American autobiography for children readings of African American persona poems mixed race life writing after the Civil Rights Movement and autobiographies by African American LGBTQ writers
