Black Battalion The 1916/1920 Canada's Best Kept Military Secret:

Shoestring Soldiers Andrew Iarocci, 2008-01-01 The Great War was a pivotal experience for twentieth century Canada. Shoestring Soldiers is the first scholarly study since 1938 to focus exclusively on Canada's initial overseas experience from late 1914 to the end of 1915. In this exciting new work, Andrew Iarocci challenges the dominant view that the 1st Canadian Division was poorly prepared for war in 1914 and less than effective during battles in 1915. He examines the first generations of men to serve overseas with the division: their training, leadership, morale, and combat operations from Salisbury Plain to the Ypres Salient, from the La Bassée Canal to Ploegsteert Wood. Iarocci contends that setbacks and high losses in battle were not so much the products of poor training and weak leadership as they were of inadequate material resources on the Western Front. Shoestring Soldiers incorporates a wealth of research material from official documents, soldiers' letters, and diaries, and the battlefields themselves surveyed extensively by the author. It marks an important contribution to the growing body of literature on Canada in the First World War.

The African Canadian Legal Odyssey Barrington Walker, 2012-01-01 The African Canadian Legal Odyssey explores the history of African Canadians and the law from the era of slavery until the early twenty-first century. This collection demonstrates that the social history of Blacks in Canada has always been inextricably bound to questions of law, and that the role of the law in shaping Black life was often ambiguous and shifted over time.

Comprised of eleven engaging chapters organized both thematically and chronologically, it includes a substantive introduction that provides a synthesis and overview of this complex history. This outstanding collection will appeal to both advanced specialists and undergraduate students and makes an important contribution to an emerging field of scholarly inquiry.

Living with War Robert Teigrob, 2016-01-01 In Living with War, Robert Teigrob examines how war is experienced and remembered on both sides of the 49th parallel.

Africa's Children Sharon Robart-Johnson, 2009-11-23 This extensively researched history traces the lives of black families of the Yarmouth area of Nova Scotia who still enslaved at the time arrived with the influx of black loyalists and landed in Shelburne in 1783.

Oliver Jones Marthe Sansregret, 2006-01-01 Born in Montreal, Oliver Jones performed his first piano concert at five years old. He has become one of the most celebrated representatives of the Montreal Jazz Festival and a worldwide musical ambassador for Canada on many international tours. This exclusive authorized biography begins with his roots: the enslavement of his African ancestors and immigration of his parents to Canada from Barbados, and takes us to the present. Oliver Jones has received many awards to recognize his achievements both as a musician and as a human being: the Martin Luther King Award, a Juno Award, the Cool Jazz Award of the Izzy Asper Foundation, the Order of Canada, the Order of Quebec, the Oscar Peterson Award, the Governor General's Performing Arts Award, and in 2006 two National Jazz Awards: Best Jazz Keyboard of the Year and Best CD with Raneé Lee for their album Just You Just Me.

Tours Inside the Snow Globe Tonya K. Davidson, 2024-05-16 The toppling of monuments globally in the last few years has highlighted the potency of monuments as dynamic and affectively loaded participants in society In the context of Ottawa Canada's capital city monuments inspire colonial and imperial nostalgia compelling visitors to consistently re-imagine Canada as a white Anglophone nation built through the labour of white men politicians soldiers and businessmen At the same time Ottawa monuments allow for dominant affective relationships to the nation to be challenged demonstrated through subtle and explicit forms of defacement and other interactions that compel us to remember colonial violence pacifism violence against women racism Organized as a series of walking tours throughout Ottawa the chapters in Tours Inside the Snow Globe demonstrate the affective capacities of monuments and highlight how these monuments have ongoing relationships with their sites the city other monuments and local deliberate national and casual communities of users The tours focus on the lives of a monument to an unnamed Indigenous scout the National War Memorial Enclave the Women's Monument and the Canadian Tribute to Human Rights Two of the tours offer analyses of the ambivalent representations of women and Indigeneity in Ottawa's statue landscape

No Insignificant Part Timothy J. Stapleton, 2006-04-21 No Insignificant Part The Rhodesia Native Regiment and the East Africa Campaign of the First World War is the first history of the only primarily African military unit from Zimbabwe to fight in the First World War Recruited from the migrant labour network most African soldiers in the RNR were originally miners or farm workers from what are now Zimbabwe Zambia Mozambique and Malawi Like others across the world they joined the army for a variety of reasons chief among them a desire to escape low pay and horrible working conditions The RNR participated in some of the key engagements of the German East Africa campaign's later phase subsisting on extremely meager rations and suffering from tropical diseases and exhaustion Because they were commanded by a small group of European officers most of whom were seconded from the Native Affairs Department and the British South Africa Police the regiment was dominated by racism It was not unusual for black soldiers but never white ones to be publicly flogged for alleged theft or insubordination Although it remained in the field longer than all white units and some of its members received some of Britain's highest decorations the Rhodesia Native Regiment was quickly disbanded after the war and conveniently forgotten by the colonial establishment Southern Rhodesia's white settler minority partly on the strength of its wartime sacrifice was given political control of the territory through a racially exclusive form of self-government but black RNR veterans received little support or recognition No Insignificant Part takes a new look at an old campaign and will appeal to scholars of African or military history interested in the First World War

I Am Brother Oji Mello Ayo, 2022-03-31 In November 1989 the Royal Ontario Museum staged a controversial exhibit called Into The Heart of Africa This sparked a protest demonstration that proved to be a life-changing experience for many The youth-led outcry for change became a landmark in Ontario's race relations leading to an upheaval so impactful it altered the course of history for museums worldwide becoming in effect a milestone in the way museums mount and curate exhibits

Thirty one years later for the first time the authorized biography of one of the main protagonists Adisa Oji the only demonstrator to be imprisoned for his actions is being told publicly Few people know of his courageous story a young man who heroically stood up against institutionalized racist practices and was punished His up until now unknown personal history sheds irrefutable light on the current public and global agitation regarding race and racism and compels us to honestly re examine the long lasting tragic effects of colonialism and slavery This biography fills an important gap even for those who may be familiar with the Royal Ontario Museum episode while providing an informative gripping history for those who may not In a world where the significant contributions of people of African ancestry are most often overlooked or given short thrift I AM Brother Oji honours and highlights for global recognition the life leadership and legacy of a young Canadian of African Caribbean descent who distinguished himself during a time of social controversy Adisa S Oji s extraordinary story provides a window of illumination on how to break cycles of oppression and exploitation His story is a source of fresh and thoughtful insight into what it means to be a person of African ancestry living in a predominantly white European milieu and calls attention to the effectiveness of efforts directed at addressing racial discrimination inequity and injustice With the help of abundant amounts of photographs Mello Ayo as narrator and social commentator weaves a vivid beautiful story of uncompromising triumph and self empowerment While the ROM episode provides a point of departure the unflinching narrative goes beyond and connects the past with the present to create an enchanting hero s journey transiting through the sociopolitical and historical landscapes of Jamaica Canada and Ghana At a time when many young people are becoming disenchanted slumping into alienation and learned helplessness or collapsing into sub cultures of violence a look at how one young man kept his youthful optimism alive and how he refused to become a victim while making a positive difference is deserving of our attention
