Sport and Sociology Dominic Malcolm, 2012-03-15 Offering a state of the art review of the sociology of sport and investigating those areas where sport has come to influence the sociological mainstream this book examines how sociology has impacted upon the consciousness of sports fans administrators and even politicians As the first book to provide a history of the sociology of sport and to clearly locate the contemporary discipline in the wider currents of sociological discourse Sport and Sociology is important reading for all students and scholars interested in the relationship between sport and society whether they are working in sport studies or in the sociological mainstream

Black British Drama Michael Pearce, 2017-07-14 Black British Drama A Transnational Story looks afresh at the ways black theatre in Britain is connected to and informed by the spaces of Africa the Caribbean and the USA Michael Pearce offers an exciting new approach to reading modern and contemporary black British drama examining plays by a range of writers including Michael Abbensetts Mustapha Matura Caryl Phillips Winsome Pinnock Kwame Kwei Armah Debbie Tucker Green Roy Williams and Bola Agbaje Chapters combine historical documentation and discussion with close analysis to provide an in depth absorbing account of post war black British drama situated within global and transnational circuits A significant contribution to black British and black diaspora theatre studies Black British Drama is a must read for scholars and students in this evolving field The Routledge Companion to Race and Ethnicity Stephen M. Caliendo, Charlton D. McIlwain, 2010-11-17 The Routledge Companion to Race and Ethnicity is a comprehensive guide to the increasingly relevant broad and ever changing terrain of studies surrounding race and ethnicity Comprising a series of essays and a critical dictionary of key names and terms written by respected scholars from a range of academic disciplines this book provides a thought provoking introduction to the field and covers The history and relationship between race and ethnicity The impact of colonialism and post colonialism Emerging concepts of whiteness Changing political and social implications of race Race and ethnicity as components of identity The interrelatedness and intersectionality of race and ethnicity with gender and sexual orientation Globalization media popular culture and their links with race and ethnicity Fully cross referenced throughout with suggestions for further reading and international examples this book is indispensable reading for all those studying issues of race and ethnicity across the humanities and social and political sciences After the Nazi Racial State Rita Chin, Heide Fehrenbach, Geoff Eley, Atina Grossmann, 2010-02-22 An investigation of the concept of race in post Nazi Germany Contemporary Caribbean Cultures and Societies in a Global Context Franklin W. Knight, Teresita Martínez-Vergne, 2006-05-18 The Caribbean ranks among the earliest and most completely globalized regions in the world From the first moment Europeans set foot on the islands to the present products people and ideas have made their way back and forth between the region and other parts of the globe with unequal but inexorable force An inventory of some of these unprecedented multidirectional exchanges this volume provides a measure of as well as a model for new scholarship on globalization in the region Ten essays by leading scholars in the field of Caribbean studies identify and illuminate important social and cultural aspects of the region as it seeks to maintain its own identity against the unrelenting pressures of globalization These essays examine cultural phenomena in their creolized forms from sports and religion to music and drink as well as the Caribbean manifestations of more universal trends from racial inequality and feminist activism to indebtedness and economic uncertainty Throughout the volume points to the contending forces of homogeneity and differentiation that define globalization and highlights the growing agency of the Caribbean peoples in the modern world Contributors Antonio Benitez Rojo 1931 2004 Alex Dupuy Wesleyan University Juan Flores City University of New York Graduate Center Jorge L Giovannetti University of Puerto Rico Aline Helg University of Geneva Franklin W Knight The Johns Hopkins University Anthony P Maingot Florida International University Teresita Martinez Vergne Macalester College Helen McBain Economic Commission for Latin America the Caribbean Trinidad Frances Negron Muntaner Columbia University Valentina Peguero University of Wisconsin Stevens Point Raquel Romberg Temple University Media Sport Stars Garry Whannel, 2005-07-08 Media Sport Stars considers how masculinity and male identity are represented through images of sport and sport stars From the pre radio era to today s specialist TV channels newspaper supplements and websites Whannel traces the growing cultural importance of sport and sportmen showing how the very practices of sport are still bound up with the production of masculinities Through a series of case studies of British and American sportsmen Whannel traces the emergence of the sporting hero and star and considers the ways in which the lives of sport stars are narrated through the media Focusing on figures like Muhammad Ali and David Beckham whose fame has spread well beyond the world of sport he shows how growing media coverage has helped produced a sporting system and examines how modern celebrity addresses the issues of race and nation performance and identity morality and violence From Babe Ruth to Mike Tyson Media Sport Stars demonstrates that in an era in which both morality and masculinity are perceived to be in crisis sport holds a central place in contemporary culture and sport stars become the focal point for discourses of masculinity and morality

British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa Matthew P. Llewellyn, Toby C. Rider, 2024-11-25 The transnational anti apartheid sport boycott of South Africa represented the most prominent extended and controversial anti racism campaign in the history of sport Spearheaded by prominent British religious and anti colonial figures and exiled South Africans emboldened by communist and Global South support and legitimised by supranational political bodies such as the United Nations the Organisation of African Unity and the Commonwealth the sport boycott helped propel anti apartheid out of relative obscurity and struck at the very heart of a cultural practice that served an explicitly ideological function in Afrikaner society Britain held a dichotomous even paradoxical role as both prosecutor and defender of white South Africa This book utilises sport as a critical lens for understanding the dynamics and dichotomies of British attitudes towards the apartheid regime Debates over whether to continue or to cut sporting links with apartheid South Africa proved bitterly divisive The considerable weight the subject carried and the degree to which it saturated British political and social discourse for four decades speaks to its impact and importance British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa represents the first archival based historical examination of Britain s sporting relations with South Africa throughout the apartheid era 1948 1994 Situating the analysis within the shifting multiracial and multicultural landscapes of postcolonial Britain and within global political cultural sporting and ideological debates the authors trace the origins and evolution of the transnational sport boycott and examine what inspired Britons to energise anti apartheid sport campaigns and in contrast what drove many others to vehemently oppose them at every turn

Sex and Race in the Black Atlantic Daniel McNeil, 2010-01-27 This is the first book to place the self fashioning of mixed race individuals in the context of a Black Atlantic Drawing on a wide range of sources and a diverse cast of characters from the diaries letters novels and plays of femme fatales in Congo and the United States to the advertisements dissertations oral histories and political speeches of Black Power activists in Canada and the United Kingdom it gives particular attention to the construction of mixed race femininity and masculinity during the twentieth century Its broad scope and historical approach provides readers with a timely rejoinder to academics artists journalists and politicians who only use the mixed race label to depict prophets or delinquents as new national icons for the twenty first century Caryl Phillips Helen Thomas,2006 This study presents a critical examination of Caryl Phillips fictional and non fictional explorations of the black diaspora Cultural Capital Robert Hewison,2014-11-11 Britain began the twenty first century convinced of its creativity Throughout the New Labour era the visual and performing arts museums and galleries were ceaselessly promoted as a stimulus to national economic revival a post industrial revolution where spending on culture would solve everything from national decline to crime Tony Blair heralded it a golden age Yet despite huge investment the audience for the arts remained a privileged minority So what went wrong In Cultural Capital leading historian Robert Hewison gives an in depth account of how creative Britain lost its way From Cool Britannia and the Millennium Dome to the Olympics and beyond he shows how culture became a commodity and how target obsessed managerialism stifled creativity In response to the failures of New Labour and the austerity measures of the Coalition government Hewison argues for a new relationship between politics and the arts Colonized by Humanity Rob Waters,2023 Colonized by Humanity is a study of racial liberalism at the end of empire It uncovers the projects to cultivate racial integration developed in the two decades between the arrival of the Empire Windrush and the passage of the first Race Relations Act Screen Comedy and Online Audiences Inger-Lise Kalviknes Bore,2017-06-14 The question of why we laugh or don't laugh has intrigued scholars since antiquity This book contributes to that debate by exploring how we evaluate screen comedy What kinds of criteria do we use to judge films and TV shows that are meant to be funny And what might that have to do with our social and cultural backgrounds or with wider cultural ideas about film TV comedy quality and entertainment The book examines these questions through a study of audience responses posted to online facilities such as Twitter Facebook review sites blogs and message boards Bore's analysis of these responses considers a broad range of issues including how audiences perceive the idea of national comedy what they think of female comedians how they evaluate romcoms sitcoms and web comedy what they think is acceptable to joke about what comedy fans get excited about how fans interact with star comedians and what comedy viewers really despise The book demonstrates some of the ways in which we can adapt theories of humour and comedy to examine the practices of contemporary screen audiences while offering new insights into how they negotiate the opportunities and constrictions of different online facilities to share their views and experiences A Companion to Crime, Harm and Victimisation Corteen, Karen,Morley, Sharon,Paul Taylor,Jo Turner,2016-06-29 Succinct accessible and comprehensive this book is the first to provide definitions and explanations of key terms and concepts from the expanding field of crime harm and victimization Contributions from a wide range of experts investigate theories ideas and case studies relating to victims of conventional crime and victims outside the remit of criminal law The book explores both the domestic and international nature extent and measurement of crime and harm as well as responses to victims and victimization in connection with conventional corporate and state crimes and harms As part of Policy's Companions series entries are presented in a user friendly quick reference A Z format that clearly notes related sections and provides suggestions for further reading
