Black Churches Of Brooklyn:

The Black Churches of Brooklyn Clarence Taylor, 1994 In addition they endorsed the education of the clergy thereby demonstrating to American society at large that African Americans possessed the sophistication and the means to pursue and to promote culture

In The Company Of Black Men Craig Steven Wilder, 2002-02-01 Traces the development of African American community traditions over three centuries From the subaltern assemblies of the enslaved in colonial New York City to the benevolent New York African Society of the early national era to the formation of the African Blood Brotherhood in twentieth century Harlem voluntary associations have been a fixture of African American communities In the Company of Black Men examines New York City over three centuries to show that enslaved Africans provided the institutional foundation upon which African American religious political and social culture could flourish Arguing that the universality of the voluntary tradition in African American communities has its basis in collectivism a behavioral and rhetorical tendency to privilege the group over the individual it explores the institutions that arose as enslaved Africans exploited the potential for group action and mass resistance Craig Steven Wilder s research is particularly exciting in its assertion that Africans entered the Americas equipped with intellectual traditions and sociological models that facilitated a communitarian response to oppression Presenting a dramatic shift from previous work which has viewed African American male associations as derivative and imitative of white male counterparts In the Company of Black Men provides a ground breaking template for investigating antebellum black institutions

The Politics of Safety Shannon King, 2023-11-28 For much of the twentieth and twenty first centuries public officials in cities like New York Chicago and Baltimore have criminalized uprisings as portending Black thugs throwing rocks at police and plundering private property to undermine complaints of police violence Liberal mayors like Fiorello H La Guardia have often been the deftest practitioners of this strategy As the Depression and wartime conditions spurred youth crime white New Yorkers anxieties about crime the movement of Black people into white neighborhoods and headlines featuring Black hoodlums emblazoned all over the white media drove their support for the expansion of police patrols in the city especially in Harlem and Bedford Stuyvesant Though Blacks also called for police protection and for La Guardia to provide equitable municipal resources they primarily received more punishment This set the stage for the Harlem uprising of 1943 Shannon King uncovers how Black activism for safety was a struggle against police brutality and crime highlighting how the police withholding protection operated as a form of police violence and an abridgement of their civil rights By decentering familiar narratives of riots King places Black activism against harm at the center of the Black freedom struggle revealing how Black neighborhoods became occupied territories in La Guardia's New York

Intimate Partner Violence in the Black Church Carlos Jermaine Richard, 2017-07-07 Intimate Partner Violence IPV or Domestic Violence DV continues to be a perennial issue in the Black church and Christendom as a whole Women in the church continue to experience violence at increased rates but leadership has been delayed in providing a meaningful response to IPV as families experience the turmoil of abuse Further more and more children suffer from the trauma of family violence that perpetuates as males who witness IPV have a greater susceptibility of becoming abusers and females who witness abuse are put in risk of choosing abusers in relationships The church must now become the leading change agent in the struggle to reduce and end family violence by addressing the heart of the issue the pulpit namely male leaders in the church who abuse their wives and hide behind the scripture text The church must expose the biblical truth regarding marriage and relationships and embed policy within the by laws of the church that provide victims and survivors with opportunities for confidential reporting resources when they are ready to leave and on going support for women who desire to transition from abuse to survivorship
