Black Corona Steven Gregory, 2011-03-28 In Black Corona Steven Gregory examines political culture and activism in an African American neighborhood in New York City Using historical and ethnographic research he challenges the view that black urban communities are socially disorganized Gregory demonstrates instead how working class and middle class African Americans construct and negotiate complex and deeply historical political identities and institutions through struggles over the built environment and neighborhood quality of life With its emphasis on the lived experiences of African Americans Black Corona provides a fresh and innovative contribution to the study of the dynamic interplay of race class and space in contemporary urban communities It questions the accuracy of the widely used trope of the dysfunctional black ghetto which the author asserts has often been deployed to depoliticize issues of racial and economic inequality in the United States By contrast Gregory argues that the urban experience of African Americans is more diverse than is generally acknowledged and that it is only by attending to the history and politics of black identity and community life that we can come to appreciate this complexity This is the first modern ethnography to focus on black working class and middle class life and politics Unlike books that enumerate the ways in which black communities have been rendered powerless by urban political processes and by changing urban economies Black Corona demonstrates the range of ways in which African Americans continue to organize and struggle for social justice and community empowerment Although it discusses the experiences of one community its implications resonate far more widely Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions

Black Corona Steven Gregory, 1999-06-10 This study examines political culture and activism in an African American neighbourhood in New York City It challenges the view that black urban communities are socially disorganized and demonstrates how African Americans construct political identities and institutions through their struggles Black

Citymakers Marcus Anthony Hunter, 2013-04-25 Black Citymakers revisits the Black Seventh Ward neighborhood and residents of W E B DuBois's The Philadelphia Negro over the twentieth century Hunter's analysis demonstrates that black Philadelphians were by not mere victims of large scale socio economic and political change but active participants influencing the direction of urban policy and change Black Holes: A Laboratory for Testing Strong Gravity Cosimo

Bambi, 2017-06-01 This textbook introduces the current astrophysical observations of black holes and discusses the leading techniques to study the strong gravity region around these objects with electromagnetic radiation More importantly it provides the basic tools for writing an astrophysical code and testing the Kerr paradigm Astrophysical black holes are an ideal laboratory for testing strong gravity According to general relativity the spacetime geometry around these objects should be well described by the Kerr solution The electromagnetic radiation emitted by the gas in the inner part of the accretion disk can probe the metric of the strong gravity region and test the Kerr black hole hypothesis With exercises and examples in each chapter as well as calculations and analytical details in the appendix the book is especially useful to the beginners or graduate students who are familiar with general relativity while they do not have any background in astronomy or astrophysics p

Red Lines, Black Spaces Bruce D. Haynes, 2008-10-01 Runyon Heights a community in Yonkers New York has been populated by middle class African Americans for nearly a century This book the first history of a black middle class community tells the story of Runyon Heights which sheds light on the process of black suburbanization and the ways in which residential development in the suburbs has been shaped by race and class Relying on both interviews with residents and archival research Bruce D Haynes describes the progressive stages in the life of the community and its inhabitants and the factors that enabled it to form in the first place and to develop solidarity identity and political consciousness He shows how residents came to recognize common political interests within the community how racial consciousness provided an axis for social solidarity as well as partial insulation from racial slights and how the suburb afforded these middle class residents a degree of physical and social distance from the ghetto As Haynes explores the history of Runyon Heights we learn the ways in which its black middle class dealt with the tensions between the political interests of race and the material interests of class

Black Movement Jeffrey O. G. Ogbar, 2025-04-14 The Great Migration of African Americans from the South to northern and western cities between 1915 and 1970 fundamentally altered the political social and cultural landscapes of major urban centers like New York Chicago Philadelphia and Detroit and changed the country as well By the late twentieth century Black people were mayors police chiefs and school superintendents often at parity and sometimes overrepresented in municipal jobs in these and other cities which were also hubs for Black literature music film and politics Since the 1970s migration patterns have significantly shifted away from the major sites of the Great Migration where some iconic Black communities have been replaced by mostly non Black residents Although many books have examined Black urban experiences in America this is the first written by historians focusing on the post Great Migration era It is centered on numerous facets of Black life including popular culture policing suburbanization and political organizing across multiple cities In this landmark volume Jeffrey O G Ogbar and his contributors explore the last half century of African American urban history covering a landscape transformed since the end of the Great Migration and demonstrating how cities remain dynamic into the twenty first century Contributors are Stefan M Bradley Scot Brown Tatiana M F Cruz Tom Adam Davies LaShawn Harris Maurice J Hobson Shannon King Melanie D Newport Jeffrey O G Ogbar Brian Purnell J T Roane Chanelle Rose Benjamin H Saracco and Fiona Vernal

The New Neighborhood Senior Center Joyce Weil, 2014-11-03 In 2011 seven thousand American baby boomers those born between 1946 and 1964 turned sixty five daily As this largest U S generation ages cities municipalities and governments at every level must grapple with the allocation of resources and funding for maintaining the quality of life health and standard of living for an aging population In The New Neighborhood Senior Center Joyce Weil uses in depth ethnographic methods to examine a working class senior center in Queens New York She explores the ways in which social structure directly affects the lives of older Americans and traces the role of political social and economic institutions and neighborhood processes in the decision to close such centers throughout the city of New York Many policy makers and gerontologists advocate a concept of aging in place whereby the communities in which these older residents live provide access to resources that foster and maintain their independence But all aging in place is not equal and the success of such efforts depends heavily upon the social class and availability of resources in any given community Senior centers expanded in part by funding from federal programs in the 1970s were designed as focal points in the provision of community based services However for the first wave of boomers the role of these centers has come to be questioned Declining government support has led to the closings of many centers even as the remaining centers are beginning to rebrand to attract the boomer generation However The New Neighborhood Senior Center demonstrates the need to balance what the boomers want from centers with the needs of frailer or more vulnerable elders who rely on the services of senior centers on a daily basis Weil challenges readers to consider what changes in social policies are needed to support or supplement senior centers and the functions they serve

Free at Last? Juan Battle, Michael Bennett, Anthony J. Lemelle, 2017-07-05 As this volume indicates the issues facing black America are diverse and the tools needed to understand these phenomena cross disciplinary boundaries In this anthology the authors address a wide range of topics including race gender class sexual orientation globalism migration health politics culture and urban issues from a diversity of disciplinary perspectives

The Black Professional Middle Class Eric S. Brown, 2013-11-07 Through an in depth case study of the black professional middle class in Oakland this book provides an analysis of the experiences of black professionals in the workplace community and local politics Brown shows how overlapping dynamics of class formation and racial formation have produced historically powerful processes of what he terms racialized class formation resulting in a distinct and internally differentiated entity not merely a subset of a larger professional middle class

Race, Ethnicity, and Place in a Changing America, Third Edition John W. Frazier, Eugene L. Tettey-Fio, Norah F.

Henry,2016-12-29 Uses both historical and contemporary case studies to examine how race and ethnicity affect the places we live work and visit This book examines major Hispanic African and Asian diasporas in the continental United States and Puerto Rico from the nineteenth century to the present with particular attention on the diverse ways in which these immigrant groups have shaped and reshaped American places and landscapes Through both historical and contemporary case studies the contributors examine how race and ethnicity affect the places we live work and visit illustrating along the way the behaviors and concepts that comprise the modern ethnic and racial geography of immigrant and minority groups While primarily addressed to students and scholars in the fields of racial and ethnic geography these case studies will be accessible to anyone interested in race place connections race ethnicity boundaries the development of racialization and the complexity of human settlement patterns and landscapes that make up the United States and Puerto Rico Taken together they show how individuals and culture groups through their ideologies social organization and social institutions reflect both local and regional processes of place making and place remaking that occur within and beyond the continental United States

Dropping Anchor, Setting Sail Jacqueline Nassy Brown,2009-01-10 The port city of Liverpool England is home to one of the oldest Black communities in Britain Its members proudly date their history back at least as far as the nineteenth century with the global wanderings and eventual settlement of colonial African seamen Jacqueline Nassy Brown analyzes how this worldly origin story supports an avowedly local Black politic and identity a theme that becomes a window onto British politics of race place and nation and Liverpool s own contentious origin story as a gloriously cosmopolitan port of world historical import that was nonetheless central to British slave trading and imperialism This ethnography also examines the rise and consequent dilemmas of Black identity It captures the contradictions of diaspora in postcolonial Liverpool where African and Afro Caribbean heritages and transnational linkages with Black America both contribute to and compete with the local as a basis for authentic racial identity Crisscrossing historical periods rhetorical modes and academic genres the book focuses singularly on place enabling its most radical move its analysis of Black racial politics as enactments of English cultural premises The insistent focus on English culture implies a further twist Just as Blacks are racialized through appeals to their assumed Afro Caribbean and African cultures so too has Liverpool an Irish working class city whose expansive port faces the world beyond Britain long been beyond the pale of dominant notions of authentic Englishness Dropping Anchor Setting Sail studies race through clashing constructions of Liverpool

Abolishing Poverty Victoria Lawson,Sarah Elwood,Michelle Daigle,Ana Gutiérrez Garza,Juan Herrera,Ellen Kohl,Jovan Lewis,Aaron Mallory,Priscilla McCutcheon,Yolanda González Mendoza,Margaret Marietta Ramírez,Chandan Reddy,2023-08 Abolishing Poverty argues for a project of relationality that refuses the whiteness of liberal poverty studies and instead centers critiques of the poverty relation and political futures disavowed under liberal governance In disrupting poverty thinking the author

collective opens space for diverse frameworks for understanding impoverishment and articulating antiracist knowledges and political visions The book explores new infrastructures of possibilities and political solidarities rooted in accountable relations to each other and from flights to the future that animate diverse communities This book is boundary and genre crossing with broad appeal to scholars of such disciplines as human geography ethnic studies decolonial theory and feminist studies As a volume the work is unique in its primary field of human geography in the form of its making its collective authorship and its investigation of politics that abolish poverty thinking and engage in activism against the poverty relation produced through settler colonialism heteropatriarchy white supremacy and capitalist exploitation

Black on the Block Mary Pattillo, 2010-04-02 In Black on the Block Mary Pattillo a Newsweek Woman of the 21st Century uses the historic rise alarming fall and equally dramatic renewal of Chicago's North Kenwood Oakland neighborhood to explore the politics of race and class in contemporary urban America There was a time when North Kenwood Oakland was plagued by gangs drugs violence and the font of poverty from which they sprang But in the late 1980s activists rose up to tackle the social problems that had plagued the area for decades Black on the Block tells the remarkable story of how these residents laid the groundwork for a revitalized and self consciously black neighborhood that continues to flourish today But theirs is not a tale of easy consensus and political unity and here Pattillo teases out the divergent class interests that have come to define black communities like North Kenwood Oakland She explores the often heated battles between haves and have nots home owners and apartment dwellers and newcomers and old timers as they clash over the social implications of gentrification Along the way Pattillo highlights the conflicted but crucial role that middle class blacks play in transforming such districts as they negotiate between established centers of white economic and political power and the needs of their less fortunate black neighbors A century from now when today's sociologists and journalists are dust and their books are too those who want to understand what the hell happened to Chicago will be finding the answer in this one Chicago Reader To see how diversity creates strange and sometimes awkward bedfellows turn to Mary Pattillo's Black on the Block Boston Globe
