Broadcasting Apartheid TAL. ZALMANOVICH, 2025-11-24 In Broadcasting Apartheid Tal Zalmanovich explores how television revolutionized the political landscape in postwar Britain and played a pivotal role in the international campaign against apartheid from 1950 to 1990 Drawing on case studies and a diverse array of sources Zalmanovich argues that television's ability to transcend geographical and temporal boundaries proved instrumental in building a global coalition against apartheid in South Africa Moreover she shows how the medium became a key battleground in the broader struggle for racial equality in Britain where debates over apartheid intersected with contemporary discussions about race immigration decolonization and Cold War politics Early African American Print Culture Lara Langer Cohen, Jordan Alexander Stein, 2012-09-06 The eighteenth and nineteenth centuries saw both the consolidation of American print culture and the establishment of an African American literary tradition yet the two are too rarely considered in tandem In this landmark volume a stellar group of established and emerging scholars ranges over periods locations and media to explore African Americans diverse contributions to early American print culture both on the page and off The book's chapters consider domestic novels and gallows narratives Francophone poetry and engravings of Liberia transatlantic lyrics and San Francisco newspapers Together they consider how close attention to the archive can expand the study of African American literature well beyond matters of authorship to include issues of editing illustration circulation and reading and how this expansion can enrich and transform the study of print culture more generally Print, Text and Book Cultures in South Africa Andrew van der Vlies, 2012-09-01 An explanation of the unique role of the book and book collecting in South Africa due to the apartheid This book explores the power of print and the politics of the book in South Africa from a range of disciplinary perspectives historical bibliographic literary critical sociological and cultural studies The essays collected here by leading international scholars address a range of topics as varied as the role of print cultures in contests over the nature of the colonial public sphere in the nineteenth century orthography iimbongi orature and the canon book collecting and libraries print and transnationalism Indian Ocean cosmopolitanisms books in war how the fates of South African texts locally and globally have been affected by their material instantiations photocomics and other ephemera censorship during and after apartheid books about art and books as art local academic publishing and the challenge of book history for literary and cultural criticism in contemporary South Africa Comics and the U.S. South Brannon Costello, Qiana J. G. Saur Verlag GmbH & Company, 2006 Great Thinkers and Doers Teresa Zackodnik, 2025-07-01 A corrective history of the essential role that Black women played in the early Black press In Great Thinkers and Doers Teresa Zackodnik looks at the vital and largely overlooked role of Black women readers writers and editors in the development of the Black press in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Understanding the relationship between the Black press and Black women s political and community organizing helps illuminate how important Black women were to this media phenomenon in its first one hundred years In the nineteenth century Zackodnik reveals the Black press was second only to the Black church in its centrality to Black politics and communities but histories of its development have long credited its founding and development to the Black men who were its editors Despite their underrepresentation in the leadership of Black public politics and the Black press women were overrepresented in the mutual benevolent moral improvement and literary societies that functioned as community centers of political oratorical and print culture work These societies supplied the Black press with content a readership and distribution nodes in Black communities throughout the nation Zackodnik examines the vital opportunity that this networking of the Black press with literary societies offered Black women readers to enter Black print space and advance communal goals She also explores how Black women gained a foothold within publications often initially with gateway genres such as letters to the editor and women s columns and shaped the Black press This book will change how we understand the early Black press and overlooked Black feminist print practices Chaotic Justice John Ernest, 2009-11-15 What is African American about African American literature Why identify it as a distinct tradition John Ernest contends that too often scholars have relied on naive concepts of race superficial conceptions of African American history and the marginalization of important strains of black scholarship With this book he creates a new and just retelling of African American literary history that neither ignores nor transcends racial history Ernest revisits the work of nineteenth century writers and activists such as Henry Box Brown Frederick Douglass Harriet Wilson William Wells Brown and Sojourner Truth demonstrating that their concepts of justice were far more radical than those imagined by most white sympathizers He sheds light on the process of reading publishing studying and historicizing this work during the twentieth century Looking ahead to the future of the field Ernest offers new principles of justice that grant fragmented histories partial recoveries and still unprinted texts the same value as canonized works His proposal is both a historically informed critique of the field and an invigorating challenge to present and future scholars Catalogue of Little Press Books in Print Published in the United Kingdom ,1994 Media on the Move Daya Kishan Thussu,2006-10-31 Transnational in perspectives and in themes Provides extensive and up to date empirical data on media globalization as well as innovative theoretical perspectives from some of the leading figures in the field Comprehensive analysis of the phenomenon of media contra flow Multi media approach with case studies covering various genres of the media news cinema television drama animation and on line media

Transnationalism in Southern African Literature Stefan Helgesson,2008-08-18 This innovative study examines both Anglophone and lusophone African literature Helgesson argues that the prevalence of colonial languages in postcolonial African literature is caused by the print network demystifying their authority through the materiality of print and placing emphasis on the strong transnational transcontinental vectors of southern African literature
