Black Art And Culture In The 20th Century:

Black Art and Culture in the 20th Century Richard J. Powell, 1996 Black British Culture and Society Kwesi

Owusu, 2003-09-02 Black British Culture and Society brings together in one indispensable volume key writings on the Black community in Britain from the Windrush immigrations of the late 1940s and 1950s to contemporary multicultural Britain. Combining classic writings on Black British life with new specially commissioned articles, Black British Culture and Society records the history of the post-war African and Caribbean diaspora, tracing the transformations of Black culture in British society. Black British Culture and Society explores key facets of the Black experience, charting Black Britons' struggles to carve out their own identity and place in an often hostile society. The articles reflect the rich diversity of the Black British experience, addressing economic and social issues such as health, religion, education, feminism, old age, community, and race relations, as well as Black culture and the arts, with discussions of performance, carnival, sport, style, literature, theatre, art, and film making. The contributors examine the often tense relationship between successful Black public figures and the media, and address the role of the Black intellectual in public life. Featuring interviews with noted Black artists and writers such as Aubrey Williams, Mustapha Matura, and Caryl Phillips, and including articles from key contemporary thinkers such as Stuart Hall, A. Sivanandan, Paul Gilroy, and Henry Louis Gates, Black British Culture and Society provides a rich resource of analysis, critique, and comment on the Black community's distinctive contribution to cultural life in Britain today. Encyclopedia of African American Society Gerald D. Jaynes, 2005-02 An encyclopedic reference of African American history and culture

Black Arts West Daniel Widener, 2010-03-08 A social and cultural history of African American arts activity in Los Angeles between the Second World War and the 1992 riots African American Artists and the New Deal Art Programs Mary Ann Calo, 2023-03-20 This book examines the involvement of African American artists in the New Deal art programs of the 1930s, emphasizing broader issues informed by the uniqueness of Black experience rather than individual artists' works. Mary Ann Calo makes the case that the revolutionary vision of these federal art projects is best understood in the context of access to opportunity mediated by the reality of racial segregation. Focusing primarily on the Federal Art Project (FAP) of the Works Progress Administration (WPA), Calo documents African American artists' participation in community art centers in Harlem, in St. Louis, and throughout the South. She examines the internal workings of the Harlem Artists Guild, the Guild's activities during the 1930s, and its alliances with other groups such as the Artists Union and the National Negro Congress. Calo also explores African American artists' representation in the exhibitions sponsored by WPA administrators and the critical reception of their work. In doing so, she elucidates the evolving meanings of the terms race, culture, and community in the interwar era. The book concludes with an essay by Jacqueline Francis on Black artists in the early 1940s, after the end of the FAP program. Presenting essential new archival information and important insights into the experiences of Black New Deal artists, this study expands the factual record and positions the cumulative evidence within the landscape of critical race
