Blackness in Latin America and the Caribbean, Volume 1 Norman E. Whitten,Arlene

Torres,1998-10-22 Shows regional Black history Priestess, Mother, Sacred Sister Susan Starr Sered,1996-04-11

Religion is often denounced as one of the tools used by patriarchal societies to maintain the status quo and especially to persuade women to accept subordinate roles This does not explain however the existence of many religious groups in which women are both leaders and the majority of participants How are these women s religions different from those dominated by men What can we learn from them about the special ways in which women experience their unique reality In this fascinating and pathbreaking work the first comparative study of women s religions Susan Starr Sered seeks answers to these compelling questions Looking for common threads linking groups as diverse as the ancestral cults of the Black Caribs of Belize Korean shamanism Christian Science and the Feminist Spirituality movement Sered finds that motherhood and motherly concerns play a vital role in these female dominated groups Nurturing and concern for others are at the center as are healing arts and ways of dealing with illness and the death of children Religion not only enables women to find sacred meaning in their daily lives from the preparation of food to caring for their families but an offer intense and personal relationships with deities and spirits often through ecstatic possession trance as well as opportunities to celebrate and mourn with other women By examining the shared experiences of women across great cultural divides Priestess Mother Sacred Sister offers a new understanding of the role gender plays in determining how individuals grapple with the ultimate questions of existence In the process it not only highlights the profound differences between men and women but the equally important ways in which we are all alike The Archaeology of Houses and Households in the Native Southeast

Benjamin A. Steere,2017-04-11 This book explores changes in houses and households in the southeastern United States from the Woodland to the Historic Indian Period ca 200 B C to A D 1800 Most studies of domestic architecture in the Southeast have been conducted at the single site scale As a result broader spatial and temporal patterns of variation in houses and households are not well understood To address this problem Steere constructed a database that catalogues the architectural features of 1 258 structures from 65 sites in the Southern Appalachian region and surrounding areas Significant trends identified by this comparative study include changes in the size and spacing of houses changes in architectural investment and a secular trend toward the increasing segmentation of houses Using a theoretical framework developed from household archaeology and anthropology Steere argues that certain aspects of this architectural variation can be explained by changes in household economics and household composition symbolic behavior status differentiation and settlement patterning More generally he proposes that large scale patterns of diachronic and synchronic variation in domestic architecture are best explained by changes in social organization Provided by publisher Sex Roles and Social Change in Native Lower Central American Societies Christine A. Loveland, Franklin O. Loveland, 1982 Social and cultural anthropology essays on social roles and sexual division of labour as well as on social change among indigenous peoples in Lower Central America analyses the causes of men dominance and lower female social status looks at historical background and traditional culture role of religious missions labour force participation of woman workers and women s life cycles examines new economic roles rural migration urban area influence changing leadership patterns etc Diagrams photographs references statistical tables

Caribbean Migrants Bonham C. Richardson, 1983 Hemispheric Blackness and the Exigencies of Accountability Jennifer Gomez Menjivar, Hector Nicolas Ramos Flores, 2022-12-20 Hemispheric Blackness and the Exigencies of Accountability examines the way Afrodescendant and Black communities use the land on which they live the rule of law and their bodies to assert their historical ontological and physical presence across South Central and North America Their demand for the recognition of ancestral lands responsive policies and human rights sheds new light on their permanent yet tenuous presence throughout the region The authors argue that by deploying a discourse of transcontinental historical continuity Black communities assert their presence in local national and international political spheres This conceptualization of hemispheric Blackness is the driving force confronting the historical loss dismissal and disparagement of Black lives across the Americas Through twelve case studies that cover a wide range of locations their work examines contemporary manifestations of sovereignty of Black body and mind Black Indigenous nexuses and national revisions that challenge more than a quincentennial of denial and state unaccountability in the hemisphere Transitions in Consciousness from an African American Perspective Carroy U. Ferguson, 2004 In this book Carroy Ferguson presents a unique glimpse into the transitional stages in consciousness that many African Americans experience as they explore the essence of being a Black person in U S society and the world Using a model of six transitional stages in consciousness original essays and discourses on the symbolism of various historical events Ferguson engages readers in an intriguing reflective process to give them a better understanding of how transitions in consciousness_ from an African American perspective_ are largely shaped and greatly influenced by the psychology of the times The essays therefore represent the various dynamics at play as many African Americans engage the contents of their consciousness and learn to explore and transcend various societal challenges To assist readers in engaging their personal self reflective processes Ferguson provides creative exercises and a comprehensive timeline of African American life Social and Cultural Lives of Immune Systems James MacLynn

Wilce,2003 This book introduces a provocative new branch of social theory the hypothesis that immunity and disease are in part socially constituted It suggests that immune systems function not only as material entities but also as social symbols

Peripheral Migrants Samuel Martínez,1995 Peripheral Migrants examines the circulation of labor from rural Haiti to the sugar estates of the Dominican Republic and its impact on the lives of migrants and their kin The first such study to draw on community based fieldwork in both countries the book also shows how ethnographic and historical approaches can be combined to reconstruct patterns of seasonal and repeat migration Samuel Martinez pays close attention to the economic maneuvers Haitians adopt on both sides of the border as they use Dominican money to meet their present needs and to assure future subsistence at home in Haiti The emigrants who adapt best he finds are those who maintain close ties to their home areas Yet in addition to showing how rural Haitians survive under severe poverty and oppression Martinez reveals the risks they incur by crossing the border as cane workers divided families increased short term deprivation and economic insecurity and all too often early death He further notes that labor circulation is not part of an unchanging cycle in rural Haiti but a source of income that is vulnerable to the downturns in the global economy Acknowledging various theoretical perspectives the author compares the Haitian migrations with similar population displacements worldwide As he shows the Haitian workers exemplify an important if seldom studied category of migrants those who neither move to the cities nor emigrate to countries of the North but circulate between rural areas of the Third World Thus this book serves to broaden our understanding of this lower tier of the world s migrants

Father-Child Relations Barry S. Hewlett, Due to a greater involvement of American fathers in the direct care of their children in recent years interest in the impact and nature of the father s role in nurturing children has increased While studies about fathers in the industrialized literate West have proliferated little is known about the role of fathers in the preliterate non Western world This collection examines the diversity of paternal roles found in human cultures among various types of societies that are very peaceful and those that actively engage in warfare as a mode of existence Father Child Relations recognizes the importance of understanding both biological and cultural aspects of the father s role Many of the contributors utilize evolutionary or biosocial models including those of developmental psychology to examine the father s role while others rely upon the symbolic analysis of cultural and social anthropology One chapter is devoted to male infant relationships in nonhuman primates a further largely ignored comparative perspective The anthropologists who have contributed to this collection are field workers who have lived intimately over significant periods of time with the people about whom they are writing These research reports from the field have been edited to make them wholly accessible to the non specialist The contributors of this volume recognize that biology and ideology are intertwined both together influence the father s behavior and the effects of his behavior The Matrifocal Family Raymond T. Smith, 2014-04-23 The essays in this collection focus attention on the enormous contribution made by women in maintaining family relations in situations of both racial and gender domination Latin American Urbanization Charles Butterworth, 1981-01-31 Originally published in 1981 as part of the Urbanization in Developing Countries series Latin American Urbanization presents an in depth look at a process of social change in an important region of the Third World In this study Professors Butterworth and Chance concentrate on the rural urban migration of the lower classes and the adaptation of migrants to city life They examine the rural peasant and proletarian communities from which the migrants have come and to which they often remain loyal even after many years of urban residence Drawing together in a coherent manner studies from several disciplines such as demographic sociocultural economic and political dimensions of urbanization this book will interest a variety of scholars in the social sciences and the humanities
