Country Of Memory:

The Country of Memory Hue-Tam Ho Tai, 2001-10 Hue Tam Ho Tai's masterful collection of essays that explore how the past is being remade in contemporary Vietnam constitutes a welcome addition to the study of the larger problem of engineering memory especially in political cultures where the identity of the nation state is in a considerable state of flux. This book also suggests that the commemorative fever that is sweeping Vietnam is about more than Vietnam's history. It also has a great deal to do with the problems premodern cultures presented to those who promoted the creation of contemporary states. In this regard both Vietnam and this book offer all scholars of nationalism and remembering in the West a fascinating perspective on their own nations. John Bodnar, Chancellors Professor of History at Indiana University from the Foreword.

The Country of Memory Hue-Tam Ho Tai, 2001 The American experience in the Vietnam War has been the subject of a vast body of scholarly work yet surprisingly little has been written about how the war is remembered by Vietnamese themselves. The Country of Memory fills this gap in the literature by addressing the subject of history memory and commemoration of the Vietnam War in modern day Vietnam.

Collective Memory in International Relations Kathrin Bachleitner, 2021 This book traces the influence of collective memory in International Relations through time. It presents an important and novel theoretical framework for the academic discipline of IR and illustrates the theories in a comparative study of two cases: West Germany and Austria after World War II.

World War II Memory and Contested Commemorations in Europe and Russia Jennifer A. Yoder, 2024-01-01 Instrumentalization of the wartime past for political gain is the subject of this study of eleven World War II commemorations. Using a comparative conceptually original approach, Yoder identifies the actors who manipulate memory surrounding wartime anniversaries such as the bombing of Dresden and ceremonies to honor fallen soldiers and fascist collaborators. The cases of memory contestation span three geographic regions: Western Europe, Eastern Europe, and Russia, recognizing that each developed distinctive interpretations of the war and different patterns of memory politics. This empirically rich study reveals the grievances that motivate memory challengers and their strategies for shaping the commemoration discourses and rituals. The memory challengers' toolkit includes varieties of emotional manipulation, subtle distortion, revisionism, and full-scale denial. The study finds that while there are differences in context and strategy across cases and regions, there are also areas of convergence. Moreover, a memory challenge in one country can spill over into others with serious consequences for foreign relations. While World War II Memory and Contested Commemorations in Europe and Russia deals with debates and narratives about events in the last century, its focus is on power, persuasion, and identity in the present.

Memory Activism and Digital Practices after Conflict Orli Fridman, 2025-10-01 This book investigates the study of memory activism and memory of activism emerging after conflict as a political civic action. It examines the appearance and growth of memory activism in Serbia amid the legacies of unwanted memories of the wars of the 1990s, approaching the post-Yugoslav region as a region of memory and tracing the alternative calendars and alternative commemorative practices of memory activists as they have evolved over a period of more than two decades By presenting in depth accounts of memory activism practices on site and online Memory Activism and Digital Practices after Conflict Unwanted Memories analyses this evolution in the context of generational belonging and introduces frameworks for the study of hashtag memoryactivism alternative commemorations and commemorative solidarity Towards Sustainable Preservation and Accessibility of Documentary Heritage UNESCO,2021-12-16 Time, Media and Modernity E. Keightley,2012-06-29 A wide ranging interdisciplinary exploration of media time and mediated temporalities The chapters explore the diverse ways in which time is articulated by media technologies the way time is constructed represented and communicated in cultural texts and how it is experienced in different social contexts and environments Memory, Place and Aboriginal-Settler History Skye Krichauff,2017-09-27 Taking the absence of Aboriginal people in South Australian settler descendants historical consciousness as a starting point Memory Place and Aboriginal Settler History combines the methodologies and theories of historical enquiry anthropology and memory studies to investigate the multitudinous and intertwined ways the colonial past is known represented and made sense of by current generations Informed by interviews and fieldwork conducted with settler and Aboriginal descendants oral histories site visits and personal experience Skye Krichauff closely examines the diverse but interconnected processes through which the past is understood and narrated Memory Place and Aboriginal Settler History demonstrates how it is possible to unsettle settler descendants consciousness of the colonial past in ways that enable a tentative connection with Aboriginal people and their experiences Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H. P. Werlock,2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition no other reference work on American fiction brings together such an array of authors and texts as this If I Could Write this in Fire Michelle Cliff,2008 In her first book length collection of nonfiction Cliff interweaves reflections on her life in Jamaica England and the United States with a powerful and sustained critique of racism homophobia and social injustice If I Could Write This in Fire begins by tracing her transatlantic journey from Jamaica to England coalescing around a graceful elliptical account of her childhood friendship with Zoe who is dark skinned and from an impoverished rural background the divergent life courses that each is forced to take and the class and color tensions that shape their lives as adults In other essays and poems Cliff writes about the discovery of her distinctive diasporic literary voice recalls her wild colonial girlhood and sexual awakening and recounts traveling through an American landscape of racism colonialism and genocide a history of violence embodied in seemingly innocuous souvenirs and tourist sites Teaching a Dark Chapter Daniela R. P. Weiner,2024-07-15 Teaching a Dark Chapter explores how textbook narratives about the Fascist Nazi past in Italy East Germany and West Germany followed relatively calm undisturbed paths of little change until isolated flashpoints catalyzed the educational infrastructure into periods of rapid transformation Though these flashpoints varied among Italy and the Germanys they all roughly conformed to a chronological scheme and permanently changed how each dark past was represented Historians have often neglected textbooks as sources in their engagement with the reconstruction of postfascist states and the development of postwar memory culture But as Teaching a Dark Chapter demonstrates textbooks yield new insights and suggest a new chronology of the changes in postwar memory culture that other sources overlook Employing a methodological and temporal rethinking of the narratives surrounding the development of European Holocaust memory Daniela R P Weiner reveals how long before 1968 textbooks in these three countries served as important tools to influence public memory about Nazi Fascist atrocities As Fascism had been spread through education then education must play a key role in undoing the damage Thus to repair and shape postwar societies textbooks became an avenue to inculcate youths with desirable democratic and socialist values Teaching a Dark Chapter weds the historical study of public memory with the educational study of textbooks to ask how and why the textbooks were created what they said and how they affected the society around them Who! What! When! and Why! Dr. Baker,1856 Proceedings of the Parliament of South Australia South Australia. Parliament,1892 The London Quarterly Review ,1846 A History of Ancient Greek Literature Gilbert Murray,2023-12-21 In A History of Ancient Greek Literature Gilbert Murray provides a comprehensive survey of the literary achievements of ancient Greece emphasizing the interplay between cultural and historical forces that shaped its production Murray s approach is both descriptive and analytical revealing the evolution of genres from epic poetry to drama while placing significant works within the broader framework of Greek civilization His prose is marked by clarity and elegance making complex ideas accessible while his scholarly rigor situates the literature within philosophical and social contexts underscoring its enduring influence on Western thought Gilbert Murray a distinguished classical scholar and translator was profoundly influenced by the turbulent socio political changes of his time including the Great War His deep commitment to humanistic values and understanding of classical traditions motivated him to explore the connections between ancient texts and contemporary issues Murray s illustrious career including notable academic positions and his advocacy for the demilitarization of education informed his insights into the deeper meanings of Greek literature as a reflection of the human condition This book is an essential resource for anyone interested in the roots of Western literature and thought Scholars students and general readers alike will find Murray s incisive analysis and appreciation of ancient Greek works both illuminating and engaging making it a vital addition to any literary library The history of the war against Russia Edward Henry Nolan,1856 Historical Memory and Foreign Policy Lina Klymenko,Marco Siddi,2022-10-13 This book explores the uses of the past in foreign policy making It outlines why and how political leaders refer to historical events in contemporary foreign policy discourses the goals they hope to achieve and the sometimes unintended foreign policy consequences of their ab use of historical memory Furthermore it looks at how political leaders shape domestic collective memories in pursuit of their international agendas and highlight historical events leaders forget reinterpret or obscure through selective narratives The chapters explore a variety of theoretical concepts that shed light on how memory and foreign policy are linked in a complex and reciprocal way

The following mechanisms are discussed the application of historical analogies the construction of historical narratives the creation of memory sites the marginalisation and forgetting of the past and the securitisation of historical memory Through the use of a number of methodological approaches such as discourse analysis narrative analysis and content analysis of securitising moves and a broad range of qualitative and quantitative data newspaper articles policy documents commemorative speeches interviews with policymakers and the observation of memory sites the contributions highlight the interdependence of the international national regional and local dimensions of memory practices and history writing Although they mostly focus on national case studies of foreign policy making they also reveal how representations of historical events evolve through interaction between political actors at the international level of analysis The collection originated in the section entitled Exploring the Link between Historical Memory and Foreign Policy at the annual Pan European Conference of the European International Studies Association EISA 2018 held in Prague the Czech Republic An Oration, Delivered in St. Michael's Church, Charleston, South-Carolina, on the Fourth of July 1822 John Berwick Legaré, 1822 Travels in Various Countries of Europe Asia and Africa Clarke, 1816 Public Opinion, 1872
