Griffith Anthony Slide,2012-07-02 D W Griffith 1875 1948 is one of the most influential figures in the history of the motion picture As director of The Birth of a Nation he is also one of the most controversial He raised the cinema to a new level of art entertainment and innovation and at the same time he illustrated for the first time its potential to influence an audience and propagandize a cause Collected together here are virtually all of the interviews given by D W Griffith from the first in 1914 to the last in 1948 Some of the interviews concentrate on specific films including The Birth of a Nation Intolerance and most substantially Hearts of the World while others provide the director with an opportunity to expound on topics of personal interest including the importance of proper exhibition of his and other s films and his search for truth and beauty on screen The interviews are taken from many sources including leading newspapers trade papers and fan magazines They are often marked by humor and by a desire to please the interviewer and thus the reader Griffith may not have been particularly enthusiastic about giving interviews but he seems always determined to put on a good show Ultimately D W Griffith

Interviews provides the reader with a unique insight into the mind and filmmaking techniques of a director whose work and philosophy is as relevant today as it was when he was at the height of his fame in the 1910s and 1920s

Motion Picture Biographies John Cones, 2015-04-01 Hollywood movies are famous for promoting negative stereotypes of all kinds especially against minorities women Southerners and Christians To what extent are biographical films selected for production according to certain biases conscious or unconscious among the Hollywood elite An expert on the U S film industry gives readers brief synopses of Hollywood biopics produced and or released from 1912 through 1994 This survey provides the basis for discussion and analysis Tracking these one sided depictions over a longer period of time the patterns of bias and the source of the problem become more clear The problem appears to be that most of the people who have green light authority in the U S film industry for either the production and or distribution of a motion picture share a common ethnic religious cultural background Thus the stories of their own cohort and those of all other ethnic religious and or cultural groups whose members seldom achieve positions of power in Hollywood are being filtered through the cultural sensibilities of a single group John Cones suggests that the solution could lie in increasing diversity at the highest levels in the U S film industry
