Frances E. Willard,1889-01-01 Woman like man should be freely permitted to do whatever she can do well So said Frances E Willard who lived her life in the firm belief of this principle and who was instrumental in the passage of two amendments to the U S Constitution A passionate advocate for women s rights prohibition and underprivileged people she was devoted to making federal aid to education free school lunches unions the eight hour work day work relief for the poor municipal sanitation and boards of health national transportation anti rape laws and protections against child abuse a reality This long forgotten and out of print book is available for the first time for e readers In Willard s own words she describes her life as an educator temperance reformer and suffragist She was an educator and later president of the Women s Christian Temperance Union She traveled extensively and even climbed the Great Pyramid in Egypt Her sexual orientation is still debated today but she states in this volume The loves of women for each other grow more numerous each day and I have pondered much why these things were That so little should be said about them surprises me for they are everywhere In these days when any capable and careful woman can honorably earn her own support there is no village that has not its examples of two hearts in counsel both of which are feminine She had many passionate attachments to other women and she discusses this in her book Willard was the first woman whose statue was included in the Statuary Hall of the United States Capitol building Be sure to LOOK INSIDE or download a sample The National Advocate ,1898 The Homiletic Review ,1887 The Musical
