Becoming Multicultural Personal And Social Construction Through Critical Teaching:

Becoming Multicultural Terry Ford, 2014-01-21 This book argues that becoming multicultural is a process of recursive cycles that must involve confrontational dialogue for change Multicultural education texts often describe multiculturalism as a process where a person develops competencies of perceiving evaluating believing and doing in multiple ways However the dynamic fluid and changing qualities central to the process of interpersonal interaction often results in mastery of a product focusing on lists of static features of generalized groups rather than on the individuals who make up those groups Rather than listing and describing objectified features of cultural groups from a theoretical view this book details the interactions of 21 ethnically diverse individuals through one classroom experience First the personal histories and meanings constructed from lived experience are detailed and analyzed to reveal the ways in which personal identity constructions influence learning events in a singular classroom context Second from this analysis the author develops a conceptual model for the process of becoming multicultural Then the author applies the model to herself and describes specific ways in which interaction with these individuals has influenced her present teaching strategies for expecting and facilitating confrontational dialogue toward developing education that is multicultural Specifically the book addresses the questions 1 What does it mean to become multicultural 2 What does it mean to be culturally sensitive 3 How can the process of multiculturalism be facilitated in a classroom setting 4 What is the teacher's role in the multicultural classroom 5 What are some expected predictable outcomes of a multicultural classroom Includes bibliography and index Becoming Multicultural Terry Ford, 1999 First Published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Teaching for a Culturally Diverse and Racially Just World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2014-02-25 Cultural and ethnic diversity is the reality of our world and much more so in this age of heightened globalization Yet do our ways of doing theological education match with our current reality and hopes for a colorful and just tomorrow How shall we do theological formation so it helps give birth to a culturally diverse racially just and hospitable world This edited volume gathers the voices of minoritized scholars and their white allies in the profession in response to the above questions More particularly this volume gathers the responses of these scholars to the questions What is the plight of theological education Who are the teachers Who are our students What shall we teach How shall we teach How shall we form and lead theological institutions It is the hope of this volume to contribute to the making of theological education that is hospitably just to difference s and welcoming of our diverse population which is our only viable future When we embody this vision in our daily educational practices particularly in the training of our future religious leaders we may help usher in a new colorful and just world Rethinking Language Arts Nina Zaragoza, 2013-12-02 In Rethinking Language Arts Passion and Practice Second Edition author Nina Zaragoza uses the form of letters to her students to engage pre service teachers in reevaluating teaching practices thus bringing to life a vision of an alternative classroom environment in which the teacher is the prime mover and creative leader Zaragoza
