Picturing Animals in Britain, 1750-1850 Diana Donald,2007-01-01 From fine art paintings by such artists as Stubbs and Landseer to zoological illustrations and popular prints a vast array of animal images was created in Britain during the century from 1750 to 1850 This highly original book investigates the rich meanings of these visual representations as well as the ways in which animals were actually used and abused What Diana Donald discovers in this fascinating study is a deep and unresolved ambivalence that lies at the heart of human attitudes toward animals The author brings to light dichotomies in human thinking about animals throughout this key period awestruck with the beauty and spirit of wild animals people nevertheless desired to capture and tame them the belief that other species are inferior was firmly held yet at the same time animals in stories and fables were given human attributes though laws against animal cruelty were introduced the overworking of horses and the allure of sport hunting persisted Animals are central in cultural history Donald concludes and compelling questions about them then and now remain unanswered

Audubon Art Prints Bill Steiner, 2003 This work offers buyers sellers and collectors an easy to use one volume source of information for these bird and quadruped prints of John James Audubon It contains obscure references where the author Bill Steiner has surveyed the contemporary market place Addressing one of the more complex aspects of print collection the text clarifies the task of distinguishing the octavo prints of the successive editions of Audubon s Birds of America 1840 1871 and Quadrupeds of North America 1849 1870 It describes the publication histories of each edition since the first offers information about printers engravers and subscribers and provides practical information on price histories accessibility and preservation
