rouses him from his bed with an outburst of song under the window and sets his sleepy brain to wondering whether it was a robins clear ringing call that startled him from his dreams or the chipping sparrow s wiry tremulo or the gushing little wrens tripping cadenza Interest in the birds trains the ear quite unconsciously A keen intelligent listener is rare even among grown ups but a child who is becoming acquainted with the birds about him hears every sound and puzzles out its meaning with a cleverness that amazes those with ears who hear not He responds to the first alarm note from the nesting blue birds in the orchard and dashes out of the house to chase away a prowling cat About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
