Birth Of Romance An Anthology:

Medieval Romance, Medieval Contexts Michael Staveley Cichon, Rhiannon Purdie, 2011 The popular genre of medieval romance explored in its physical geographical and literary contexts The essays in this volume take a representative selection of English and Scottish romances from the medieval period and explore some of their medieval contexts deepening our understanding not only of the romances concerned but also of the specific medieval contexts that produced or influenced them The contexts explored here include traditional literary features such as genre and rhetorical technique and literary cultural questions of authorship transmission and readership but they also extend to such broader intellectual and social contexts as medieval understandings of geography the physiology of swooning or the efficacy of baptism A framing context for the volume is provided by Derek Pearsall's prefatory essay in which he revisits his seminal 1965 article on the development of Middle English romance Rhiannon Purdie is Senior Lecturer in English University of St Andrews Michael Cichon is Associate Professor of English at St Thomas More College in the University of Saskatchewan Contributors Derek Pearsall Nancy Mason Bradbury Michael Cichon Nicholas Perkins Marianne Ailes John A Geck Phillipa Hardman Siobhain Bly Calkin Judith Weiss Robert Rouse Yin Liu Emily Wingfield Rosalind Field Medieval English Wardship in Romance and Law Noël James Menuge, 2001 This title explores how wardship literature in romance may be used in studies of wardship and how it may complement an understanding of legal history Wardship discourse is examined in a variety of sources legal treatises cases and romance A Century of British Medieval Studies Alan Deyermond, 2007-11-29 This is an authoritative guide to the full range of medieval scholarship undertaken in twentieth century Britain history archaeology language culture Some of the twenty nine essays focus on changes in research method or on the achievements of individual scholars others are personal accounts of a lifetime's work Publishing Romance Fiction in the Philippines Jodi McAlister, Claire Parnell, Andrea Anne Trinidad, 2023-06-08 The romance publishing landscape in the Philippines is vast and complex characterised by entangled industrial players diverse kinds of texts and siloed audiences This Element maps the large multilayered and highly productive sector of the Filipino publishing industry It explores the distinct genre histories of romance fiction in this territory and the social political and technological contexts that have shaped its development It also examines the close connections between romance publishing and other media sectors alongside unique reception practices It takes as a central case study the Filipino romance self publishing collective RomanceClass analysing how they navigate this complex local landscape as well as the broader international marketplace The majority of scholarship on romance fiction exclusively focuses on the Anglo American industry By focusing here on the Philippines the authors hope to disrupt this phenomenon and to contribute to a more decentred rhizomatic approach to understanding this genre world Japanese Women Poets: An Anthology Hiroaki Sato, 2014-12-18 Throughout history Japanese women have excelled in poetry from the folk songs of the Kojiki Record of Ancient Matters compiled in 712 and the court poetry of the 9th to the 14th centuries on through the age of haikai and kanshi to the 19th century into the contemporary period when books of women's poems have created a sensation. This anthology presents examples of the work of more than 100 Japanese women poets arranged chronologically and of all the major verse forms: choka, tanka, haikai, haiku, kanshi, verse written in Chinese and free verse. The poems describe not just seasonal changes and the vagaries of love which form the thematic core of traditional Japanese poetry but also the devastations of war, childbirth, conflicts between child rearing and work experiences as refugees, experiences as non-Japanese residents in Japan and more. Sections of poetry open with headnotes and the editor has provided explanations of terms and references for those unfamiliar with the Japanese language. Other useful tools include a glossary of poetic terms, a chronology and a bibliography that points the reader toward other works by and about these poets. There is no comparable collection available in English. Students and anyone who appreciates poetry and Japanese culture will treasure this magnificent anthology. Editor and translator Hiroaki Sato is a past winner of the PEN America translator prize and the Japan United States Friendship Commission's 1999 literary translation award.

The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear, detailed and accurate reference source on the literature, thought, music and art of the period, demonstrating the rich interplay of international influences and cross currents at work and to explore the many issues raised by the very concepts of Romantic and Romanticism.

In the Lógos of Love James Heft, Una M. Cadegan, 2016. So much has changed about Catholic intellectual life in the half century since the end of the Second Vatican Council that it has become difficult to locate the core concepts that make up the tradition. In the Lógos of Love is a collection of essays that grew out of a 2013 conference on Catholic intellectual life co-sponsored by the University of Dayton and the Institute for Advanced Catholic Studies at the University of Southern California. The essays, written by scholars of theology, history, law and media studies of religion, trace the history of this intellectual tradition in order to craft new tools for understanding the present day and approaching the future. Each essay explores both the promise of Catholic intellectual life and its various contemporary predicaments. How does a changed media landscape affect the way Catholicism is depicted and the way its adherents understand and communicate among themselves? What resources can the tradition offer for reflection on new understandings of sexuality and gender? How can and should US Catholic intellectual life embrace and enhance and introduce students to the new ways in which Catholicism is becoming a more global tradition? What is the role of scholars in disciplines beyond theology? Of scholars who are not Catholic? Of scholars in universities not sponsored by Catholic religious orders or dioceses? By providing context for and proposing responses to these questions, the scholars invite discussion and reflection from a wide range of readers who have one important thing in common: a stake in sustaining a vibrant, flourishing intellectual tradition.
