Black Boxes:

The Black Box Henry Louis Gates, Jr., 2025-03-18 A New York Times Notable Book Henry Louis Gates is a national treasure Here he returns with an intellectual and at times deeply personal meditation on the hard fought evolution and the very meaning of African American identity calling upon our country to transcend its manufactured divisions Isabel Wilkerson author of The Warmth of Other Suns and Caste This is a literary history of Black America but it is also an argument that African American history is inextricable from the history of African American literature The New York Times A magnificent foundational reckoning with how Black Americans have used the written word to define and redefine themselves in resistance to the lies of racism and often in heated disagreement with one another over the course of the country's history Distilled over many years from Henry Louis Gates Jr's legendary Harvard introductory course in African American studies The Black Box Writing the Race is the story of Black self definition in America through the prism of the writers who have led the way From Phillis Wheatley and Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois and Booker T Washington to Zora Neale Hurston and Rich and Wright James Baldwin and Toni Morrison these writers used words to create a livable world a home for Black people destined to live out their lives in a bitterly racist society It is a book grounded in the beautiful irony that a group formed legally and conceptually by its oppressors to justify brutal subhuman bondage transformed itself through the word into a community joined in overcoming one of history's most pernicious lies Out of that contested ground has flowered a resilient creative powerful diverse culture of people who have often disagreed markedly about what it means to be Black and about how best to use the past to create a more just and equitable future This is the epic story of how through essays and speeches novels plays and poems a long line of creative thinkers has unveiled the contours of and resisted confinement in the black box inside which this nation within a nation has been assigned willy nilly from the nation's founding through to today This is a book that records the compelling saga of the creation of a people

The Cybernetic Brain Andrew Pickering, 2010-04-15 Cybernetics is often thought of as a grim military or industrial science of control But as Andrew Pickering reveals in this beguiling book a much more lively and experimental strain of cybernetics can be traced from the 1940s to the present The Cybernetic Brain explores a largely forgotten group of British thinkers including Grey Walter Ross Ashby Gregory Bateson R D Laing Stafford Beer and Gordon Pask and their singular work in a dazzling array of fields Psychiatry engineering management politics music architecture education tantric yoga the Beats and the sixties counterculture all come into play as Pickering follows the history of cybernetics impact on the world from contemporary robotics and complexity theory to the Chilean economy under Salvador Allende What underpins this fascinating history Pickering contends is a shared but unconventional vision of the world as ultimately unknowable a place where genuine novelty is always emerging And thus Pickering avers the history of cybernetics provides us with an imaginative model of open ended experimentation in stark opposition to the modern urge to achieve domination over nature and each other imaginary Which ideologies do urban crisis imaginaries communicate How do these imaginaries relate to the notion of crisis To consider these questions the book reads crisis narratives through the lens of myth It combines perspectives from cultural media and communication studies anthropology philosophy geography and political economy to argue that the concept of myth can offer new and nuanced insights into the structure and politics of popular financial crisis imaginaries In so doing the book also asks if how and under what conditions urban crisis imaginaries open up or foreclose systematic and political understandings of the Global Financial Crisis as a symptom of the broader process of financialization

Sociology through Relation Christian Papilloud, 2017-10-17 This book delivers a top down understanding of relation as a macro phenomenon in society This understanding rests on the reconstruction of an ongoing debate in the French tradition about the purpose of a relational perspective in sociology and the social sciences Christian Papilloud analyzes the cardinal steps of this debate which historically relate to the concept of solidarity expressing an ideal of social cohesion through relationships between personal and non personal actors In social theory it is well known that solidarity refers to Emile Durkheim But little is known about the controversies generated in relation to the purpose of a relational perspective in sociology Papilloud reconstructs and follows the most important of these controversies in a comparative perspective beginning with Emile Durkheim and Gaston Richard on solidarity Richard and Marcel Mauss on sacrifice and magic Mauss and Pierre Bourdieu on gift and social positions Bourdieu and Bruno Latour on the objects of exchanges and institutions and Latour and Durkheim on reciprocity and control These comparisons give shape to a theoretical framework for a sociology through relation
