Black Diamond City Nanaimo The Victorian Era:

Black Diamond City Jan Peterson, 2002 Black Diamond City The Victorian Era is the first book in Jan Peterson's trilogy on the history of Nanaimo. Peterson traces the evolution of the city from its First Nations history to its coal industry to its becoming a diversified Victorian era community. Using original diaries, journals, letters, ships logs, government records, maps, archival photographs and her own drawings, Peterson vividly brings to life both the historical events that shaped Nanaimo and its people.

Harbour City Jan Peterson, 2006 Peterson brings to life Nanaimo's people and the events that shaped it in this final volume of her trilogy.

Hub City Jan Peterson, 2003 The Nanaimo Bastion which marked its 150th anniversary in 2003 remains a prominent symbol of Nanaimo's heritage as an HBC fort, coal mining centre and transportation hub, a vital link between other developing parts of Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland. Hub City, the second volume in Jan Peterson's trilogy on Nanaimo's vibrant history, tells of the development of this Vancouver Island community from the arrival of the E N Railway in 1886 through to the end of the First World War and the Spanish influenza epidemic. Included in her story are such pivotal events as the mining disaster of 1887, the Big Strike of 1912-1914, the emergence of the labour movement and the rise and fall of coal baron James Dunsmuir.

Kilts on the Coast Jan Peterson, 2012 When the Hudson's Bay Company decided to establish its new Pacific coast headquarters at Fort Victoria on Vancouver Island in 1843, the Island was a pristine paradise or an isolated wilderness depending on one's point of view that had sustained its First Nations inhabitants for millennia. It was one of the last places to be discovered and settled by Europeans in North America. It was Scots who came to the Island to manage the Company's business in Fort Victoria, engaging in the fur trade and establishing coal mining ventures around what is now Nanaimo, where black diamonds were found in abundance. From founding father James Douglas and other high placed Company men to the humble miners from Orkney and Ayrshire who were brought over on harsh voyages around Cape Horn to work Nanaimo's mines, the Scottish influence on the young Colony of Vancouver Island was indelible. Nanaimo author and historian Jan Peterson focuses on events and people who sparked settlement and growth in BC's first Crown Colony over six critical years, 1848 to 1854, and delves deep into the roots of the Island's Scottish presence, tracing the lives of such pioneers as Dr William Tolmie, Robert Dunsmuir and their descendants.

The Haunting of Vancouver Island Shanon Sinn, 2017-10-10 A compelling investigation into supernatural events and local lore on Vancouver Island. Vancouver Island is known worldwide for its arresting natural beauty, but those who live here know that it is also imbued with a palpable supernatural energy. Researcher Shanon Sinn found his curiosity piqued by stories of mysterious sightings on the island: ghosts, sasquatches, sea serpents, but he was disappointed in the sensational and sometimes disrespectful way they were being retold or revised. Acting on his desire to transform these stories from unsubstantiated gossip to thoroughly researched accounts, Sinn uncovered fascinating details, identified historical inconsistencies and now retells these encounters as accurately as possible. Investigating 25 spellbinding tales that wind their way from the south end of the island to the north Sinn explored hauntings in cities in the forest and on isolated logging roads In addition to visiting castles inns and cemeteries he followed the trail of spirits glimpsed on mountaintops beaches and water and visited Heriot Bay Inn on Quadra Island and the Schooner Restaurant in Tofino to personally scrutinize reports of hauntings Featuring First Nations stories from each of the three Indigenous groups who call Vancouver Island home the Coast Salish the Nuu chah nulth and the Kwakwaka wakw the book includes an interview with Hereditary Chief James Swan of Ahousaht Ignored

Climate Hope David Geselbracht,2024-10-19 Through extensive research and reporting this boundary crossing and highly readable survey of efforts to tackle climate change aims to replace our paralyzing fears with a restored sense of hope and determination Climate change is a problem so enormous and complex with threats so frightening in their implications that many of us fend off confusion and hopelessness by simply turning away There are jobs to do children to raise bills to pay Meanwhile with delayed action missed targets and increasingly dire reports at the international level a notion that the crisis is intractable continues to spread And the proposed solutions can be just as daunting They often involve jargon about gigatons of carbon and kilowatt hours of electricity In a deeply polarized political environment any sense of the common purpose required to make these work seems to dissolve into denial or paralysis With all this fear and conflict the question must be asked How do we find the tools and equally important the hope we need to tackle such a wickedly difficult issue In Climate Hope journalist David Geselbracht blends in depth research expert interviews and on the ground reporting in multiple countries revealing remarkable efforts to identify the causes and impacts of climate change and devise crucial ways to address them Geselbracht brings the reader to the chaotic 2021 UN Climate Change Conference in Glasgow as well as to giant heating ducts below the city of Copenhagen and to wildfire scorched landscapes in Western Canada to name just a few sites The scale of the challenge is clear in the range of fields he covers from glaciology and climate science to law and diplomacy But in drawing these approaches together he shares stories of hope awe and wonder that encourage us to confront this long term world warping phenomenon with a renewed sense of purpose and possibility Mark Bate Jan

Joseph William McKay Greg N. Fraser, 2021-07-02 An intriguing look at the accomplishments and contradictions of Joseph William McKay best known as the founder of Nanaimo BC and one of the most successful M tis men to rise through the ranks of the Hudson s Bay Company in the late nineteenth century When examining the history of British Columbia one would be hard pressed to find an Indigenous person who so successfully navigated the echelons of colonial power as did Joseph William McKay 1829 1900 McKay was M tis born in Quebec and began his career in Oregon during the dispute over the international boundary in 1845 46 After moving north he met his mentor James Douglas and at age twenty three was given the job of building the city of Nanaimo from the ground up and establishing its coal mines McKay made several exploratory trips with Douglas during the Gold Rush and he surveyed the route for the Overland Telegraph which ran throughout BC He rose through the ranks of the Hudson s Bay Company eventually earning the appointment of Chief Factor the company s highest rank This was at a time when few Indigenous employees of HBC were permitted to rise beyond the rank of postmaster After leaving the company in 1878 McKay began a second career in the Department of Indian Affairs He was a federal Indian Agent and later the Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs for British Columbia A product of his time who had found personal success working within the colonial system McKay is a complicated figure when viewed through a twenty first century lens He advocated on behalf of Indigenous Peoples when he tried to prevent the trespass of CPR crews and European settlers on their ancestral land Between 1886 and 1888 he personally inoculated more than a thousand Indigenous people with the smallpox vaccine Yet he also participated in a system that did untold harm to First Nations M tis and Inuit people This fascinating new biography sheds light on an accomplished and complex man
