100 British Crime Writers Esme Miskimmin, 2020-11-12 100 British Crime Writers explores a history of British crime writing between 1855 and

2015 through 100 writers detailing their lives and significant writing and exploring their contributions to the genre Divided into four sections The Victorians Edwardians and World War One 1855 1918 The Golden Age and World War Two 1919 1945 Post War and Cold War 1946 1989 and To the Millennium and Beyond 1990 2015 each section offers an introduction to the significant features of these eras in crime fiction and discusses trends in publication readership and critical response With entries spanning the earliest authors of crime fiction to a selection of innovative contemporary novelists this book considers the development and progression of the genre in the light of historical and social events Bloomsbury South Peter Simpson, 2016-07-18 Why was it then that out of the hundreds of towns and universities in the English speaking lands scattered over the seven seas only one should at that time act as a focus of creative literature of more than local significance that it should be in Christchurch New Zealand that a group of young writers had appeared who were eager to assimilate the pioneer developments in style and technique that were being made in England and America since the beginning of the century and to give their country a new conscience and spiritual perspective John Lehmann For two decades in Christchurch New Zealand a cast of extraordinary men and women remade the arts Various between 1933 and 1953 Christchurch was the home of Angus and Bensemann and McCahon Curnow and Glover and Baxter the Group the Caxton Press and the Little Theatre Landfall and Tomorrow Ngaio Marsh and Douglas Lilburn It was a city in which painters lived with writers writers promoted musicians in which the arts and artists from different forms were deeply intertwined And it was a city where artists developed a powerful synthesis of European modernist influences and an assertive New Zealand nationalism that gave mid century New Zealand cultural life its particular shape In this book Simpson tells the remarkable story of the rise and fall of this Bloomsbury South and the arts and artists that made it Simpson brings to life the individual talents and their passions but he also takes us inside the scenes that they created together Bethell and her visiting coterie of younger poets Glover and Bensemann s exacting typography at the Caxton Press the yearly exhibitions and aesthetic clashes of the Group McCahon and Baxter s developing friendship the effects of Brasch s patronage Marsh s Shakespearian re creations at the Little Theatre Simpson recreates a Christchurch we have lost where a group of artists collaborated to create a distinctively New Zealand art which spoke to the condition of their country as it emerged into the modern era Vibrant with Words Ursula Bethell, 2005 To date no full length biography has been published these letters few of which have ever been published before allow her to tell her own life story in a narration that can be earnestly solemn or gaily witty that records moments of joy and of sorrow but that emerges finally as an intensely moving account of one woman s attempt to come to terms with the grief that dominated her final years With their extensive annotations they give us an unrivalled picture of this significant woman and her attitudes to life and literature BOOK JACKET Christchurch Anna Rogers, 2003-11 The city of the plains the garden city the cathedral city Christchurch has traditionally been characterised by its geography its horticulture and its Anglican heritage But Christchurch also has a strong literary pedigree signalled early on by Canterbury settlers like Sarah

Amelia Courage and later confirmed by the establishment of the Caxton Press and the Pegasus Press both enlivened by the irrepressible Denis Glover and by the vibrant theatre associated with Ngaio Marsh For this wide ranging anthology Anna Rogers has selected poetry prose and fiction that both celebrates and gently satirises the city on the Avon Novelists James Courage and Steven Eldred Grigg rub shoulders with columnist Joe Bennett poet Hone Tuwhare and short fiction writers Owen Marshall and Fiona Farrell It is a collection that citizens and visitors alike will appreciate and enjoy The Our City series offers a new perspective on New Zealand's major cities Each volume presents a selection of the literature inspired by one of New Zealand's four major cities Chosen with care by a well known editor from each city the selections include short stories poems and extracts from novels and writers memoirs Each contributor whether contemporary or historical has a strong association with the city concerned and every selection has something significant to say about the character of the city Together they create a vivid picture of what makes the city unique

10 Women of Mystery Earl F. Bargainnier, 1981 This volume which examines the special contributions of a number of women mystery writers sheds light on this significant example of common interests in recreational reading among women and men and the reasons behind the early and continuing uncharacteristic near equality of both sexes in this field of endeavor Teaching Shakespeare Beyond the Centre K. Flaherty, P. Gay, L. Semler, 2013-03-05 Showcasing a wide array of recent innovative and original research into Shakespeare and learning in Australasia and beyond this volume argues the value of the local and provides transferable and adaptable models of educational theory and practice

In the Beginning Mary Jean DeMarr, 1995 Others concentrate more on analysis of the subject novel itself indicating more briefly how that book relates to those which follow it Some discuss such questions as what exactly is the first novel in some rather complex series and in several cases more than one initiating book is discussed No attempt has been made to include consideration of a representative sample of the various types of detective series but a variety of authors is covered ranging from such classics as Agatha Christie Rex Stout and Dorothy L Sayers to more recent authors like James McClure Joseph Hansen and Colin Dexter
