change and improvement must come from the inside Here is a practical road map for improving the climate and culture of schools in ways that are meaningful and enduring We must be open to new ideas new strategies and new opportunities School transformation is something you do with educators not to them This book will show you how Dennis Van Roekel President National Education Association      Enacting Equitable Global Citizenship Education in Schools Sarah Lillo Kang, Shona McIntosh, 2022-09-29 Offering contributions and vignettes from teachers school leaders and scholars this volume purposefully dismantles practitioner academic divides to invite dialogue around diverse understandings of global citizenship education GCE Recognizing that the field of GCE is often explored and conceptualized by educators and academics in silos this book confronts this issue by focusing on how schools educators and researchers can together support the enactment of GCE in international and national settings In doing so issues of westernization inequality access and divergence between GCE policy and practical implementation can be overcome The novel dialogical format links together theory practice and lived experience to create discourses between voices that are rarely connected Ultimately this volume offers important insights for those aiming to make equitable GCE a reality in schools worldwide and illustrates the value of collaborative dialogic exchange This text will benefit scholars academics and students in the fields of international and comparative education the sociology of education and citizenship more broadly Those involved with multicultural education policy and citizenship in the context of political sociology and social policy will also benefit from this volume      Courage, Interdisciplinary Thematic Unit: Challenging , Military Ethics and Virtues Peter Olsthoorn, 2010-09-21 This book examines the role of military virtues in today s armed forces Although long established military virtues such as honor courage and loyalty are what most armed forces today still use as guiding principles in an effort to enhance the moral behavior of soldiers much depends on whether the military virtues adhered to by these militaries suit a particular mission or military operation Clearly the beneficiaries of these military virtues are the soldiers themselves fellow soldiers and military organizations yet there is little that regulates the behavior of soldiers towards civilian populations As a result troops trained for combat in today s missions sometimes experience difficulty in adjusting to the less aggressive ways of working needed to win the hearts and minds of local populations after major combat is over It can be argued that today s missions call for virtues that are more inclusive than the traditional ones which are mainly about enhancing military effectiveness but a convincing case can be made that a lot can already be won by interpreting these traditional virtues in different ways This volume offers an integrated approach to the main traditional virtues exploring their possible relevance and proposing new ways of interpretation that are more in line with the military tasks of the 21st century The book will be of much interest to students of military ethics philosophy and war and conflict in general      Teaching Thinking Cathy Collins, John N. Mangieri, 2012-12-06 Comprehensively addressing the development of thinking from a wide variety of perspectives this volume presents original work from cognitive psychologists curriculum specialists federal government and business leaders politicians educational theorists and other prominent figures specializing in this complex field These experts provide directives for teacher education textbook development classroom activities administrative policies publication procedures business connections community education strategies and whole school projects as sample plans of action Designed to spark adoptions of the solutions it proposes this book suggests significant steps that can be taken to move toward more advanced thinking instruction in our educational systems
