Blind Painting:

The Painter's Touch Ewa Lajer-Burchard, 2018-01-08 A new interpretation of the development of artistic modernity in eighteenth century France What can be gained from considering a painting not only as an image but also a material object How does the painter's own experience of the process of making matter for our understanding of both the painting and its maker The Painter's Touch addresses these questions to offer a radical reinterpretation of three paradigmatic French painters of the eighteenth century In this beautifully illustrated book Ewa Lajer Burchard provides close readings of the works of François Boucher Jean Sim on Chardin and Jean Honor Fragonard entirely recasting our understanding of these painters practice Using the notion of touch she examines the implications of their strategic investment in materiality and sheds light on the distinct contribution of painting to the culture of the Enlightenment Lajer Burchard traces how the distinct logic of these painters work the operation of surface in Boucher the deep materiality of Chardin and the dynamic morphological structure in Fragonard contributed to the formation of artistic identity Through the notion of touch she repositions these painters in the artistic culture of their time shifting attention from institutions such as the academy and the Salon to the realms of the market the medium and the body Lajer Burchard analyzes Boucher's commercial tact Chardin's interiorized craft and Fragonard's materialization of eros Foregrounding the question of experience that of the painters and of the people they represent she shows how painting as a medium contributed to the Enlightenment's discourse on the self in both its individual and social functions By examining what paintings actually say in brushstrokes texture and paint The Painter's Touch transforms our understanding of the role of painting in the emergence of modernity and provides new readings of some of the most important and beloved works of art of the era

Art Theory as Visual Epistemology Harald Klinke, 2014-06-26 How can we know What does knowledge mean These were the fundamental questions of epistemology in the 17th century In response to continental rationalism the British empiricist John Locke proposed that the only knowledge humans can have is acquired a posteriori In a discussion of the human mind he argued the source of knowledge is sensual experience mostly vision Since vision and picture making are the realm of art art theory picked up on questions such as are pictures able to represent knowledge about the world How does the production of images itself generate knowledge How does pictorial logic differ from linguistic logic How can artists contribute to a collective search for truth Questions concerning the epistemic potential of art can be found throughout the centuries up until the present day However these are not questions of art alone but of the representational value of images in general Thus the history of art theory can contribute much to recent discussions in Visual Studies and Bildwissenschaften by showing the historic dimension of arguments about what images are or should be What is knowledge is as much a philosophic question as What is an image Visual epistemology is a new and promising research field that is best investigated using an interdisciplinary approach that addresses a range of interconnected areas such as internal and external images and the interplay of producer and perceiver of images This publication outlines this territory by gathering together several approaches to visual epistemology by many distinguished authors

20/20 Blindsight Busser Howell, 2013-02-04 At the age of fifteen Busser Howell lost 98 percent of his vision At the age of forty he lost the remaining 2 percent Were the story to end there you would likely not be entirely shocked as this type of circumstance is not that uncommon But this is not the whole story not by a long shot You see Howell is an artist a painter to be exact And prior to being a professional working artist in New York City he was a partner and worked twenty four years in an interior design and restoration business Possibly even more amazing than his breaking of our stereotypes of the blind is the fact that he is not alone Interviewing other blind artists to discover each person's particular point of view and what kind of descriptions work for them author and blind artist Busser Howell's debut is an extraordinary look into a world never before seen or understood from the point of view of the visually challenged Beginning by examining the concepts of creativity perception touch and accessibility Howell engages the vibrant boundless minds of fifteen visually impaired artists to mine their thoughts feelings and understanding to piece together a common thread of experience It is the artists telling their story their preferences and dislikes and their ability despite their blindness to tap into sight's brain based function to see and comprehend our world and its contents An enlightening and fascinating journey into the artistic process as seen by those whose vision is either severely impaired or altogether absent Howell's impressive collection of writings and interviews is a probing examination of the artistic process and the nature of art itself Evocative and inspiring Blindsight is a deeply moving passage that documents the journey of visual artists as they transition from the visual input of the outside world to the output of their inner vision transcending blindness into the light of creativity      The Blind Spot Jacqueline Lichtenstein, 2008 Beginning in the seventeenth century the greatest French writers and artists became embroiled in a debate that turned on the priority of painting or sculpture touch or sight color or design ancients or moderns Jacqueline Lichtenstein guides readers through these historic quarrels decoding the key terms of the heated discussions and revealing how the players were influenced by the concurrent explosion of scientific discoveries concerning the senses of sight and touch Drawing on the work of Ren Descartes Roger de Piles Denis Diderot Charles Baudelaire and mile Zola among others The Blind Spot lets readers eavesdrop on an energetic and contentious conversation that preoccupied French intellectuals for three hundred years      Leonardo on Painting Leonardo, 2001-01-01 This is a selection of Leonardo da Vinci's writings on painting Martin Kemp and Margaret Walker have edited material not only from his so called Treatise on Painting but also from his surviving manuscripts and from other primary sources      An Uncommon Vision Des Moines Art Center, Neal David Benezra, Franz Schulze, Louise Rosenfield Noun, Amy N. Worthen, Christopher D. Roy, 1998 This magnificent volume marks the fiftieth anniversary of this museum and art school housed in buildings designed by world renowned architects Eliel Saarinen I M Pei and Richard Meier Illustrated essays cover the history of the Center and its distinguished architecture Colorplates and commentary present more than 100 masterpieces of 20th century art and tribal arts      Iconoclasm in Aesthetics Michael Kelly, 2003-09-04 Contemporary theorizing about art is dominated by a clash between two approaches philosophers have characteristically taken the view that art is a vehicle of some universal meaning or truth while art historians and others working in the humanities emphasize the concrete nature and historical particularity of the work of art Is art capable of sustaining these two approaches Or as Kelly argues is art rather determined by its historical particularity If so then if philosophers continue to pursue mainly the universality of art they inadvertently end up exhibiting a disinterest and distrust in art Kelly calls such disinterest and distrust iconoclasm and in this book he discusses four philosophers Heidegger Adorno Derrida and Danto who are ultimately iconoclasts despite their deep philosophical engagement with the arts He concludes by suggesting ways in which iconoclasm in aesthetics can be avoided in the future      Leonardo on Art and the Artist Leonardo da Vinci, 2012-08-08 Systematic grouped passages of Leonardo's writings concerning painting focusing on problems of interpretation More than an anthology it offers a reconstruction of the underlying meaning of Leonardo's words Introductions notes bibliography reference materials Over 125 black and white illustrations      Art & Ophthalmology Philippe Lanthony, 2009      Ribera's Repetitions Todd P. Olson, 2024-10-08 The seventeenth century Valencian artist Jusepe de Ribera spent most of his career in Spanish Viceregal Naples where he was known as Lo Spagnoletto or the Little

Spaniard Working under the patronage of Spanish viceroys Ribera held a special position bridging two worlds In Ribera s Repetitions art historian Todd P Olson sheds new light on the complexity of Ribera s artwork and artistic methods and their connections to the Spanish imperial project Drawing from a diverse range of sources including poetry literature natural history philosophy and political history Olson presents Ribera s work in a broad context He examines how Ribera s techniques including rotation material decay through etching and repetition influenced the artist s drawings and paintings Many of Ribera s works featured scenes of physical suffering from Saint Jerome s corroded skin and the flayed bodies of Saint Bartholomew and Marsyas to the ragged beggar philosophers and the eviscerated Tityus But far from being the result of an individual sadistic predilection Olson argues Ribera s art was inflected by the legacies of the Reconquest of Spain and Neapolitan coloniality Ribera s material processes and themes were not hermetically sealed in the studio rather they were engaged in the global Spanish Empire Pathbreaking and deeply interdisciplinary this copiously illustrated book offers art history students and scholars a means to see Ribera s art anew Challenges of Educational Innovation in Contemporary Society Mateo-Guillen, Copelia, Cortijo Ocaña, Antonio, 2025-04-03 In contemporary society educational innovation faces multiple challenges despite the increasing emphasis on reform and transformation in learning environments Rapid technological advancements evolving societal expectations and the growing diversity of student needs have created both opportunities and obstacles for educators and institutions The integration of new pedagogical approaches digital tools and inclusive practices often encounters resistance due to traditional mindsets limited resources and disparities in technology access The pressure to balance standardized curricula with the desire for personalized learning complicates the process of creating innovative effective educational models Addressing these challenges requires careful alignment of policy practice and community engagement to foster an adaptable equitable educational system Challenges of Educational Innovation in Contemporary Society explores the various obstacles and complexities that arise when attempting to modernize and transform education in today s rapidly changing world It delves into the difficulties educators policymakers and institutions face when introducing new teaching methods technologies and inclusive practices and how these innovations often clash with existing systems resources and societal norms This book covers topics such as education technology gamification and sociology and is a useful resource for educators sociologists computer engineers academicians researchers and scientists
