Blindness Insight Essays In The Rhetoric Of Contemporary Criticism:

Blindness and Insight Paul de Man, 2013-10-28 In Blindness and Insight de Man examines several critics and finds in their writings a gap between their statements about the nature of literature and the results of their practical criticism. Not only are the critics unaware of this gap, says de Man, but their blindness to it often leads to some of their most valuable insights. The central issue of de Man's work is the rhetorical constitution of the text, and this book, with its new introduction by Wlad Godzich and five additional essays by de Man, is meant to challenge readers to a new appreciation of their chosen task as readers of literature. Included in this new edition are the original essays on Binswanger, Poulet, Lukas, Blanchot, the New Critics, and Derrida's Grammatology, as well as five more: The Rhetoric of Temporality, The Dead End of Formalist Criticism, Heidegger's Exegesis of Holderlin, a review of Bloom's Anxiety of Influence, and Literature and Language.

Blindness and Insight Paul De Man, 1983 Blindness and Insight Paul de Man, 1993 Blindness and Insight : Essays in The rhetoric of Contemporary Criticism p De man, 1971 Edward Said and the Authority of Literary Criticism

Nicolas Vandeviver, 2019-09-26 This book examines the earliest writings of Edward Said and the foundations of what came to be known as postcolonial criticism in order to reveal how the groundbreaking author of Orientalism turned literary criticism into a form of political intervention. Tracing Said's shifting conceptions of literature and agency in relation to the history of American literary studies in the thirty years or so between the end of World War II and the last quarter of the twentieth century, this book offers a rich and novel understanding of the critical practice of this indispensable figure and the institutional context from which it emerged. By combining broad-scale literary history with granular attention to the vocabulary of criticism, Nicolas Vandeviver brings to light the harmonizing of methodological conflicts that informs Said's approach to literature and argues that Said's enduring political significance is grounded in his practice as a literary critic.

The Reading of Theoretical Texts Peter Ekegren, 2002-01-04 Since the structuralist debates of the 1970s, the field of textual analysis has largely remained the preserve of literary theorists. Social scientists, while accepting that observation is theory-laden, have tended to take the meaning of texts as given and to explain differences of interpretation either in terms of ignorance or bias. In this important contribution to methodological debate, Peter Ekegren uses developments within literary criticism, philosophy, and critical theory to reclaim this study for the social sciences and to illuminate the ways in which different readings of a single text are created and defended.

Literary Intention, Literary Interpretations, and Readers John Maynard, 2009-04-17 This accessible, personal, and provocative study returns to the major subject in literary discussion: before and during the relatively recent flourishing of literary theory, that of literary intention. Does the author's personal intention or historical site determine a correct interpretation of a literary work? Probing the entire range of issues connected with this many-faceted and knotty concept, this book engages with interpretation on both theoretical and practical levels. It argues that the hard questions about interpretation connected to issues of intention cannot be sidestepped or ignored It does not argue for conservative concepts of literature itself nor against the major historical engagements of critics in our time But in addressing those who continue to read or teach literature it does insist on a level of sophistication in issues of literary interpretation that cannot be assured by historical research and knowledge of the social and cultural connections to literary works The overall aim of the work is to recall readers to the great complexity pleasure and interest of literary interpretation

Fifty Key Literary Theorists Richard J. Lane, 2006-09-27 Covering over a century's worth of debate thinking and writing about literature this is a unique guide to the lives and works of fifty theorists who have left an indelible mark on literary studies Featuring theorists such as Judith Butler Jacques Derrida Sigmund Freud and Edward Said this accessible guide includes a glossary of terms full cross referencing for maximum ease of use authoritative guides to further reading on and by each theorist An essential resource for all students of literature Fifty Key Literary Theorists explores the gamut of critical debate from the New Critics to the Deconstructionists and from post colonialism to post Marxism and more

Paul de Man (Routledge Revivals) Christopher Norris, 2009-12-10 Paul de Man literary critic literary philosopher American deconstructionist changed the landscape of criticism through his rigorous theories and writings Upon its original publication in 1988 Christopher Norris book was the first full length introduction to de Man a reading that offers a much needed corrective to the pattern of extreme antithetical response which marked the initial reception to de Man's writings Norris addresses de Man's relationship to philosophical thinking in the post Kantian tradition his concern with aesthetic ideology as a potent force of mystification within and beyond that tradition and the vexed issue of de Man's politics Norris brings out the marked shift of allegiance in de Man's thinking from the thinly veiled conservative implications of the early essays to the engagement with Marx and Foucault on matters of language and politics in the late posthumous writing At each stage Norris raises these questions through a detailed close reading of individual texts which will be welcomed by those who lack any specialised knowledge of de Man's work

Art Encounters Deleuze and Guattari S. O'Sullivan, 2005-12-16 In a series of philosophical discussions and artistic case studies this volume develops a materialist and immanent approach to modern and contemporary art The argument is made for a return to aesthetics an aesthetics of affect and for the theorization of art as an expanded and complex practice Staging a series of encounters between specific Deleuzian concepts the virtual the minor the fold etc and the work of artists that position their work outside of the gallery or outside of representation Simon O Sullivan takes Deleuze's thought into other milieus allowing these possible worlds to work back on philosophy

Paul de Man Martin McQuillan, 2001-01-25 Paul de Man's work is key to the American deconstruction movement and to the so called political turn in critical theory Seventeen years after his death his works continue to arouse violent reactions among critics This book explains why de Man is such an important voice detailing his critical position exploring his intellectual and historical contexts tracing the influence of his work and enabling readers to undertake independent study of his criticism

Interpretation and Allegory Whitman, 2022-03-28 Western literary philosophical and religious traditions from Plato and Paul to Augustine and Avicenna have utilized exploited or been subjected to allegorical interpretation Naturally developing a composite picture of interpretive allegory from such a large landscape faces numerous difficulties As the editor puts it to imagine a definitive account of the theory and practice of allegorical interpretation in the West would require something of an allegorical vision in its own right With that caveat in mind however the international team of contributors from a variety of disciplines offers a historical and conceptual framework for understanding interpretive allegory in the West from antiquity through the early and late medieval and renaissance periods and from the eighteenth through the twentieth centuries This publication has also been published in hardback please click here for details

Reading Derrida's Of Grammatology Sean Gaston, Ian MacLachlan, 2011-09-01 Explores Derrida's major work through readings of key passages by such leading scholars as Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak J Hillis Miller and Derek Attridge

Continental Philosophy in the 20th Century Richard Kearney, 2015-09-29 Continental philosophy is one of the twentieth century's most important and challenging philosophical movements This major volume includes fourteen chapters on its major representatives and schools including phenomenology existentialism and postmodernism

Meetings with Mallarmé Michael Temple, 1998 In Meetings with Mallarmé top scholars from the UK and USA have been specially commissioned to explore the significance of Mallarmé's influence on some of the major players in French psychoanalysis music poetry philosophy and literary theory

Literary Theory at Work Douglas Tallack, 1987-01-01 PM This is a sequel to the successful Modern Literary Theory by Jefferson and Robey Barnes Noble While the latter concentrates on expounding theory without embarking on its application Tallack and his Critical Theory group take three literary texts and show how different literary theories can be used in practice in the analysis of real texts The three texts are R In the Cage by Henry James St Mawr by D H Lawrence and Heart of Darkness by Joseph Conrad The branches of theory applied to them are Structuralism Narrative Theory and Character Theory Psychoanalytic Theory Feminism Linguistics and Reader Response Theory Deconstruction and Marxism

Juan Goytisolo Stanley Black, 2007 This collection of essays looks at the most recent work of Juan Goytisolo from a variety of perspectives and critical stances The contributors all specialists in the work of the Spanish author employ theories of intertextuality postmodernist irony queer ethics and even the esoteric science of Huru sm to uncover the complexities of Goytisolo's creative practice in particular his radical blurring of the generic boundaries between fiction autobiography and literary criticism Such challenging of genre conventions is seen as both integral to the author's own questioning of his identity as an expression of his radical dissidence and essential to the response his work evokes in the reader Life and writing autobiography and ction constitute the interconnecting poles of Goytisolo's artistic universe The essays included in this volume explore the varying patterns of con uence of these twin strands in the writer's later work as a whole but particularly in novels such as Las semanas del jardín 1997 and Carajicomedia 2000 The essays are set in context by a contribution from Juan Goytisolo himself in which he sums up his philosophy of life and writing as a pursuit of non profitable knowledge

Good Form Jesse Rosenthal, 2019-12-10 What do we mean when we say that a novel's conclusion feels right How did feeling form and the sense of right and wrong get mixed up during the nineteenth century in the experience of reading a novel Good Form argues that Victorian readers associated the feeling of narrative form of being pulled forward to a satisfying conclusion with inner moral experience Reclaiming the work of a generation of Victorian intuitionist philosophers who insisted that true morality consisted in being able to feel or intuit the morally good Jesse Rosenthal shows that when Victorians discussed the moral dimensions of reading novels they were also subtly discussing the genre's formal properties For most Victorian moralizing is one of the period's least attractive and interesting qualities But Good Form argues that the moral interpretation of novel experience was essential in the development of the novel form and that this moral approach is still a fundamental if unrecognized part of how we understand novels Bringing together ideas from philosophy literary history and narrative theory Rosenthal shows that we cannot understand the formal principles of the novel that we have inherited from the nineteenth century without also understanding the moral principles that have come with them Good Form helps us to understand the way Victorians read but it also helps us to understand the way we read now

Sanity, Madness, Transformation Ross Greig Woodman, 2005-01-01 In Sanity Madness Transformation Ross Woodman offers an extended reflection on the relationship between sanity and madness in Romantic literature Woodman is one of the field's most distinguished authorities on psychoanalysis and romanticism Engaging with the works of Northrop Frye Jacques Derrida Sigmund Freud and Carl Jung he argues that madness is essential to the writings of William Blake William Wordsworth and Percy Shelley and that it has been likewise fundamental to the emergence of the modern subject in psychoanalysis and literary theory For Frye madness threatens humanism whereas for Derrida its relationship is more complex and more productive Both approaches are informed by Freudian and Jungian responses to the psyche which in turn are drawn from an earlier Romantic ambivalence about madness This work which began as a collection of Woodman's essays assembled by colleague Joel Faflak quickly evolved into a new book that approached Romanticism from an original psychoanalytic perspective by returning madness to its proper place in the creative psyche Sanity Madness Transformation is a provocative hybrid of theory literary criticism and autobiography and is yet another decisive step in a distinguished academic career
