Crime and Punishment in Islamic Law Mohammad Hashim Kamali,2019 In Crime and Punishment in Islamic Law A Fresh Interpretation Mohammad Kamali considers problems associated with and proposals for reform of the hudud punishments prescribed by Islamic criminal law and other topics related to crime and punishment in Shariah He examines what the Qur'an and hadith say about hudud punishments as well as just retaliation qisas and discretionary punishments ta'zir and looks at modern day applications of Islamic criminal law in 15 Muslim countries. Particular attention is given to developments in Malaysia, a multi-religious society, federal state and self-described democracy where a lively debate about hudud has been on going for the last three decades. Malaysia presents a particularly interesting case study of how a reasonably successful country with a market economy, high levels of exposure to the outside world and a credible claim to inclusivity deals with Islamic and Shariah related issues. Kamali concludes that there is a significant gap between the theory and practice of hudud in the scriptural sources of Shariah and the scholastic articulations of jurisprudence of the various schools of Islamic law, arguing that literalism has led to such rigidity as to make Islamic criminal law effectively a dead letter. His goal is to provide a fresh reading of the sources of Shariah and demonstrate how the Qur'an and Sunnah can show the way forward to needed reforms of Islamic criminal law.

The Sacred Law of Islam Hamid R. Kusha, 2017-07-05 Assessing the treatment of women under Iran's justice system, this book offers a rare analysis of women's situation in a system of justice that adheres to Islam's Sacred Law. It also demonstrates that the Sacred Law is one of the most complex, detailed and comprehensive legal theories that Islam has produced in its capacity as a doctrine of social justice.

The Foundations of Islamic Banking Mohamed Ariff, Munawar Iqbal, 2011-01-01 After barely half a century of experience, Islamic banking has become established as a new niche industry across the world, offering new and sophisticated financial products designed to be compliant with the principles of Islamic legal principles and common law. This comprehensive book explores the theory, principles and practices underpinning this rapidly expanding sector of banking. Expert contributors, including eminent scholars and senior practitioners in the field, examine the roots of the principles of ethical Islamic financial transactions which have evolved over several millennia on issues including usury, interest rates, financial contracting for funding enterprises, for mortgages, for leasing and other financial transactions. Regulatory and governance issues are discussed and the practice and operation of Islamic financial institutions are explained via three distinct case studies. Importantly, the final chapter looks at what steps are being taken to provide professional accreditation to Islamic banking professional personnel and prescribes requirements for training in this growing industry.
