Black Theatre Paul Carter Harrison,Victor Leo Walker (II.),Gus Edwards,2002-11-08 Generating a new understanding of the past as well as a vision for the future this path breaking volume contains essays written by playwrights scholars and critics that analyze African American theatre as it is practiced today Even as they acknowledge that Black experience is not monolithic these contributors argue provocatively and persuasively for a Black consciousness that creates a culturally specific theatre This theatre rooted in an African mythos offers ritual rather than realism it transcends the specifics of social relations reaching toward revelation The ritual performance that is intrinsic to Black theatre renews the community in Paul Carter Harrison s words it reveals the Form of Things Unknown in a way that binds cleanses and heals      The Black Chicago Renaissance Darlene Clark Hine,John McCluskey,2012-06-25 The New Negro consciousness with its roots in the generation born in the last and opening decades of the 19th and 20th centuries replenished and nurtured by migration resulted in the Harlem Renaissance in the 1920s then reemerged transformed in the 1930s as the Black Chicago Renaissance. The authors in this volume argue that beginning in the 1930s and lasting into the 1950s Black Chicago experienced a cultural renaissance that rivaled the cultural outpouring in Harlem. The Black Chicago Renaissance however has not received its full due. This book addresses that neglect. Like Harlem, Chicago had become a major destination for black southern migrants. Unlike Harlem, it was also an urban industrial center that gave a unique working class and internationalist perspective to the cultural work that took place here. The contributors to Black Chicago Renaissance analyze a prolific period of African American creativity in music, performance art, social science scholarship, and visual and literary artistic expression. Each author discusses forces that distinguished and link the Black Chicago Renaissance to the Harlem Renaissance as well as placing the development of black culture in a national and international context by probing the histories of multiple sequential and overlapping Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, Memphis black renaissances. Among the topics discussed in this volume are Chicago writers Gwendolyn Brooks and Richard Wright, The Chicago Defender, and Tivoli Theater. African American music and visual arts as well as the American Negro Exposition of 1940. The American Contractor, 1922. American Motorcyclist, 1990-05.
