Sorensen,2012-07-06 In Optical Allusions Screens Paintings and Poetry in Classical Japan ca 800 1200 Joseph T Sorensen illustrates how on both the theoretical and the practical level painted screens and other visual art objects helped define some of the essential characteristics of Japanese court poetry In his examination of the important genre later termed screen poetry Sorensen employs ekphrasis the literary description of a visual art object as a framework to analyze poems composed on or for painted screens He provides close readings of poems and their social political and cultural contexts to argue the importance of the visual arts in the formation of Japanese poetics and poetic conventions Householders Steven D. Carter,2020-10-26 As direct descendants of the great courtier poets Fujiwara no Shunzei 1114 1204 and his son Teika 1162 1244 the heirs of the noble Reizei house can claim an unbroken literary lineage that spans over eight hundred years During all that time their primary goal has been to sustain the poetic enterprise or michi way of the house and to safeguard its literary assets Steven D Carter weaves together strands of family history literary criticism and historical research into a coherent narrative about the evolution of the Reizei Way What emerges from this innovative approach is an elegant portrait of the Reizei poets as participants in a collective institution devoted more to the continuity of family poetic practices and ideals than to the concept of individual expression that is so central to more modern poetic culture In addition to the narrative chapters the book also features an extensive appendix of one hundred poems from over the centuries by poets who were affiliated with the Reizei house Carter s annotations provide essential critical context for this selection of poems and his deft translations underscore the rich contributions of the Reizei family and their many disciples to the Japanese poetic tradition
