Aircraft David Pascoe, 2004-09-03 In his celebrated manifesto Aircraft 1935 the architect Le Corbusier presented more than 100 photographs celebrating airplanes either in imperious flight or elegantly at rest Dwelling on the artfully abstracted shapes of noses wings and tails he declared Ponder a moment on the truth of these objects Clearness of function In Aircraft David Pascoe follows this lead and offers a startling new account of the form of the airplane an object that in the course of a hundred years has developed from a flimsy contraption of wood wire and canvas into a machine compounded of exotic materials whose wings can touch the edges of space Tracing the airplane through the twentieth century he considers the subject from a number of perspectives as an inspiration for artists architects and politicians as a miracle of engineering as a product of industrialized culture as a device of military ambition and finally in its clearness of function as an instance of sublime technology Profusely illustrated and authoritatively written Aircraft offers not just a fresh account of aeronautical design documenting in particular the forms of earlier flying machines and the dependence of later projects upon them but also provides a cultural history of an object whose very shape contains the dreams and nightmares of the modern age
