Lonesome Roads and Streets of Dreams Andrew S.

Berish,2024-05-31 Any listener knows the power of music to define a place but few can describe the how or why of this phenomenon In Lonesome Roads and Streets of Dreams Place Mobility and Race in Jazz of the 1930s and 40s Andrew Berish attempts to right this wrong showcasing how American jazz defined a culture particularly preoccupied with place By analyzing both the performances and cultural context of leading jazz figures including the many famous venues where they played Berish bridges two dominant scholarly approaches to the genre offering not only a new reading of swing era jazz but an entirely new framework for musical analysis in general one that examines how the geographical realities of daily life can be transformed into musical sound Focusing on white bandleader Jan Garber black bandleader Duke Ellington white saxophonist Charlie Barnet and black guitarist Charlie Christian as well as traveling from Catalina Island to Manhattan to Oklahoma City Lonesome Roads and Streets of Dreams depicts not only a geography of race but how this geography was disrupted how these musicians crossed physical and racial boundaries from black to white South to North and rural to urban and how they found expression for these movements in the insistent music they were creating RAF and USAAF

Airfields in the UK During the Second World War Geoff Mills,Daniel Knowles,2022-03-31 Shortly after the end of the Second World War the United Kingdom was described as one vast aircraft carrier anchored off the coast of Europe During a seven year period 500 airfields were constructed to serve the needs first of the RAF and later the USAAF as they carried the war to German occupied Europe The airfields that were constructed took many different forms from training airfields and Advanced Landing Grounds to grass fighter airstrips and vast complexes used to accommodate heavy bombers This book charts the history of each Second World War airfield in and around the UK providing a unique insight in to the construction operational life and post war history of each airfield Alongside detailing the history of each airfield this work comprehensively records the details of each unit that operated from airfields around the UK The information provided in this meticulously researched book is supported by a wealth of 690 photographs providing an illustration into the life of each wartime station Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1995 Building Dutch Air Power in World War II Nicholas

Michael Sambaluk,2025-01-17 During World War II the United States earned the nickname the arsenal of democracy due to its sheer productive output which included over 3 000 000 trucks and jeeps 86 000 tanks 6 750 naval platforms 300 000 aircraft of all types It was also the arsenal of democracy in a second sense as a large portion of that hardware was supplied to countries fighting fascism When Franklin D Roosevelt introduced the Lend Lease Act Allied countries of the antifascist coalition were supplied with aid hardware and food Beyond material aid the United States also hosted and trained over 20 000 foreign pilots and aircrew between 1941 and 1945 This book presents the history of one such training program where 532 Dutch pilots crew and other personnel were trained on United States soil over 21 months With the Japanese army intent on invading the Netherlands East Indies it was critical that the Dutch army strengthen their air power. When resistance fell on the NEI island of Java and Australia became the new front line, Dutch authorities were forced to relocate their training program to Jackson, Mississippi, where they christened the Royal Netherlands Military Flying School. From there they trained on bases in over a dozen states representing a high point for the Dutch air force during a grueling time. After their training, the RNMFS participated in the liberation of NEI from Japanese occupation. This history presents in full context the training of Dutch air personnel on U.S. soil under the Lend Lease Act, their easy rapport with their American hosts, and their efforts to establish the Netherlands as an integral part of the Allied cause.

Catalina over Arctic

Oceans John French, 2013-02-05. John French first took up flying in 1937 with the University of London Air Squadron and in 1938 joined the Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve. His early war years were spent instructing newly recruited RAF pilots on Airspeed Oxfords and Avro Ansons. When the end of this posting came through, he was designated to 210 Squadron at Sullom Voe in the Shetlands to fly the Catalina flying boat. In November 1942, the squadron was ordered south to join 202 Squadron at Gibraltar. Here they flew sorties in support of the North African landings, Operation Torch. These were lengthy flights out into the Atlantic, approaches to Gibraltar or eastwards into the Mediterranean. He flew fifteen sorties in this short period before returning to Pembroke Dock. He was then instructed to report to Felixstowe to collect Catalina IB FP 222 and to ferry it up to his new base Sullom Voe. From this northern base, the flying boats flew thirty-hour patrols out into the Northern Atlantic, searching for enemy ships and U-boats. On 8 September, he was ordered to execute an extended search of the Norwegian coast where it was thought that the Tirpitz and Scharnhorst were seeking shelter. Having unsuccessfully searched the entire coastline at low level, they finally touched down on the Kola Inlet after a flight of over twenty-two hours. As February 1944 came towards its end, he was detailed to cover a Russian convoy, JW57, far up to the north of the Arctic Circle. Shortly before his ETA with the convoy, they got a radar return. They dropped down below the cloud to find a rough, angry sea and spotted the wake of a ship. However, this was not a ship but a surfaced U-boat. As they flew into attack, they met a hail of 37mm and machine gun fire. John dropped to attack level and came in from the stern, dropping two depth charges. Thus came the demise of U-601. On 18 July 1944, a Liberator of 86 Squadron was set on fire during an attack on a U-boat and was forced to ditch some 100 miles west of the Lofoten Islands. Eight members of the crew took to their dinghies. A Catalina was despatched on a search and rescue mission the following day but failed to find the victims. However, on 20 July they were resighted. A volunteer crew was hastily formed and took off at 0130 on the 21st. Some excellent navigation brought the survivors into view at ETA. John decided to attempt a sea landing to effect the rescue. He came in low into wind and across the swell at 65 knots. His crew soon had the stranded airman aboard, somewhat bedraggled after their sixty-two-hour ordeal. They landed back at Sullom at 1410 After the war John stayed in the RAF and spent much of his time behind the Iron Curtain

The Sailor Aviators Donald H. Sweet, 1997 US Navy PBY Catalina Units of the Atlantic War Ragnar J Ragnarsson, 2012-12-20 Several books have been written about US naval patrol aviation in World War 2 but none do full justice to the role played by patrol squadrons of the US Navy in the longest most bitterly fought campaign of the war the Battle of the Atlantic From the Arctic to the Equator anti submarine aircraft of the US Navy patrolled both sides of the stormy Atlantic alongside their allied counterparts escorting merchant shipping through submarine infested waters the crucial lifeline from the United States to Great Britain and the Mediterranean and staging troops and supplies for the ultimate liberation of North Africa and Europe This book details the PBY Catalina without contest the most successful flying boat ever designed and a key element in the success of the Atlantic War

U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings United States Naval Institute, 1999 BuNos! Disposition of World War II USN, USMC and USCG Aircraft Listed by Bureau Number Douglas E. Campbell, 2012-02-01 A snapshot in time After thousands of hours of research and data entry over a 35 year period the information on the disposition of some 25 000 US Navy US Marine Corps and US Coast Guard aircraft needs to be published These aircraft mainly represent those built and lost during World War II between 7 December 1941 and 15 August 1945 but this book also contains aircraft built before WWII that were lost during WWII or disposed of after WWII lost during the Korean War lost on training exercises sold to private investors currently located in museums and even some still proudly sitting as gate guards across the US etc

US Navy PBY Catalina Units of the Pacific War Louis B Dorny, 2013-01-20 Deadly in its primary role as a submarine hunter the PBY Catalina was the scourge of the Imperial Japanese Navy's submarine force Its amphibious traits also made the aircraft well suited to air sea rescue and thousands of Allied airmen were saved from a watery grave by PBY crews Using personal interviews war diaries and combat reports combined with original Japanese records and books Louis B Dorny provides a view on the role of the Catalina from both side of the war Illustrated with over 80 photographs and colour profiles detailing aircraft markings this is the definitive history of an insight into the PBY's use by the US Navy and Allied forces in the Pacific during World War 2

Letters to Dotty B Paul Christian Bonnette, 1998 World War II at Sea Craig L. Symonds, 2018 Craig L Symonds World War II at Sea offers a definitive naval history of the Second World War presenting the chronology of the naval war from The London Conference of 1930 to the surrender in Tokyo Bay in 1945 on a global scale for the first time

Operation KE Dennis R Letourneau, J. A. R Letourneau, 2012-11-15 Operation KE explores the air combat that attended the Japanese evacuation of Guadalcanal in early 1943 a topic which has hitherto received very little attention Operation KE was successful largely because Japanese strategic planning and tactical execution was basically sound The traditional view holds that the Japanese got away with the initiative largely because the Americans let them the US Pacific high command felt it was not worth the effort to try and stop them Letourneau contends that this was not entirely the case He argues that the Cactus Air Force and Guadalcanal based naval units did their best to disrupt the evacuation still believing that the Tokyo Express was bringing reinforcements and supplies to the 17th Army Other US forces in the South Pacific did make a half hearted and questionably executed attempt to stop the Japanese but were bluffed into adopting a wait and see posture Operation KE focuses on the air war fought between the Cactus and US 13th Air Forces on the one hand and the Japanese Navy and Army Air Forces on the other from mid December 1942 to mid February 1943 The book scrutinizes the US air strikes against the six KE related Tokyo Express destroyer runs plus related air strikes against the Japanese merchant marine as well as air and naval base suppression missions undertaken by both sides to determine what actually happened in order to analyze why the Japanese evacuation succeeded and why Cactus failed to stop it Background chapters attempt to assess the respective states of readiness of the Japanese and US air arms in the South Pacific to support on the one hand and counter on the other the execution of Operation KE The central portion of the book narrates in some detail what actually occurred in the air and at sea including air strikes fighter sweeps base suppression missions and naval sorties during the crucial prelude to and the actual playing out of the interrelated events that comprised the evacuation operation Concluding chapters analyze on both strategic and tactical levels the Japanese planning and execution of Operation KE and Cactus initiatives to interdict KE s successful prosecution The authors conclude that both the Japanese and the American states of readiness on the eve of Operation KE suffered in such matters as optimizing both resources and operating procedures and combating a hostile environment Consequently both combatants were somewhat handicapped in their abilities respectively to carry out and contest Operation KE The author contends that the Japanese developed a reasonably sound strategy that exploited those methods and tools of war then in use in the South Pacific to achieve success they maximized their own strengths while taking advantage of their adversary s limitations Contrary to the traditional view the authors are of the opinion that Japanese utilization of their newly built airstrip at Munda in the Central Solomons played an important role in the success of Operation KE which was in keeping with the long range intention of developing Munda and Vila airstrips as major forward airbases to defend against any Allied push toward Rabaul through the Solomons The U S on the other hand by consistently misreading Japanese intent regarding Operation KE and pursuing a cautious offensive strategy blunted the tactical impact of their initiatives to counter the evacuation Several imprudent tactical decisions and a misallocation of resources further diluted the strength of US efforts Australia Air Force Handbook - Strategic Information and Weapon Systems IBP USA,2013 Australia Air Force Handbook The Polo Encyclopedia, 2d ed. Horace A. Laffaye,2015-03-24 In its greatly expanded second edition this definitive reference work on the sport of Polo includes more than 18 000 alphabetical and cross referenced entries covering players teams national and international tournaments rules of the game books on polo and their authors as well as painters and sculptors of polo subjects No other book includes as much information about the game in a single volume Southern California Off the Beaten Path® Kathy Strong,2011-03-01 Southern California Off the Beaten Path features the things travelers and locals want to see and experience if only they knew about them From the
