Design & Intuition Cecilia Lewis Kausel, 2012 Scholarship has sought to explain design primarily as developments and trends by understanding the influential ideas of a period These processes are resourceful to the analysis however they don't explain why people become attached to design and cultivate it in time For this purpose we must also gain understanding of collective cognitive processes and the meaning of design to people The study traces the development of respective design observed first in ancient structures and then in interiors and artefacts that are associated to architecture by design Design form migrates usually from technology to material culture i.e. from buildings to interiors and crafts though this direction is not fixed in creativity Sometimes this pattern is not followed and arches pilasters tower crenellations and pediments appear in historic costume Technology holds implications for visual culture thus this study also looks at the inspiration in mechanical instruments observed in XXI century design As the book unfolds a cultural phenomenon emerges Architectural evocations in other crafts reflect that the public has its own dialogue with design The attachments and responses of the public to design are many times a phenomenon worthy of being analyzed The book gives out interesting findings about the mind and how it transforms design It also exemplifies a new methodology for the observation of collective responses to design

Ancient Mesopotamian Materials and Industries Peter Roger Stuart Moorey, 1999 This is the first systematic attempt to survey in detail the archaeological evidence for the crafts and craftsmanship of the Sumerians Babylonians and Assyrians in ancient Mesopotamia covering the period ca 8000 300 B C E As creators of some of the earliest farming and urban communities known to us these people were among the first pioneers of many crafts and skills that remain fundamental to modern ways of life Many of the raw materials for crafts had to be imported from outside the river valley of the Tigris and Euphrates providing an unusually sensitive indicator of the commercial and cultural contacts of Mesopotamia In this book Dr Moorey reviews briefly the textual evidence and then goes on to examine in detail the material evidence for a wide range of crafts using stones both common and ornamental animal products from hippopotamus ivory to ostrich egg shells ceramics glazed materials and glass metals and building materials With a comprehensive bibliography this will be a key work of reference for archaeologists and those interested in the early history of crafts and technology as well as for specialist historians of the ancient Near East

Babylon Charles River Editors, 2025-05-02 The ancient world was full of many fantastic cities and places and like today's major cities the great ancient cities were hubs of trade religion and science Writing was first invented in ancient cities and many important scientific discoveries were also made in them some of which are still used in the modern world Among the many cities of the ancient world Rome and Athens may come to mind first but the city of Babylon in the land of Mesopotamia was already an ancient venerated city when the others were still inconsequential settlements Today Babylon has become a byword for greed excess and licentiousness mostly due to its mention in the Bible but a closer examination reveals that Babylon was so much more and even perhaps the most important city in the ancient world Ancient Babylon was home to great dynasties that produced some of the world's most influential leaders most notably Hammurabi and Nebuchadnezzar and these rulers invoked their wills on the entire ancient Near East and have been remembered as both progressive and cruel all at the same time Babylon was also the seat of culture in ancient Mesopotamia and the place where scholars made amazing scientific advances that would not be eclipsed for several centuries An examination of ancient Babylon demonstrates that it was truly the first great city in the ancient world Of course the sheer span of history between Babylon's power and today has produced plenty of historical questions and controversy One of the things people most closely associate Babylon with is the Hanging Gardens which like the Great Pyramid of Giza were considered both a technological marvel and an aesthetic masterpiece Ancient historians believed that the Hanging Gardens were constructed around the 7th century B C after the second rise of Babylon which would make them the second oldest of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World and they were reputedly created by the biblical Nebuchadnezzar II the king who conquered Judea to please his homesick wife after the model of Egyptian pleasure gardens However in 1993 British Assyriologist Stephanie Dalley proposed a theory that the Hanging Gardens were ordered built by the Assyrian King Sennacherib a century earlier for his giant palace at Nineveh instead She believed that the two sites were easily confused by ancient sources resulting in the Gardens being incorrectly located in Babylon a century later Babylon was also instrumental in the development of the region's religions Ancient Mesopotamian religion continues to captivate people for many of the same reasons today's best known religions and their histories fascinate people The religion practiced by the Ancient Mesopotamians provides a certain mix between the mundane and the surreal and at the same time aspects of it are both familiar and bizarre to people today Some find themselves drawn to it based on its preeminent position in religious history as the oldest documented religion in the world Others become fascinated with the close connections between some of the Mesopotamian religious texts which include a flood story a creation story and a story of the righteous sufferer and their parallels in the Hebrew Bible Today the Ancient Mesopotamians and their religion are a source of curiosity but thousands of years ago the religion was an integral part of their lives From their birth to their death deities surrounded them and whether their social interactions were on the level of a smaller city or that of a larger nation state deities played key roles in the social fabric of their society In fact the people and religion were so intertwined that a study of Ancient Mesopotamian religion is a study of Ancient Mesopotamian culture
