Mortal Secrets Robert Klitzman, Ronald Bayer, 2005-04-13 In the era of the Internet and Oprah in which formerly taboo information is readily available or freely confided secrecy and privacy have in many ways given way to an onslaught of confession Yet for those who are HIV positive decisions about disclosure of their diagnosis force them to confront intimate fundamental and rarely discussed questions about truth lies sex and trust Drawing from interviews with over seventy gay men and women intravenous drug users sex workers bisexual men and heterosexual men and women the authors provide a detailed portrait of moral social and psychological decision making The interviews convey the complex emotions of love lust longing hope despair and fear that shape individual dilemmas about whether to disclose to deceive or trust others concerning this disease Some of those interviewed revealed their diagnosis widely others told no one Some struggled and ultimately told their partners others spoke in codes or half truths One woman discovered her husband s diagnosis in a diary when confronted he denied it Each year in the United States 40 000 new cases of HIV arise yet approximately one third of the 900 000 Americans who are infected do not know it As treatments have improved unsafe sexual behavior has increased and efforts at prevention have stalled Many of those infected continue to fear and experience rejection and discrimination Addressing broad debates about the nature of secrecy morality and silence this book explores public policy questions in the light of the nuanced private decisions that are shaping the course of an epidemic and have broader indications for all

Liberty Mathematics Level a Wendy Kramer, 2004-09-14 Teacher s Guide to accompany this first grade math course includes lesson plans and teaching strategies Touch Screen Tablets Touching Children's Lives Joanne Tarasuik, Gabrielle Strouse, Jordy Kaufman, 2018-02-28 Touch screen tablets have greatly expanded the technology accessible to preschoolers toddlers and even infants given that they do not require the fine motor skills required for using traditional computers Many parents and educators wish to make evidence based decisions regarding young children s technology use yet technological advancements continue to occur faster than researchers can keep up with Accordingly despite touch screen tablets entering society more than 5 years ago we are in the infancy of research concerning interactive media and children The topic has gained traction in the past couple of years For example theoretical papers have discussed how interactive media activities differ from physical toys and passive media Christakis 2014 and how educational apps development should utilise the four pillars of learning Hirsh Pasek et al 2015 Yet there has been little experimental research published on young children and touch screen use

The Rebirth of Education Lant Pritchett, 2013-09-30 Despite great progress around the world in getting more kids into schools too many leave without even the most basic skills In India s rural Andhra Pradesh for instance only about one in twenty children in fifth grade can perform basic arithmetic The problem is that schooling is not the same as learning In The Rebirth of Education Lant Pritchett uses two metaphors from nature to explain why The first draws on Ori Brafman and Rod Beckstrom s book about the difference between centralized and decentralized organizations The Starfish and the Spider Schools systems tend be centralized and suffer from the limitations inherent in top down designs The second metaphor is the concept of isomorphic mimicry Pritchett argues that many developing countries superficially imitate systems that were successful in other nations much as a nonpoisonous snake mimics the look of a poisonous one Pritchett argues that the solution is to allow functional systems to evolve locally out of an environment pressured for success Such an ecosystem needs to be open to variety and experimentation locally operated and flexibly financed The only main cost is ceding control the reward would be the rebirth of education suited for today s world
