Food Autonomy in Chicago Pancho McFarland, 2025 Through eighteen years of field research dialogues with colleagues deep involvement in the food movement community in Chicago and introspection Pancho McFarland asks Is the loosely connected network of Black and Indigenous land stewards and food warriors in Chicago an anticolonial force for the liberation of all our relations This examination of a sector of the food autonomy movement in Chicago provides important new ways of understanding race relations gender sexuality spirituality pedagogy identity and their importance to the dynamics of social movements Additionally the book explores how revolutionary culture principles and organization of American Indigenous diasporan Africans anarchist Mexicans and others have been adopted adapted or rejected in our food movement In this autoethnography of the food movement McFarland argues that at our best we work to establish a new society like that theorized and enacted by Indigenous and Black anarchists However the forces of Wetiko colonialism capitalism heteropatriarchy and white supremacy make the work of BIPOC food warriors difficult Wetiko s conceptual categories including race gender sexuality and citizenship influence our worldviews and affect our behaviors

These limitations and our responses to them are captured in the dialogues and chapters of Food Autonomy in Chicago

Indigenous Ways of Knowing in Counseling Lisa Grayshield, Ramon Del Castillo, 2020-06-22 Indigenous Counseling is based in universal principals truths that promote a way to think about how to live in the world and with one another that extends beyond the scope of Western European thought Individual health and wellness is intricately interwoven into the relationships that we establish on multiple levels in our lives those that we establish with ourselves with others and with the external environments with which we live From an Indigenous perspective health and wellness in our individual lives families community and world is the result of ancient knowledge that produces action in a way that is beneficial to all beings on the planet for generations to come The current social and political record of our country now clearly reveals the result of a paradigm that has outlived its time No longer can we ignore the core values of our fields of study we must take a deeper look into the academic endeavors that inform the way we pass our cultures values on to successive generations While it has taken Western Science decades to catch up to Indigenous Native Science we now have ample scientific evidence to support claims of interconnectedness on multiple levels of individual and collective health

Iremonger Frederic IREMONGER,1818 Stories of Our Living Ephemera Emily Legg,2023-12-15 Stories of Our Living Ephemera recovers the history of the Cherokee National Seminaries from scattered archives and colonized research practices by critically weaving together pedagogy and archival artifacts with Cherokee traditional stories and Indigenous worldviews This unique text adds these voices to writing studies history and presents these stories as models of active rhetorical practices of assimilation resistance in colonized spaces Emily Legg turns to the Cherokee medicine wheel and cardinal directions as a Cherokee rhetorical discipline of knowledge making in the archives an embodied and material practice that steers knowledge through the four cardinal directions around all relations Going beyond historiography Legg delineates educational practices that are intertwined with multiple strands of traditional Cherokee stories that privilege Indigenous and matriarchal theoretical lenses Stories of Our Living Ephemera synthesizes the connections between contemporary and nineteenth century academic experiences to articulate the ways that colonial institutions and research can be Indigenized by centering Native American sovereignty By undoing the erasure of Cherokee literacy and educational practices Stories of Our Living Ephemera celebrates the importance of storytelling especially for those who are learning about Indigenous histories and rhetorics This book is of cultural importance and value to academics interested in composition and pedagogy the Cherokee Nation and a general audience seeking to learn about Indigenous rhetorical devices and Cherokee history The Jurist ..,1846 That's Raven Talk Mareike Neuhaus,2000 The first comprehensive study of North American Indigenous languages as the basis of textualized orality in Indigenous literatures in English Drawing on a significant Indigenous language structure the holophrase one word sentence Neuhaus proposes holophrastic reading as a culturally specific reading strategy for orality in Indigenous writing In readings of works by Ishmael Alunik Inuvialuit Alootook Ipellie Inuit Richard Van Camp Dogrib Thomas King Cherokee and Louise Bernice Halfe Cree she demonstrates that para holophrases the various transformations of holophrases into English language discourse textualize orality in Indigenous literatures by grounding it in Indigenous linguistic traditions Neuhaus s discussion points to the paraholophrase the functional equivalent of the holophrase as a central discourse device in Indigenous writing and as a figure of speech in its own right Building on interdisciplinary research this groundbreaking study not only links oral strategies in Indigenous writing to Indigenous rhetorical sovereignty but also points to ancestral language influences and Indigenous rhetoric more generally as areas for future research Cover That the People Might Live Jace Weaver,1997-12-18 Loyalty to the community is the highest value in Native American cultures argues Jace Weaver In That the People Might Live he explores a wide range of Native American literature from 1768 to the present taking this sense of community as both a starting point and a lens Weaver considers some of the best known Native American writers such as Leslie Marmon Silko Gerald Vizenor and Vine Deloria as well as many others who are receiving critical attention here for the first time He contends that the single thing that most defines these authors writings and makes them deserving of study as a literature separate from the national literature of the United States is their commitment to Native community and its survival. He terms this commitment communitism, a fusion of community and activism. The Native American authors are engaged in an ongoing quest for community and write out of a passionate commitment to it. They write literally that the People might live. Drawing upon the best Native and non Native scholarship, including the emerging postcolonial discourse as well as a close reading of the writings themselves, Weaver adds his own provocative insights to help readers to a richer understanding of these too often neglected texts. A scholar of religion, he also sets this literature in the context of Native cultures and religious traditions and explores the tensions between these traditions and Christianity.
