Applied Global Health Humanities Fella Benabed,2024-07-01 This book highlights the importance of global Anglophone literature in global health humanities shaping perceptions of health issues in the Global South and among minorities in the Global North Using twelve novels it explores the historical political sociocultural ethical and environmental aspects of health by analyzing the experiences of characters who suffer from infectious diseases mental disorders or disabilities and who seek holistic healing practices Keywords for Environmental Studies Joni Adamson,William A. Gleason,David

Pellow,2016-02-26 Keywords for Environmental Studies analyzes the central terms and debates currently structuring the most exciting research in and across environmental studies including the environmental humanities environmental social sciences sustainability sciences and the sciences of nature Sixty essays from humanists social scientists and scientists each written about a single term reveal the broad range of quantitative and qualitative approaches critical to the state of the field today From ecotourism to ecoterrorism from genome to species this accessible volume illustrates the ways in which scholars are collaborating across disciplinary boundaries to reach shared understandings of key issues such as extreme weather events or increasing global environmental inequities in order to facilitate the pursuit of broad collective goals and actions This book underscores the crucial realization that every discipline has a stake in the central environmental questions of our time and that interdisciplinary conversations not only enhance but are requisite to environmental studies today pub desc

A Girl Can Do: Recognizing and Representing Girlhood Tiffany R. Isselhardt, 2022-07-12 How do scholars research and interpret marginalized populations especially those that are seldom recognized as marginalized or whose sources are believed to be rare Combining intersectional feminism and public history methodologies A Girl Can Do: Recognizing and Representing Girlhood reflects on how girlhood is found researched and interpreted in museums archives and historic sites Defining girl as self identifying females under the age of 21 A Girl Can Do lays the groundwork for understanding girlhood its constructs and its marginalization while providing faculty students and working professionals with ten case studies on researching and working with girlhood Contributors include archaeologists archivists curators educators and historians who demonstrate how adding a girl studies lens fosters greater inclusivity and diversity in our work Whether studying spatial techniques of marginalization in colonial Peru the daybooks as records of girlhood in late nineteenth century Sweden or collaborating with self identifying fangirls to produce a pop up exhibition the contributors demonstrate the variety of sources and methods that can be used to interpret this oft overlooked population Throughout A Girl Can Do petitions for collaborative and creative thinking in how we can reframe and reinterpret our sources both traditional and overlooked to shed new light on how girls have contributed to and provide frames of reference for human history and culture Social Equity in the

Asia-Pacific Region Morgen Johansen, 2019-05-25 This book examines the concept and public service value of social equity in public administration research and practice outside of the Western context considering the influence that historical cultural and social trends of Asian and Pacific societies may have on how social equity is conceptualized and realized in the Asia Pacific region The book presents the results of an effort by a group of scholars from seven countries Australia China Hong Kong Japan Korea The Philippines and Singapore one American State the Hawaiian Islands and the Pacific Islands to discover what social equity means in their respective contexts It concludes by synthesizing and analyzing the chapter authors findings to advance a more global conceptualization of social equity The Nature of Empires and the Empires of Nature

Karl S. Hele, 2013-09-28 Drawing on themes from John MacKenzie's Empires of Nature and the Nature of Empires 1997 this book explores from Indigenous or Indigenous influenced perspectives the power of nature and the attempts by empires United States Canada and Britain to control it It also examines contemporary threats to First Nations communities from ongoing political environmental and social issues and the efforts to confront and eliminate these threats to peoples and the environment It becomes apparent that empire despite its manifestations of power cannot control or discipline humans and nature Essays suggest new ways of looking at the Great Lakes watershed and the peoples and empires contained within it

Encyclopedia of American Social Movements Immanuel Ness, 2015-07-17 This four volume set examines every social movement in American history from the great struggles for abolition civil rights and women's equality to the more specific quests for prohibition consumer safety unemployment insurance and global justice Echoes from the Poisoned Well

Sylvia Hood Washington, Heather Goodall, Paul C. Rosier, 2006-01-01 This book is an historical examination of environmental justice struggles across the globe from the perspective of environmentally marginalized communities It is unique in environmental justice historiography because it recounts these struggles by integrating the actual voices and memories of communities who grappled with environmental inequalities Native Voices Richard A. Grounds, George E. Tinker, David Eugene Wilkins, 2003 Native peoples of North America still face an uncertain future due to their unstable political legal and economic positions Views of their predicament continue to be dominated by non Indian writers In response a dozen Native American writers here reclaim their rightful role as influential voices in debates about Native communities These scholars examine crucial issues of politics law and religion in the context of ongoing Native American resistance to the dominant culture They particularly show how the writings of Vine Deloria Jr have shaped and challenged American Indian scholarship in these areas since 1960s They provide key insights into Deloria s thought while introducing some critical issues confronting Native nations Collectively these essays take up four important themes indigenous societies as the embodiment of cultures of resistance legal resistance to western oppression against indigenous nations contemporary Native religious practices and Native intellectual challenges to academia Essays address indigenous perspectives on topics usually treated by non Indians such as role of women in Indian society the importance of sacred sites to American Indian religious identity and relationship of native language to indigenous autonomy A closing essay by Deloria in vintage form reminds Native Americans of their responsibilities and obligations to one another and to past and future generations This book argues for renewed cultivation of a Native American Studies that is more Indian centered The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Ecology Roger S. Gottlieb, 2006-11-09 Ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings The proposed handbook will serve as the definitive overview of these exciting new developments Divided into three main sections the books essays will reflect the three dominant dimensions of the field Part I will explore Reclaiming DinĜ History Jennifer Denetdale, 2007-06 In this groundbreaking book the first Navajo to earn a doctorate in history seeks to rewrite Navajo history Reared on the Navajo Nation in New Mexico and Arizona Jennifer Nez Denetdale is the great great great granddaughter of a well known Navajo chief Manuelito 1816 1894 and his nearly unknown wife Juanita 1845 1910 Stimulated in part by seeing photographs of these ancestors she began to explore her family history as a way of examining broader issues in Navajo historiography Here she presents a thought provoking examination of the construction of the history of the Navajo people Din in the Navajo language that underlines the dichotomy between Navajo and non Navajo perspectives on the Din past Reclaiming Din History has two primary objectives First Denetdale interrogates histories that privilege Manuelito and marginalize Juanita in order to demonstrate some of the ways that writing about the Din has been biased by non Navajo views of assimilation and gender Second she reveals how Navajo narratives including oral histories and stories kept by matrilineal clans serve as vehicles to convey Navajo beliefs and values By scrutinizing stories about Juanita she both underscores the centrality of women's roles in Navajo society and illustrates how oral tradition has been used to organize social units connect Navajos to the land and interpret the past She argues that these same stories read with an awareness of Navajo creation narratives reveal previously unrecognized Navajo perspectives on the past And she contends that a similarly culture sensitive re viewing of the Din can lead to the production of a Navajo centered history
